

he at the same time fully appreciated the necessity of looking into the matter, and that he would do so as speedily as the means of communication would allow.

The Supt. General is of opinion that, if any of the Hudson's Bay Co's Officers should be making a trip - which they generally do at this season of the year - into that part of the country it would be well for Capt. Meason, or any other Agent whose services could be more conveniently availed of, to join the party
