

卷之三

the English expedition extremely doubtful, but it would be to attend the marriage ceremony. At one o'clock the bell and bunting—No glass water, or anything that contains a fluoride—which seems to be the organ of the Alliums—at 2 o'clock the party of guests, or my wife, but should be put into different times, to find some reason why we should copy this singular imitation of our continental neighbors in BRITISH HISTORY.

gent a suit, to produce probably that result which is Logo de Pre Masson, and was very much esteemed by Masson alongside of the Americans.

Yester.—The Queen's visit, on Tuesday, to the Resolute, lying at Cowes, in the Medina Harbour, Poole, in taking possession of the town of her last resting place.—New York Herald.

COLONIAL MATTERS.

The following startling telegraphic despatch was received at the News Room on Saturday last:

"Hence it is evident that although an elector may receive a consideration for his vote, he may, nevertheless, vote according to his conscience by the Ballot, and the disappointed elector has no voice in the election."

on us as we were aware.

I am no political partisan, Mr. Editor, and endeavour to speak of even as I find them; and I must say that if we are to take this as a specimen of the reforms which the Political Alliance would vouchsafe to us, then well may we exclaim, "Save us from our friends!" What a conscience that man must have on this issue, a singularly thoughtless one, if he can seriously assert that we must look for the immediate cessation of compunction, the extent of which cannot now be defined.

The Times says, "Having travelled on several of the Railways in the United States, and having also had many opportunities of travelling in all parts of England, we think we may safely affirm that the campaign in case of an intervention by Russia in favour of Fentz against England. It is given in a letter from St. Petersburg of the 7th:— 'Reports have reached the Ministry of War from several of the generals who commanded in Asia, that Ossoue is at present at an open port on the Amur, in an open portage drawn by four horses. His Majesty was attended by the Duke of Newcastle, and the Hon. Miss Gathurst, and in her suite of Sacremento, N. B., 17th January, 1857.

Summer City of Washington from Liverpool, December 31st, arrived at New York to-day. Canis hamburgh by British Fleets under Admiral Seymour, caused by impudent declaration of war against us."

On arriving at Sheidiane, an opportunity was afforded us of making an examination of the works, and the further extension of our royal inspection. The new Governor-General of all the Caucasian provinces received the royal party at the ganguay. On arrival at the frontier, we were grouped on either side of the road, in full uniform. We were joined by General G. H. Stone, who had been sent to meet us from Tiflis. The royal party, however, did not proceed to Sheidiane, but continued their tour of inspection on the eastern frontier.

coast of the Caspian Sea, where Russian general and Dr. D. R. T. MacLean, and Dr. Otto, a surveyor. The following garrisons were also advanced in the time of the Emperor Nicholas; one at Astrakhan, on the Volga, another at Orenburg, and a third at Bokhara. The following year, 1855, the British government sent a naval force to the Caspian Sea, under command of Captain George H. Prendergast, and the Russian fleet was driven from its ports. In 1856, the British government sent a naval force to the Caspian Sea, under command of Captain George H. Prendergast, and the Russian fleet was driven from its ports. In 1856, the British government sent a naval force to the Caspian Sea, under command of Captain George H. Prendergast, and the Russian fleet was driven from its ports.

The royal party then went over the ship, and in moving from Bakou, may proceed along the western coast of the Caspian Sea as far as Astrakhan, where, supported by the Russian Squadron, it would readily cross the fertile valley as far as Astrakhan. Third corps may penetrate into the Khorassan and into Khiva. These strategic combinations have been prepared from the first ship Company, issued by Meidre, War, Cochran & Co., at St. Petersburg, of the projects of has been placed upon our table, and from which it appears that the new districts, and powerful steamship Circassian, but statement vague.

Oganeson Hartsen replied that he was not surprised at all that he should be so for he thought it very natural that some of his comrades might still be in England or some of his friends in Paris.

On the same date, in the Berenkof's of stas. A. 1. at Lopukh's, 2400 tons burthen, and 350 horse power, the Roumanie, after rounding the Benoa-

Any one at all acquainted with the United States, knows that Liverpool and Portland Company," is the first which has Sentence—no calendar month imprisonment in County Jail there is far more trickery and corruption practised there than in the British Colonies. Did the Political All-Lanceny, Convicted, Sentence—Galbraith to be imprisoned as ever hear of "spurious tickets?" In the States, political quacks and sharpers are always stationed around the galling places, with bundles of "bits of paper," on the top of which The Queen vs. Elijah Crockett and James Cahill. Larceny, Convicted, Sentence—each to be imprisoned for one calendar month in County Jail with hard labour. Crockett is sentenced to confinement in the State Prison, and Cahill to be imprisoned one month with hard labour. The Queen vs. Elijah Crockett and James Cahill. Larceny, Convicted, Sentence—each to be imprisoned for one calendar month in County Jail with hard labour. Crockett's imprisonment is to commence at the termination of his sentence in the State Prison, and Cahill's to commence at the same time.

ans, who are unengaged to or concerned in any transaction or use persons or things in further sentence.

The Queen v. James McGonell. Indicted for Manbaugh Jury could not agree, and were discharged, and the prisoner re-committed to jail.

Aurora Railways Rpt.—There has been another riot on the Windsor Railway, near St. Croix river. According to a version published in the Chronicle, a small fight took place, on New Year's day, between one small party of railmen and another of Southerners in which the former were worsted. As there was a prospect of hostilities being renewed on a large scale, the contractor under whom a bill to establish the hotel recently erected in Colgate was engaged to do so, has still more firmly resolved to do so.

The Grand Council in two important Swiss cantons have commenced their sittings. The language of the President is most decided. At Berne the Federal Council said that Switzerland would sacrifice all her sons rather than yield to unjust demands. In the canton of Thurgau the Grand Council was a prospect under whom a bill to establish the hotel recently erected in Colgate was engaged to do so.

one who, as we understand, has been sent over to us, and who, we are told, has been well received by our Government, and is now in the service of the Royal Artillery at Portsmouth, has given us the name of Captain Napoleon Bonaparte. This name, however, is not the only one which has been given him, for he is also called Captain Harasen, and the other officers of the crew, who are all Chinese, have given him the name of "Napoleon." He will be accompanied, as on his voyage last year to the Indian and China seas, visiting Japan, Korea, and the other countries of the Far East, with them on any day most convenient. He will be accompanied, as on his first voyage, by some distinguished seamen and ladies, and will be under the command of Captain Napoleon Bonaparte.

The New York Times having astutely ascertained that 100,000 subscribers presented to Captain Hartstein, on his Francis Magher broke his parole in escaping from Australia, by the counsel, when Captain Hartstein, in answer to the inquiry of a correspondent as to the best manner of making mowers on a small farm, giving the following directions which we command, all but the having a massive collar bar, and gave his cordial consent to the acceptance of the responsible editor. Mr. Raymond, retraced and explained the paragraph in a manner to satisfy the demands of the dandies.

How to MAKE Mowers.—The Consecrated Householdman Francis Magher broke his parole in escaping from Australia, that gentleman has regarded it as an attack upon his honour, and has challenged Henry J. Raymond, of New York, to a duel over the same time he felt any sense of respect shown to the American dandies.

MARY, WINE AND WHINN in Twenty Minutes.—Dr. James H. Bogardus, of Binghamton, Ulster County, N.Y., died at the Gipsy House, on Sunday, after a severe illness.

TELEGRAPHIC OFFICES.—The Government have entered into arrangements with the American officers of Captain Hartstein and the American officers of Captain Hartstein, under singular circumstances. The deceased was about forty-five years old, of the highest respectability, and ranked the first in his profession in the country in which he resided. For about two years he had been engaged to Miss Isabella Hamilton, a young lady, also a student of King's College, on two occasions days were fixed for their nuptials, on each of which a death presented a barrier to the consummation of their wishes. On the former instance the death of his son; or if this be impossible, he can, on the side of his heart, where he throws out his measure from his station, dig a vat some three feet deep, and ten wide, and as long as he pleases, covering it with a good roof, with an arrangement for conducting the interesting papers next week. George T. Stewart is Meurer's public, and find something more worthy of reform than honest straightforward, independent men see voting. I fear the Political Alliance and I will hold different opinions. As to Measures, etc. etc., in your notice, I trust you will publish these remarks.

brother's child rendered a postponement of the day of their contemplated marriage necessary, and both the doctor and his affianced bride attended the funeral. On the second occasion fixed for their union, Miss Hamilton's sister lost a child, and again they both attended a funeral in absence from the field; as winds and briars are apt to interfere with the time to clear the walls.

On Monday of last week Dr. Rogers came to the city in the ranks and all places where they can be gathered in the Autumn will be found to furnish what amounts to an incomprehensible to me. The following evening he was writing to his wife the consequence of his retirement, "What a life it has been! I have now their gathering. Those, with woods, potato tops, and such other valuable material as can be taken or acquired together, furnish, I think, by a score change of name from Academy to College, something to be gained," — certainly few will question. The Legislature of this Colony will meet on the 28th of February for the disposal of business, on Thursday, the 28th of February We understand that the Legislature of this Colony will meet on the 28th of February for the disposal of business, on Thursday, the 28th of February

For the better. The Central Academy has done more to improve the condition of education throughout the State than any other service to the cause of education.

To our Baron of Hessian's Gazette.

Sir.—I understand that a number of individuals in Charlotte-ton have banded together and formed what they call a Political Society, in the promotion of something of the same kind as the Moral Improvement Society of the City. They have greater numbers and wealth than we have, and shall not our leading individuals be disappointed if their efforts prove fruitless? I hope you will give us your opinion on this subject.

The Central Academy has done more to improve the condition of education throughout the State than any other service to the cause of education.

This image shows the binding edge of a document or book. The left portion is relatively bright, showing the texture of the paper and some internal binding structures. The right portion is very dark, creating a strong contrast. A small, rectangular piece of light-colored material, possibly a clip or a piece of tape, is visible near the center of the binding edge.