Uncle Sam's Ruling on Tea Makes Useless Expense For Shippers.

Price of Coal at Ottawa Advances Fifty Cents a Ton.

Dominion Militia Department to Establish School For Signalling.

Frem Our Own Correspondent.
Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The Customs De-Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The Customs Department has received an important rading of the Washington authorities regarding tea shipments. The United States war tax of ten cents per pound states of tea in bouded warehouses, on some of which duty had been paid. The United States authorities rule that this duty cannot be refunded except upon exportation to a foreign country, when a drawback of 99 per cent. of duty already paid will be allowed. This means, therefore, that large quantities of tea will have to be shipped to Canada and re-exported to the United States in order to secure the drawback.

Wrecks Express.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Engine 1767, of the N. Y. C., drawing the Melrose freight, which left Rensselaer at 8:10, blew up near Castleton tonight, and besides killing the engineer and fireman very nearly wrecked the Lake Shore Limited, bound North. The freight was seven miles from Albany when the engine collapsed. Before Conductor Randall could send out his crew with warning the Lake Shore Limited, with its big load of passengers was in the block and rushing toward the spot, piled high with debris. The engineer of the Limited saw the light of the burning engine and put on his brakes, bringing his train to a stop close to the wreck. Assistance was lent by passengers and fireman of the freight were beyond help. The head brakeman was found to be missing also, but it is thought he may have rushed back to flag the train. The Limited had not reached Albany at midnight, althought it was due at 8:40 p. D.

Murphy Will In the Court

Mr. Justice Walkem Asked Interpretation of Certain Clauses.

Judgment Delivered in Appeal Cases--Matters In Chambers Yesterday.

S. Perry Mills, K. C., for the executors and legatees of the estate of the late Patrick Murphy, who died a short time ago in California, and A. E. Mc-Phillips, K. C., for the residuary devisees and legatees, appeared before Hon. Mr. Justice Walkem on an originating summons for the opinion of the nating summons for the opinion of the court on the following questions:

1. Whether the legacies given by the said will and codicils free from legacy duty are payable to the legatees free in repair so far as the money will extend is valid or void in part, and if void in part what amount thereof, and for an inquiry if necessary to ascertain said amount. If any part of the said direction is void, to whom is the void part payable, viz., to the next of kin or the residuary legatees.

2. Whether the legatees.

Mr. Mills explained that the estate in Victoria was valued at $53,000; that legacies to the amount of $22,000 had been given in the will and codicils free of legal duty on legacies to strangers in blood; that since the making of the will a succession duty of 10 per cent. had been created by statute, which together with 5 per cent. probate duty, made a duty of 15 per cent. payable on the whole estate.

Johannesburg, S. A., Jan. 17.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, at a banquet given him this evening, delivered a speech, in which he gave for the first time the details which have been arranged for the financing of the new colonies. He described the arrangement as "a unique and unprecedented action on the part of the Imperial government," and one which was satisfactory to the representative associations which met who informed Mr. Mills that the residuary legates considered that Mr. Murphy, intended that the legates were to be paid free of duty—in other words, that the duty came out of the residuary estate, and also consented to the payment of the legacy to the "Old People's Home" to the "Home for the Aged and Infirm," the latter being the legal name of the institution since 1891.

The will contained the following direction: whole estate.
