The Liberals of the riding are united, and are working harder than ever, Mr. Thompson is also having excellent reports from all parts of North Wentworth, He is devoting much of his time by day to the work of the campaign in various sections where he speaks at night. Hon. J. S. Hendrie talked Hydro-Electric power at the meeting in the Twentateth Century Club rooms last night, but did not endeavor to explain Hon. Mr. Beek's threat that unless Hamilton signed the one-sided contract at once the switching station would be erected nine miles from this city, near Copetown. Every one knows that the nearest way to Toronto is via the Beach. The transmission line must go there, or, at the furthest, around the west end of the bay. Mr. Beek's threat to locate the switching station at Copetown looks worse the more it is considered.

LOCAL OPTION.

Courts Decide Both Ways as to Right of Officers to Vote.

Toronto, Ont., May 13.-The most an cient and honorable law of precedent in the conduct of affairs at Osgoode Hall is slightly mixed at present. The simis slightly mixed at present. The simplicity of legal procedure was amply demonstrated this morning, when Chief ustice Falconbridge quashed the local option by-law of the township of Howick on the grounds that returning officers at an election have not the right to vote at an election. As it happened at the voting on the Howick by-law they did vote, and therefore the measure stands annulled.

Everything would be settled now except that there have been just five other cases decided on the same point, but not cept that there have been just five other cases decided on the same point, but not all decided alike. First of all, Mr. Justice Riddell, in speaking of the action against the by-law of Onondago Township, said that the officers had not the right in question. Then the Divisional Court of the King's Bench Division decided the same way in the case of the by-law in Midland. Following right on their footsteps his Lordship Justice Clute tried the action against the municipality of Pittsburg, and he decided that the Chancery Division was quite right.

WEEK END TRIPS.
