STATISTICS OF CANADIAN TRADE.

The figures of Canada's trade for the latter half of the calendar year 1905, being the first half of the current fiscal year, contain some things that may well afford satisfaction. The aggregate trade in that period shows an increase of $31,516,751 over the returns for the same time in 1904. The aggregate trade was $273,556,221, compared with $242,039,470. The imports, including dutiable and free goods, were $133,814,210, a gain of $10,770,560.

Happily, the exports exceeded the imports. The value of exports was $140,213,846, an increase of $21,218,026, compared with the same six months of previous year. In the exports there is an increase in all branches of trade. In the fisheries for example, there was an increase of over two millions; in ani-
