Another Step in League Peace Plan

2nd CHAPTER OF LOCARNO TREATY WRITTEN

Henceforth League Must be Basis For Settlement of All Disputes.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Internationalism as opposed to extreme nationalism—an internationalism which will be based in moment of war peril on some surrender of state sovereignty—was given new strength today by the League of Nations.

Completing the work of its special session by quickly adjusting the crisis between Greece and Bulgaria, the task for which it was convoked, the Council of the League, passing on to greater issues, practically wrote the second chapter of a modern history of which the Locarno security treaties with Germany constituted the first chapter.

This second chapter is that henceforth the League of Nations becomes the basis for the settlement of all disputes and that war must cease, because as Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary, said, it does not all nations will perish from the earth.

Take Firm Stand.

Obering the covenant of the League, Greece and Bulgaria, by agreeing to submit their quarrel to the mediation of the Council, set a precedent which, Mr. Chamberlain warned, must be followed by all. Britain's Foreign Secretary even went so far as to add that any menace of war anywhere concerns all the members of the League. The international backing given the League, with two great powers, France and Great Britain, taking the leadership, has created a profound impression in Paris and has started anew tonight talk of the formation of a United States of Europe, the idea which Mr. Lloyd George vainly tried to launch at the Geneva conference.

It has also convinced statesmen that Europe's power, economically, financially and politically, working through the League will become greater because it will be concentrated instead of divided by jealousies and rivalry. Another feature of causing tremendous interest was the today's council meeting which is intervention of Viscount Ishii, of Japan, who expressed the hope that security pacts like those of Locarno will multiply in other parts of the world. There is considerable speculation to-night as to whether Japan would like to see elaborated a Pacific security pact which would include the United States and would be broader in scope than the Washington four-power agreement which replaced the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Plant Peace Germ

Replying to the Japanese statement, this afternoon, Mr. Briand emphasized, that, if the delicate Locarno negotiations had succeeded it was because all the participants in the conference took care to link them with the spirit of the League covenant.

"When I met Chancellor Luther (of Germany) in our first private interview," said Mr. Briand, "I told him we would succeed or fail accordingly as we perceived the magnitude of our task, and that if he talked as a German and I as a Frenchman we perhaps would not succeed at all."

"We achieved not only security between us, but also, planted the germ of world peace, because dropping our nationalities we talked as Europeans."

Give me a spoon of oleo, Ma,
And the sodium alkali.
For I'm going to make a pie, Mamma!
I'm going to make a pie,
For Dad will be hungry and tired, Ma,
And his tissues will decompose;
So give me a gram of phosphate,
And the carbon and cellulose.
Now give me a chunk of casein, Ma,
To shorten the thermic fat.
And give me the oxygen bottle, Ma,
And look at the thermostat.
And if the electric oven is cold
Just turn it on half an hour.
For I want to have supper ready
As soon as Dad comes home.

Scotland Yard Looks for Thief

SEARCH FOR "ENGLISH JIMMY" IN CONNECTION WITH N. Y. THEFT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(U. P.)—Search for the thief who stole and sold back the famous Donahue pearls, became international in scope today.

Scotland Yard was asked to find "English Jimmy" Berkley, notorious hotel snafu-thief—who on the way of a reformed convict, has been identified as the man who planned to steal $683,000 jewels from Mrs. Jessie Woolworth Donahue last month.

The police, appealing to Scotland Yard for aid, believe "English Jimmy" may have carried out his intention, which he is said to have announced to a derelict park bench companion shortly before the robbery.

"Brooklyn Face" Dillon is the convict who gave the police the information about "English Jimmy." He said he was sitting on a bench in Central Park, looking hungrily at the lights of the Plaza Hotel, when Berkley took a seat beside him and announced the intention of "going after some sparklers" belonging to a wealthy woman resident of the hotel.

No trace of "English Jimmy" has been found. If he perpetrated the daring theft and sold back the jewels for one-tenth their value, he had sufficient time to get away. The police believe he may have returned to his native land.

Meanwhile, the second important jewel "robbery" of recent date, that reported by Mrs. Julius Lichtenstein, proved utterly mythical. Mrs. Lichtenstein explained that she merely mislaid the gems, putting them in a different drawer of her dresser. She gave the police and reporters a bus 24 hours, however.
