

Malignant Diseases Sweeping Europe.

Cholera and Typhus Spreading From Russia--Dublin Now Centre of Interest.

UNUSUAL CONDITIONS ALARMING. PARIS, July 22. The worst epidemic of typhus and cholera in history is sweeping West with terrible speed. Europe woke to a realization that, unless Russia's starving millions are promptly relieved, the whole East-European stands in danger of a few months in the grip of a grim plague. According to an appeal from Maxim Gorky, to Anatole France Gerhardt and Belasco, the situation is beyond belief. Gorky de- clares that 300,000 Russians are dying from starvation and disease, one end of Russia to the other are complete failures. Suicides are reported from the Caucasus, while in Moscow and Petrograd mothers are slaying their children rather than see them die from lack of food. Transportation is paralyzed, practically all industries are down, owing to the lack of fuel. According to Vladimir Lenin, the famous author now writes, 25,000,000 in the Volga dis- trict are likely to die of famine be- fore the winter is over, failure of the harvest being blamed on the prolonged drought.

THE IRISH SITUATION. LONDON, July 22. The centre of interest in Irish af- fairs was transferred to Dublin to- day with the departure of Eamon De Valera and his cabinet for the benefit of Government. The proposals of the Irish Government, which the British Government, which the leader is taking back with him, has submitted to members of the House and other prominent Republicans, and Mr. Lloyd George will hear from time to time the discussions are proceeding. Mr. De Valera will return to- day for further conversations, and it is expected that he may re-enter negotiations at this time. It is authorita- tively stated that the truce in Ireland will continue for an indefinite period. This is convincing the most skeptical that the factions still are far from dis- couraged. London newspapers this morning take an exceedingly cheerful view of the situation. Meanwhile the Opposition, from extreme Unionists appears to have hardened somewhat, as a result of an interview which sev- eral Ulsterite members of the Com- mons had with Austen Chamberlain, leader of Government forces yesterday. A statement issued by the deputa- tion later in the day, said that Mr. Cham- berlain's explanations were entirely unsatisfactory, and that about forty of the dissenters had met and passed res- olutions "expressing grave apprehen- sion over the Government's Irish policy."

A NEWSPAPER OPINION. DUBLIN, July 22. Belief that conversations between De Valera and Lloyd George will be resumed, are expressed by the Free- man's Journal, in its comments on the peace negotiations to-day. The interview between the two men in Lon- don yesterday, was evidently not their last, the newspaper says. "One thing at any rate seems certain," it con- tinues, "there can be no return to the monstrous unholy condition to which Ireland has been subjected before the truce by the British Government."

UNEMPLOYMENT LESSENING. LONDON, July 22. The last weekly report of the Labor Department of the Board of Trade shows the number of unemployed was one hundred thousand less than dur- ing the previous week.

A RUSSIAN PROTEST. STOCKHOLM, July 22. M. K. Orgonzeff, chief of the dele- gation of Soviet Russia to Sweden, yesterday handed to E. L. Crosby, United States Charge D'Affaires, a long note, protesting against the failure to invite Russia to the Pacific Confer- ence in Washington. The note ex- presses astonishment at the omission, considering, it says, that Russia is a Soviet Power and that both the Rus- sian Republic and the Far-Eastern Republic possess territories along the Pacific. It declares that the Rus- sian Government cannot under any circumstances permit other powers to argue with her.

They Get There!

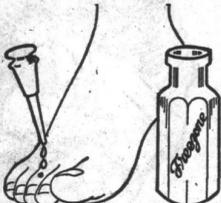

The "Micks" are a Mix-up— There's a Mick in the valley A Mick in the galley, A Mick on the ocean, A Mick on the main; You'll find Mick on a lotion, Mick gets you a potion, I believe, 'pon' me soul, That he'll give you a pain.

Oh why does he obtrude With sincere devotion His person, his pride, And his dear quaint old name. He gets here, he quits there When that is his notion, Regardless of fortune, Regardless of fame.

There's a mix-up in Micks, And there's Micks in a mix-up, Though they're kindly and friendly, For that I'll go bail, But I'll take my sticks up, I'll have no mix-up, If Mick sounds the charge on the Caribou Trail. T. D. C.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezons" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezons" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Wedding Bells.

Cavendish House, 3 Military Road, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, 20th inst., when Mr. Alex. Watson, of the firm of Bowring Bros., was united in bonds of matrimony to Miss Nellie Drysdale, fourth daughter of Mrs. and the late H. T. Butt, of Sunnyside, Forest Road. The bride who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. A. G. Fagan, looked charming in a dress of Harding Blue and carried a bouquet of white carnations, sweet peas and ferns, and was attend- ed by her sister Miss Florence Butt, while the groom was ably supported by H. K. Butt, brother of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. Holden, M.A. After refresh- ments were served and the usual toasts duly honored, the happy couple left by the 6 o'clock train for Kelli- grews where the honeymoon will be spent, taking with them the hearty good wishes of their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Watson was the recipi- ents of many beautiful presents.

On June 26th, Sacred Heart Church, East Cambridge, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Edmund Aylward, son of John and Elizabeth Aylward of Killybride, led to the altar Helen Doody, daughter of John and Rose Doody, St. John's. The bride looked charming in white charmeuse satin over-draped with silk lace. She wore a veil with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and roses. The groomsmen were Mr. John Craft of Providence, R.I., the bridesmaid being Miss Mary Burke, of Cambridge. The groom's gift to the best man was a pearl tie pin, to the bridesmaid a sapphire ring. After the marriage a reception was held at the groom's aunt, Mrs. John Woodbridge, where 90 guests attended. The bride and groom received many pretty presents. After the reception, Mr. J. Bowels, of Riverhead, St. John's, drove the happy couple to the South Station amid the showers of confetti and took the train for Providence, Rhode Island, and Newport where they will spend the honeymoon. After their return they will make their home at 862A Somerville Ave., Somerville.

EVANGELINE SHOES FOR WOMEN!

25 p.c. Off For Cash.

Your idea of a Bargain is expressed right here in this offer of the very newest models at cost prices. Your choice of any Shoe in this group at 25 per cent. off Regular Prices.

EVANGELINE!—The Perfect Shoe for Women.

HIGH IN FASHION—LOW IN PRICE.

EVANGELINE BOOTS.	EVANGELINE OXFORDS.	EVANGELINE PUMPS.
Ladies' Grey Kid High Laced Boots.	Ladies' Dark Tan Laced Shoes.	Ladies' Brown Calf Pumps.
Ladies' Dark Tan High Laced Boots.	Ladies' Soft Black Kid Shoes.	Ladies' Grey Kid Pumps.
Ladies' Black Kid, Grey Top, High Laced Boots.	Ladies' Patent Leather Shoes.	Ladies' Patent Pumps.
Ladies' Black Kid with Fawn Top Laced Boots.	Ladies' Grey Kid one-strap Shoes.	Ladies' Black Kid Pumps.

At the present time we have Evangeline Boots, Shoes and Pumps in all sizes and widths, with Military, Cuban or French Heels.

25 per cent. Off For Cash at Smallwood's.

Ladies! Secure a pair of Evangeline Shoes to-day. Double wear in each pair—besides the style.

F. SMALLWOOD

The Home of Good Shoes. 218 and 220 Water St.

How London Took Carpentier's Defeat.

London—Most everybody in Lon- don spent the day after the fight say- ing "I told you so," regarding the victory of Jack Dempsey over Car- pentier.

In general, the English opinion, as reflected in the papers and by con- versations in the streets, hotels and buses, is still that Carpentier, in the eyes of the British, is a more brainy and more scientific box- er, but that he succumbed to the champion's superior strength, height and reach.

But even with this admission, if the reports be true—that Carpentier broke his right hand in two places when he smashed Dempsey in the second round—it is likely that the most ardent of the Frenchman's sup- porters here will claim that he should have another chance at the title on the assumption that this injury rob- bed him of what otherwise would have been a victory.

The enormous interest with which the fight has been followed here is shown by the fact that each one of the papers had from half to the whole first page devoted to the battle. There was little editorial comment, how- ever.

Lord Northcliffe's Weekly dispatch said: "Carpentier's defeat after all is only what might have been ex- pected from the records of the two men, and his friends and well-wish- ers who hoped for another ending were trusting to the unexpected, one might almost say miraculous, one of the greatest and brainiest fighters the modern boxing ring has ever known, the Frenchman has been outmatched by a bigger, heavier man, not less adept in ringcraft than himself and not liable to be taken unawares. Speed and agility were of no avail against a boxer of the calibre of the American champion.

One of the most interesting sport- ing results of the fight is the possi- bility of another bout between Joe Beckett and Carpentier for the Euro- pean heavyweight title. Beckett, who prophesied Dempsey's victory, said after the fight: "I've always been willing to meet Carpentier again, and still am. In fact, it is my one ambi- tion to show that Carpentier's vic- tory over me was absolutely a fluke. It was a chance blow that put me out, and I feel that I can and will beat him if we meet again."

Despite the eagerness with which Londoners hoped for Dempsey's de- feat, the crowds watching the fight returns took the result in unexpected, manlike way. At a boxing show in Covent Garden when the result was announced between the rounds some of the spectators booed.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY: THERAPION No. 1 THERAPION No. 2 THERAPION No. 3

A truck of white crepe mator is solidly beaded in white and girdled with jade chiffon.

—By Bud Fisher

Restoring Nerve Power.

In many people the tissues of the nerves have suffered from the strain of War and from the shortage of fats. You can restore your nerves in a natural way by eating "Skippers." The pure olive oil in which they are packed is worth its weight in gold to those who suffer from "fat-starved" nerves.

Your retailer will supply you with a tin of

"SKIPPER'S."

A guarantee on every can.

"Skippers"

Are Brisking with good points.

ANGUS WATSON & Co., LIMITED, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England.

MUTT AND JEFF

AND MUTT, THE POOR FISH, WENT RIGHT AHEAD AND BIT.

OK, THAT'S WHERE YOU BITE!

By Bud Fisher

