CHAS. BOOKER. Chatty Letter From London Telling How to See Things.

The King's Horses—Better Days For Ireland—Funny Story. To the Editor of the Times: Sir—Here we are again in this bustling great city, the metropolis of the universe, after the pleasantest voyage we have ever experienced. Three years ago in a letter I told you of our striking a Scotch traveler during a fog in the Firth of Clyde; last year of the thrilling rescue of two fishermen in a small boat in the middle of the ocean during a storm at sea. This year there was nothing of much interest to record, save the large quantity of ice; never saw such bergs, and so large, so beautiful; as we came up three passed by, assuming all sorts of fantastic shapes, and colored by the imagination they were a sight worth beholding.

CHAS. BOOKER. Arthur Scaillet Killed by Son-in-Law's Hired Man.

Zealandia, Sask., Sept. 2.—Arthur Scaillet was shot down in his tracks about 8 o'clock last night by Edgar Harold Hope, the eighteen-year-old hired man of the victim's son-in-law. This afternoon Hope is undergoing a preliminary examination before Magistrate McLean at Zealandia, having confessed the shooting. It happened on the farm of Scaillet's son-in-law, Durnan or Durneya. Scaillet crossed over from his farm to that of his son-in-law, adjoining. He wanted to borrow a horse, but his son-in-law for some reason or other refused the elderly man's request; the two, gossip has it, never being on the best of terms. They fell to quarrelling verbally, and then to blows, and in the midst of this young Hope, Durnan's hired man, went into the house and, seizing a loaded shotgun, ran to the scene and let the father-in-law have the charge of No. 4 shot in the heart.

SHOT HIM. Arthur Scaillet Killed by Son-in-Law's Hired Man.

Scaillet, it is said, died almost instantly. Word of the affair was rushed over to Zealandia, about ten miles west of where the shooting occurred, and Constable Grey went to the scene. The body of Scaillet and his slayer were taken to Zealandia, where they are now. The report of the R. N. W. M. P. officer to Captain Walker here this morning reads: "Edgar Harold Hope shot and killed Arthur Scaillet, ten miles east of Zealandia, last night. Hope arrested and made free confession of crime. Preliminary hearing takes place to-day."

HAMILTON GAS LIGHT COMPANY. PARK STREET NORTH. GRENFELL BOAT. REPORTED LOST, BUT DOCTOR THOUGHT TO BE SAFE.

Whole Crew Believed to Have Perished—Fishing Boat Hauled Up a New Log Line and Buoyed it Near Spot.

but with all his strength and all his love for game, he was never quarrelsome. He was always considered one of Owen Sound's most peacable and law-abiding citizens.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 2.—Information received here gives meagre details of the loss of a yacht said to be connected with the mission work of Dr. Grenfell. Last evening the inspector-general of police received a message from St. Anthony saying that the steamer Prospero (Capt. Kean) brought news of the supposed wreck of a steam yacht from New York, near the entrance to St. Anthony.

Kingston, Sept. 2.—Yesterday morning Stanley Scates, a young farmer of Sydenham, met death while duck hunting. Procuring a boat from a neighbor he was in the act of stepping into it when his gun was accidentally discharged, the charge penetrating his right lung. He was found shortly after, partly in the boat and partly in the water. Dr. Lockhart, of Sydenham, was called immediately and, after careful inspection of the body, decided an inquest was unnecessary. The body was removed to the home of the deceased, and interment will take place at Verona, his former home, to-morrow. He leaves a wife and one child.

It is believed that all on board perished. It is supposed to be the yacht that was given Dr. Grenfell for missionary purposes. A fishing boat hauled up a new log line and got it buoyed near the scene to mark the spot where the ship went down.

Winipeg, Sept. 2.—The usual casualties of the shooting season are being recorded, and although the opening was only yesterday, so far two fatalities are recorded. One of these occurred at Glen Ewing, where Maxwell McDonald, a leading business man, was instantly killed while cleaning his gun. To-day a report of the fatal wounding of Alfred O. Webb, a C. N. R. employe at Delmar, has been received. He had wounded some game, and while attempting to kill it with the butt of his sporting rifle he received a bullet in the abdomen.

Further news is expected on the arrival of the Prospero on Friday. It is hardly likely that Dr. Grenfell himself would be on the boat, as he always travels on the Strathcona, a yacht that was given him some years ago by Lord Strathcona. The yacht mentioned in the despatch is an American one, given him at New York. His headquarters, however, are at St. Anthony, where the wreck is reported from. About three weeks ago he left to return to the Labrador coast, after delivering lectures at Yale and Harvard Colleges on his work.

R. W. Stirton, of North Battleford, had two fingers shot off, and J. F. Belliveau, of South Battleford, had his ankle shattered.

The Andrew J. McCosh, a memorial to Dr. Andrew J. McCosh, of Princeton, left New York last June to be used by Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell as an emergency hospital boat on the Labrador coast. The yacht is fitted up with an auxiliary engine, but it was the intention to have her proceeded under canvas whenever it was possible.

DEAD AT AGE OF 124. Joe Coture, of Owen Sound, is No More—Was Giant in Strength. Owen Sound Sun: Joe Coture is dead. And in his death Owen Sound loses one of its best-known figures. He was a giant frame, and strength consistent with his size, he was a conspicuous figure, whether on the streets, or in his boat sailing up the river. But of late the old man had been failing. His big frame grew gaunt, his step slow. About a month ago, while cutting wood, he gashed his foot with the axe. His system, enfeebled by age, was not able to withstand the shock. According to his own story, he was born in 1785, and was therefore 124 years old. His mother was a squaw, his father a Frenchman. The first three years of Joe's life were spent amid Indian surroundings, then his parents came to this locality and settled near the point where his cabin now stands. His early years were spent here; but the "wanderlust" of his Indian ancestors asserted itself, and for years he travelled, visiting many places in Canada and the Republic to the north. His wanderings over, he returned and spent the rest of his days here fishing and hunting and trapping until game became too scarce.

On one occasion it is said he went to buy a barrel of salt for his fish. The merchant jocularly said, "Joe, you can have a barrel if you'll shoulder it." "All right," growled Joe, and stooping, he caught barrel by the chimes, and with a mighty heave hoisted it over his head and set it across his broad shoulders. Then, grinning at the discomfited merchant, he walked off, carrying the barrel. When one looked at the man a year or so ago—six feet four inches tall, and broad in proportion—the story was as yet to believe. Joe was a great boxer and wrestler.

MADE COMPLAINT. Canadian Sealers Have Grievance Against Japan. Victoria, B. C., Sept. 2.—The Governor-General, Earl Grey, met a deputation of local sealers last night and heard their representations regarding the disadvantages under which they work in view of the Japanese not being a party to the modus vivendi regarding pelagic sealing. In consequence, the Japanese are allowed to hunt at all times to within three miles of the rookeries with firearms, while the local sealers can hunt only in the open season outside a radius of sixty miles from the seal islands, and must use spears only.

MR. FIELDING HOME. Reports That His Mission Was Completely Successful. Quebec, Sept. 2.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, arrived by the Empress of Britain this afternoon. He looked the picture of health. When interviewed he admitted that his mission was a success in all respects. The French treaty was settled, but the West Indian matter was still undecided, but he had every hope after a commission had considered the question that an amicable arrangement would be arrived at.

Mr. D. B. Hanna, of the Canadian Northern Railway, arrived this afternoon by the steamship Megantic. He refused to be interviewed, but admitted that his visit to Europe was a success. The Russian Czar rules over 100,000,000 persons.

Hanbury-Williams to be Brigadier-General in Scottish Command. Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Colonel Sir John Hanbury Williams, military secretary to His Excellency the Governor-General, has been offered by the British War Office and has accepted the appointment of brigadier-general in charge of the administration of the Scottish command. He will leave Canada in a few weeks, to assume his new and important post in Scotland. Sir John came to Canada with Earl Grey over four years ago, and has been one of the most generally popular and capable secretaries to viceroys in the history of Rideau Hall.

Fact and Fancy. The potato, like love, grows less by parting. Lamps burn quite as much oil turned down as up. Some people are too polished ever to tell the plain unvarnished truth. The dragon fly can fly backward—a feat impossible to any bird. Perhaps it is the stale bread they are obliged to eat that makes dyspeptics so crusty. No insurance company will insure the Czar of Russia. Some of these seaside mavers have to wear belts to keep them from bursting with conceit.

THE FARM. COW TESTING ASSOCIATION. Dominion Dept. of Agriculture Branch of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner.

In visiting members of cow testing associations, organized by the dairy division, Ottawa, the inspectors are sometimes met with this statement by those farmers who are inclined to drop weighing and sampling: "I haven't got the time." In scarcely any instance can this be considered correct. Evidence from farmers the whole Dominion over shows cow testing to be one of the best time-saving organizations ever introduced. Why? Because it shows definitely that many men have wasted precious time on cows that do not produce enough milk and fat to pay the cost of feed. Thus, the very men who say they have "no time" to take up cow testing are the very men who unconsciously waste thousands of valuable hours. There is time, apparently, amongst the unthinking class of farmers for attending to thousands of profitless cows. With a herd of twenty unselected cows (out of which probably three are not making any profit) it would take the small total of twenty hours during the whole year, spread over three days each month, to keep such simple records as would enable the owner to select with certainty the most economical producers. Why waste time year after year on cows that average about 14 lbs. of milk per day for seven months, when a few minutes per month, plus a little brain power, will materially assist in building up a profitable herd? C. F. V. Ottawa, August, 1909. He who deceives himself is most easily deceived by others.
