Lest We Forget.

"Lest we forget, just consider where Canada, or the United States or the other, countries would have been if it were not for the British navy. I say that it would have been a poor lookout for them. If you want to know about it ask Admiral Sims, who has written much on the subject, and whose word will carry greater weight than mine. I believe also that the time has comewhen the dominions should aid in the support of that naval defence.

"You have no conception of what Britain has endured. You cannot realize what she has passed through and how she suffers. Some have said What has she done?" She has accumulated an enormous debt, about $550 per individual, while 790,000 of the flower of her manhood have been cast into oblivion. It is estimated that fully 8,000 people vitnessed the automobile races and the afternoon grandstand program. The attendance in the grandstand at night was small, perhaps not more than 300 or 400, but there were fairly large crowds on the midway until it closed and in most of the exhibition buildings. Secretary Hunt stated Saturday night that while the actual figures were not available, the fair board was quite convinced that the attendance at this year's fair was larger than for any previous Western Fair ever held. The Saturday attendance fully vindicated the wisdon of the innovation made this year o keeping the fair open for seven full
