

Sts. and later removed to the cemetery. The other horizontal slab is that of Maria Jeffery, wife of Archibald Dunlop, who d. in 1856, ae. only 20 yrs. and 5 mos. She was the mother of the late Mrs. Chas. McGibbon who passed away in 1912. These two slabs are of native limestone, exact counterparts of the two slabs commemorating the deaths of the McGarratty brothers and Hannah McCabe in the Military cemetery on the hillside at the Asylum ground, (formerly the Garrison). The engravings are executed with much skill and are the work of one J. Gleason, a stone-cutter at the Garrison, who was engaged in the erection of the Officers' Quarters and who removed to the U.S. some years ago. These are the only traces of his work remaining. He is remembered by several of the older residents.

Further west is the grave of Edward Jeffery, father of the Jeffery family, who died in 1871 at the age of 54 years. Near by also is the grave of Lachlan Campbell who died in 1846, father of W. B. Hamilton's second wife. Not far away is the tomb of Surgeon Paul Darling, L.R.C.S.E., who died in 1849 while surgeon to the Indian Department, Manitoulin.

Close by we pass a marble slab inscribed, "Emeline Jane Fraser, infant," with no date or other detail. The record involves one of life's tragedies. The Fraser Brothers—Michael, Samuel, Frederick, Ronald, James and John Walter, had a sister Jane, who was killed at the age of 13 years, by a kick from a horse led by her uncle, Ronald McDonnell, a brother of her mother. One of her brothers, Ronald McDonnell Fraser who was named after this uncle died soon after in 1877 at the age of 42 years. The marble inscription has it Randal, but that is a mistake. The Fraser family plot is near the western end of the cemetery where they all rest side by side, with the exception of the mother who was buried in Ste. Anne's R.C. cemetery, Penetanguishene, and also excepting Samuel, who granted a large portion of his estate to the R.C. Church, Midland, for cemetery purposes in which his remains are laid. All have their marble tablets except Michael the last one deceased, who is, so far, without a memorial, not a member of the family remaining to erect one to his memory. There is also Frederick Lysaght Fraser, President of a Scientific Society, formerly of Kingstown, Ireland, who died in 1872. He was some relative of the Frasers, on a visit to the family, but no one seems able to recall the visitor or that this distant post had ever been favored with the presence of so distinguished a person, which may be accounted for in the
