THE PARKHILL FALL EXHIBITION

Financially and Otherwise a Decided Success-The Attendance Large.

The Parkhill and West Williams Fall Exhibition was held in the village of Parkhill yesterday, and had a very large attendance. The day was an ideal one for a fair, bright and cool, with splendid roads. The village of Parkhill is situated in a splendid farming section, with good land on all sides, which accounts for the large and appendid displantial to the whole place was roaring like a furnace. accounts for the large and splendid display of roots. The fair grounds were well filled during the afternoon, a great many coming from a distance. Mr. Robert Boston, of London, was on the grounds renewing old acquaintances, and making new ones.
