OBITUARY

MRS. FRED E. IVES

The death of Mrs. Fred E. Ives formerly of this town occurred at Wollaston, Mass. on Thursday afternoon Aug. 14th. Mrs. Ives had undergone a critical operation at the Charlesgate private hospital, Cambridge early in the spring and from this she never fully recovered although she became sufficiently well to return to her own home. About four weeks ago, failing health obliged her to return to a sanatorium where she died.

The funeral was held from the Methodist Episcopal Church of Wollaston, of which she was an active member, on Sunday afternoon Aug. 17th. The numerous and beautiful floral offerings and the church crowded with friends were mute evidences of the love and esteem in which she was held, in the place where she had made her home. After the usual funeral services by the pastor, the beautiful and impressive service of the Eastern Stars was held she being a beloved member of the Wollaston Chapter. Interment was in the Wollaston Heights Cemetery.

PATRICK LLOYD

The death occurred at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Hotel Dieu Hospital where he has undergone on operation and treatment for the past seven weeks of Patrick Lloyd of Douglastown and one of the best known residents on the river.

Mr. Lloyd is survived by his wife and two children, Annie, who is training in the Hotel Dieu Hospital and Patrick at home. Three brothers and two sisters also survive, Lawrence, William and Michael of Millbank and Mrs. Alex. McIntyre of Iroquois Falls, Ont. and Mrs. Hennessy of Truro, N.S.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from his late home to St. Samuels Church, Douglastown where requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. B.J. Murdoch and interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were John McDonald, Fred Maloney, William Highland, Lawrence Lloyd, Michael Lloyd and William Lloyd.

Early Apples

When apples as good in quality as the McIntosh, Fameuse, and Northern Spy and as attractive in appearance can be obtained on the general markets in Canada there should be a great increase in their consumption. The people are keen for apples when the season opens in late July or early August, but the sour varieties, then offered for sale, such as Yellow Transparent, Red Astrachan, Crimson Beauty and Duchess, do not agreeably satisfy the palate nor tend to increase the demand for apples as a table fruit. There is no good reason why we should not have early apples of as good quality as the later Spy and McIntosh. The old Early Harvest apple was better in quality than any of the mentioned early kinds, but it is not very hardy, scabs badly, and is little planted. But new varieties are being bred for the early market, and it is believed that in a few years such fine sorts as the Melba, a seedling of the McIntosh, originated in the Horticultural Division, Experimental Farm Ottawa, of fine color and high desert quality, ripening before the Duchess, and the early McIntosh, originated at the New York Experimental Station, Geneva, N.Y. and others will become very popular and in great demand. Trees of Melba will be available from nurseries in the spring of 1925, and a considerable number of trees have been planted already in different parts of Canada.

KINDLY REMIT YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THE ADVOCATE

HEBRIDEAN PARTY AT MIRAMICHI

Rev. Father MacDonald and five other prominent Hebrideans, including Rev. Father McDougall accompanied by Col. Robert Innes, chairman of the Soldiers Settlement Board, Ottawa and R.I. Donaldson district superintendent of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, St. John arrived on the Miramichi, Sunday evening by automobile from Moncton en route to Campbellton, and thence to Quebec.

The party left Moncton in the morning and toured around the coast, stopping for short time in Shediac, Beaufort, Keston, Richibucto and other places en route. On Monday they left by motor and travelled through the old Miramichi road, the short cut to Bathurst. There they were met by Premier P.J. Veniot.

His Worship, Mayor C. P. Hickey and members of the Chatham Town Council extended a royal welcome to the visitors. A trip was made through the town and to Newcastle, Nelson and Loggieville.

When interviewed members of the party expressed themselves as pleased with New Brunswick, at least that part of it which they had seen. Whether there would be any colonizing as a result of the trip they did not say. The Maritime trip had been eminently successful from many viewpoints, one said. They had learned to know the country as they never otherwise would know it. They had met many of their friends and kindred and had everywhere been greatly impressed with the welcome they had received.

LORD BEAVERBROOK STILL A CANADIAN

While in Toronto a few days ago Lord Beaverbrook gave an interview to the Toronto Globe which is of general interest. In telling of the success of Canadian young men who are connected with him in the newspaper management in London, Lord Beaverbrook declared his own attitude on national problems. He said:

Few stories of spectacular successes can equal that of the resuscitation of The London Daily Express and the founding of the Sunday Express by Lord Beaverbrook and the little band of Canadians associated with him. Many are the tales of emigrants from the Old World to the New World who have carved out careers for themselves, but it has remained for Lord Beaverbrook and a few others to reverse the story and successfully invade the Motherland.

A visitor to Toronto, the Canadian proprietor of three important English newspapers told the Globe the dramatic story of how a farmer's son from Maple, a bellboy from the Queen's Hotel and a piano salesman from Nordheimer's were thrown together by the eddies of war's aftermath and combined to carry an old but sinking London newspaper from insignificance to success politically and financially.

The farmer's son was Beaverbrook himself. And as he recalled the days when he was just Max Aitken his titles dropped from him and one saw the Canadian glad to be home again. Asked if he was going to visit his birth place, his face brightened and he exclaimed with fervor, "I am—indeed I am!"

Beyond reiterating his love for Canada, Lord Beaverbrook said little about himself during the course of the long interview. His talk was all of the other Canadians whom he grouped about him. He told of the unusual experience of E.J. Robertson, Managing Director of the Express:

NEW RULES FOR SALMON FISHING

Mesh Not Less Than Five Inches in N. B.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—Formal notice of new regulations governing salmon fishing in the Maritime Provinces is given in the current issue of the Canada Gazette. The regulations governing such fishing in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island are amended to provide that "no one shall fish for, catch or kill salmon with nets of any kind from the last day of September of each year to the last day of February following, both inclusive."

In New Brunswick "the mesh of salmon gill nets and trap nets shall not be less than five inches, extension measure when in use."

Childhood Indigestion

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more weakening to the constitution, or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for little ones equal to Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit in thousands of homes. Concerning them, Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immaculate Conception, Que. writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right and now I would not be without them."

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Complete Cycle Tour of Province

The Three C's, Christopher Shorten and Cyril Barnes, two representatives of St. Ann's Troop of Boy Scouts, and Cuthbert (Custard) Kane of St. John, completed their two week's holiday cycle tour of the province with their arrival in Fredericton on Wednesday evening from Newcastle.

Setting out from Fredericton on August 7th, Shorten and Barnes wheeled to St. John, camping at Welsford the first night out. At St. John they made arrangements to meet Kane further along the route and after a pleasant stay in St. John proceeded on to Sussex, where they had arranged to have Kane join the party. Their plans miscarried, however, and it was not until they reached Petitcodiac that the third member joined the party.

From Sussex to Moncton they made the best time of their trip covering the distance from noon until dark at 8 p.m. At Moncton the boys furnished the city with an unusual spectacle when they discovered an old time bicycle the front wheel of which was six feet in diameter and was furnished with a single trailer wheel. This was loaned to them by the owner and they proceeded to demonstrate the wheel on the streets of Moncton. The boys were Scouts of St. John's Troop.

Beaverbrook Visits Old Home In Ont.

Sentiment for a look at the house in which he was born and in which he lived for the first three months of his life, drew Lord Beaverbrook to the village of Maple 20 miles north of Toronto Wednesday.

Driving up to the house which is now untenanted, he stepped out of his car and for several minutes gazed at the now dilapidated structure. Then he stepped back into the car and was driven away before any of the villagers had an opportunity of seeing him. Lord Beaverbrook was born on May 24 1879 the son of the late Rev. Wm. Aitken, a Presbyterian minister there. Three months after his birth Lord Beaverbrook was taken by his parents to Newcastle, N.B.

they proceeded to Chatham, Nelson and Newcastle, via St. Louis and Rexton. On Monday they left Newcastle for Fredericton striking some of the hardest going of the trip through fresh laid gravel. Of the 35 miles covered on Tuesday the boys were forced to walk 15 miles through gravel. From Boies town to Fredericton, however, they made up for lost time.

The boys averaged 40 miles per day for the last three days of the trip. From 25 to 50 miles per day. Their troubles were experienced in one day when Kane suffered 5 punctures and Shorten broke a chain and crank shaft.
