THE BALLOT BILL.

London, July 12.—In a speech last night on occasion of the presentation of testimonial to Mr. Bright, that gentleman censured the conduct of the House of Lords in regard to Ballot Bill and said the House seems to be almost lost in the refuse of political ignorance and fashion. He also expressed his disapproval of the policy pursued by the Gladstone Government as regards Russia, and in conclusion said he hoped and believed that the difficulties with America have terminated.

of last week, and at 11 octobes at high, the neighbors were aroused by the loud cries of "murder," proceeding from the house occupied by them in the outskirts of the village. A gentleman ran to the place and found the two quarrelling, and using the most obseene language to each other, and the woman bleeding from a wound in the wrist. Whilst he remained, they became quiet, but shortly after he returned home, the cry of "murder" was again heard; but it not being repeated, no more attention was paid to them. The woman has not since been seen, and no trace can be found of her, although the woods and the swamps around about have been searched by a large number of people. Butler says she has gone away, but he dosen't know where. The children were heard to make some remarks which lead very strongly to the suspicion that she has been murdered, and the body probably buried in the swamps in the rear of their house. Butler was arrested on Saturday evening on a charge of disorderly conduct, and, resisting the constable, was remanded to Stratford jail for six days. It is hoped before the expiration of that time, the mystery will be cleared up in some way. The authorities are determined to investigate the matter, and a large party was organized
