ALD. STUART

Re the motion before the Council, Ald. Stuart pointed out it was mercly to prepare a Bill to ask the Legislature, not for a new system if taxation, but for the PERMIS-SION to abolish or reduce, JUSAAS QUICKLY OR AS GRADU-ALLY AS THE RATEPAYERS BY A PLEBISCITE SHOULD DETERMINE, taxes on improve ments, personal property, incomes and poles, or ANY ONE OF MORE OF THESE. Now people were allowed to hold land vacant for high prices thus preventing hose who wished to build from doing so, while on the other hand a man was taxed extra for every tittle improvement he made on his property The bulk of personal property, in so far as it consisted of money, bank stock, bonds, etc. low escaped taxation, and it might as well te legal y exempted.

A larger proportion of income should be exempted and the poll tex should be cut down. The deiciency could be made up on land r m vacant or unim roved land e taxetion of these who had inoved their properly could be a down. The man who owned land would no: e-cape taxes for tile he might par little directly taxes on the land he rented to the merchan whose goods he bought would finally be paid by him. The opposents of the ation had groundless fears and ir ples of econmy was ill timed.
