Practical Reform:

Closing at 1 o'clock Saturdays and 5 o'clock other days represents a vacation of one day each week to a thousand or more employees. The tendency of business is towards concentration—the concentration of energy as well as capital. It is interesting to note the development of the idea, as we understand it.

Bicycles at $50:

Same make and grade as those we've been selling all season at $60. Light Roadsters of the finest quality. Not a weak point about them, but sensible, serviceable wheels for young men and elderly men. Fifty dollars is the rock-bottom figure. Come quickly if you want one.

Special for Saturday:

Only half a day to supply the wants of thousands. In order to start trade promptly at 8 and maintain brisk activity all morning we shall sell among other things to-morrow:

- Balance of Ladies' Summer Caps, new styles, elegantly made, formerly $10 to $18.50, on sale Saturday morning at $3.98
- Ladies' White Cotton Corset Covers, sizes 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, in, trimmed V shape front and back, with lace insertion, fancy braids, embroidery, regular price 60c, for .25
- Gents' Tan Calf Oxford Shoes, McKay sewn, fair stitch, all sizes, 6 to 10, regular price, $1.25; Saturday at .75
- Men's Russia Calf Tan Lace Boots, McKay sewn, a stylish, cool, comfortable shoe, in sizes 6 to 10, regular price, $1.50; Saturday at 1.00
- Men's Dongola Congress (elastic side boot), extra choice quality, all sizes, special at 1.50

We fill mail orders Saturdays as promptly as other days, and those who can't get to the store can send for what they want. The store is busier now than any midsummer we ever remember, and those who shop early and often see lots of special things that never get into the papers.

Cheap Books:

We've the reputation for selling good Books cheaper than any store of any kind anywhere in Canada. Just now we're doing a remarkable business in—

- Books at 5c.
- Books at 10c.
- Books at 25c.

That are 'way below publishers' prices. There's heaps of enthusiasm selling Books as we sell them, and those who accept our advantages fare better than those who don't.

NOTHING LIKE ASPHALT.

From whatever point of view it may be regarded, it will be found that the asphalt pavement is a long way ahead of any other rival. The property-owners in a majority of the streets of Toronto will soon realize that it will not pay them to put down any other pavement than the best. Our asphalted streets, both residential and business, attract the eye of the pedestrian, bicyclist and vehicular traffic. The more traffic there is along a business street the more valuable, of course, does property situated on it become. This increase in value is in all cases much larger than the difference between the cost of an asphalt and a cedar block or other cheaper pavement. The bicycle is a new condition that ratepayers ought to study when they are called upon to decide on a new pavement. Our residential streets that are asphalted are the popular ones with wheelmen, and a section of the city that possesses asphalt pavements is bound to be a more favored residential quarter than any other. Families that are added to the wheel in nine cases out of ten select asphalt as the place of residence in preference to cedar or macadam. The time is not far off when every house in the principal residential streets will have one or more wheelmen, and in view of the advantages of the asphalt ought to appeal forcibly to those who are considering new pavements. The argument in favor of asphalt from a sanitary point of view is equally forcible. Cedar blocks are so thoroughly unsuited for pavements that it would be the height of foolishness to lay another yard of them within the city. What the Police Commissioner says ought to apply equally well to Toronto. That journal states that "the day of wooden pavements on a plank foundation, shatter and decay, is over." Any foundation, has forever passed in St. Paul. This is true, in spite of the eccentric exception made by the property-owners in Upper St. Peter-street, in that city. The city of St. Paul has a cedar block pavement, plank block and all. Such oddities as these cannot be helped. There are people who still insist on wearing wooden shoes, and going to sea in clogs. They are survivors of by-gone barbarisms. Seeing is believing. The asphalt pavements laid in this city in Summit, Dayton, Portland, Holly and other streets, eight or nine years ago, have practically settled the pavement question for this city. At the time they were put down the property-owners in LaSalle and Ashland-avenues concluded that cedar or pine block on plan was good enough for them. To-day their wooden pavements are all going to pieces, with the rotting and decaying of the wood, while the asphalt in neighboring streets is as good as new. They will soon have to renew their pavements. So that in the end they have paid dearly for the small saving they made eight or nine years ago in laying a cheap pavement."

SCIENCE AND TRADITIONAL BELIEF.

According to Jewish theology the earth was the centre and pivot of the universe. The sun was created to give us heat and light, and the special object of the moon and stars was to relieve us from what would otherwise be pitch darkness. The same theology regarded man as the unique and only object of God's consideration. Science, the research and a progressive intelligence has so extended the vision of mankind that the Jewish idea of the origin of things is now generally conceded to have little scientific or inspired authority. Modern science tells us that the world, instead of being the pivot of the universe, is but a very subsidiary part of it; and instead of the sun being created for the special purposes of this planet, the latter, in fact, is but an offshoot of the great luminary. Mr. Goldwin Smith touches on this idea in an article entitled, "Questions at the Risk of Existence." In the August number of The North American Review. "Is it possible," says he, "that so much importance as the creeds imply can attach to this tiny planet and to the little drama of humanity?" In the opening paragraphs of his article Professor Smith deals a pretty hard blow at our orthodox religion. He writes in the following strain:

"No one who reads and thinks freely can doubt that the cosmological and historical foundations of traditional belief have been shaken by science and criticism. When the crust shall fall in appears to be a question of time, and the moment can hardly fail to be one of peril; not least in the United States, where education by general and opinion spreads rapidly over an even field, with no barriers to arrest its sweep.

"Ominous symptoms already appear. Almost all the churches have trouble with the heterodoxy and are trying to do something for heresy. Of late significant signs of the growing tendency of the pulpits to concern itself less with religious dogma and more with the estate of man in his present world. It is needless to say what voices of unbelief are being heard in the pulpits and how high are the intellectual quarters from which they come. Christian ethics are being shaken and the Church as a social centre and a religious authority is being undermined. The history is waxing faint. Ritualism itself seems to be in the process of a new revolution, and to be in some measure an aesthetic substitute for spiritual religion."

In the closing paragraph of his sixteen page article, the professor praises the virtues of honest agnosticism and places his faith in a new religion founded on a study of the universe and a study of the human mind. He says, "The new religion is a revelation, says he, 'is lost to us, manifestation remains, and great manifestations appear to be opening on our view.'"

AN EMERGENCY MEETING CALLED

Major Kennedy Wants a Bylaw to Be Submitted to the Ratepayers Re the Tunnel Project.

The council meeting which His Worship wished to be held yesterday did not materialize, as, after consultation with City Clerk Blivins, it appeared doubtful whether there were sufficient aldermen in the city to constitute a quorum.

The Mayor, however, is determined that two matters be submitted to the council, and that at once. Hence circulars were issued, calling for a special emergency meeting for the afternoon at 8 o'clock.

The first question to be dealt with is the tunnel question, and on this point the Mayor's message, more than in its terms that any of its precursors.

The Mayor will recommend that a bylaw authorizing the expenditure of the necessary sum be submitted to the ratepayers at the earliest time possible. His Worship is more convinced than ever of the necessity of this tunnel, in view of the imminent danger there is of the conduit being damaged, owing to the fall of the main sewer pipes. The ratepayers, says the Mayor, shall have the choice of either a tunnel, or the expenditure of a large sum of money in the event of the conduit being damaged, and the consequent flooding of the city.

At all events Mayor Kennedy will, at this emergency meeting, throw the responsibility on the aldermen, as representatives of the ratepayers.

Necessary To Go To England.

The second question which will be submitted to the council, is that His Worship has been advised that it is necessary for him to proceed to England immediately to sign the 31-2 per cent. loan for the tunnel. The Mayor will join him and see that the bond business is completed without delay.

The matter was privately discussed yesterday afternoon by Mayor Kennedy and Ald. Shaw, and the result is that the matter of the necessary visit to England will be submitted to council this afternoon.

Engineer Keating has no fresh plan or data in reference to the tunnel project. The aldermen are already in possession of sufficient information to decide yes or no for submission to the people.

The meeting will be important and may prove highly interesting.

HAPPINESS AND AFFECTION.

A Wholesome Combination Secured By a Trip Up the Lakes.

Of the many thousand holiday tours available to Canadians, by far the most popular is the trip up the lakes to Mackinac. The reason for this popularity is not far to seek, inasmuch as one enjoys a week's sail on the great lakes, and a table equal to the best in half the cost of the cheapest summer resort known.

The charming variety of scenery and points of interest at the many romantic ports never cease to attract the tourist. The scenery is guaranteed to be more than a mere change of view. The scenery is guaranteed to be more than a mere change of view. The scenery is guaranteed to be more than a mere change of view.

THE WILD MEN IN CAVES.

THEIR BODIES COVERED WITH HAIR BUT LITTLE CLOTHING.

New Women in the Tribe—Four Men in Jail at Norridgewock, and Drawing Great Crowds Every Day—Held for Sheep Stealing.

Would any reader of the Herald believe that there are within the limits of civilized New England actual wild men? Well, there are, in the State of Maine, and enough of them to be called a tribe, at that.

In the town of Brighton, about twenty miles north of Norridgewock, in the borders on the little village of West Athens, some residents, put to blush the uncivilized cave dwellers of years ago and give points to the now somewhat enlightened savages of the Fiji Islands.

For years they have been the terror of the country for their rapacity and their thieving habits. They are a tribe of about twenty men, women and children, and are largely inbred, according to the testimony of their long-suffering neighbors. They dwell in rude huts or shanties, and some of them make occasional feeble attempts at agriculture, at least to the extent of raising a few potatoes or planting a rocky half acre of corn.

Only a few of these people, as we will charitably term them, are often seen by the neighboring folk, who are thrifty and law-abiding farmers, and they are not particularly about cultivating the acquaintance of the rest, who are as a rule, more or less, of the same kind. The savages are more or less, of the same kind. The savages are more or less, of the same kind.

ON PARISIAN BOARDS.

The Most Popular Dancer and Best Dressed Woman in Paris.

Mlle. Cleo de Merode is probably the most popular dancer of the opera in Paris; nor is her fame restricted to the habits of that historic city. During the season she is much in demand for the soirees that convert Sunday into the gayest time of the social week. She is beautiful, elegant, and her dancing never fails in charm. Of the stage she is deemed the best dressed woman in the city, where her costumes, ever artistic and effective, excite the admiration of all.

Mlle. Cleo de Merode, "La Vierge," "La Comique," owes much of its success to the brilliant singing and magnificent acting of Mlle. Marie Delne. She was born in Paris, and she made her debut at the Opera Comique in "Trojanus." During her career she has also achieved distinction in "Werther," "L'Attaque du Moulin," "Faust," "Paul et Virginie" and other works.

QUESTIONS OF HEALTH.

The popular notion that an athlete, because of his athleticism, is a healthy man is a delusive one. Muscular development is not an affair of the constitution; it is an accident. Strong limbs and a weak heart are not infrequently associated. Many a "strong"

CONVENIENT INITIALS.

"What did you say that young man's name is?" asked Mabel's father.

"Mr. Isaac Oliver Upton," was the reply.

"H'm, I begin to understand."

"To understand what?"

"To understand what was made about Mr. Upton. I was told that he seldom wrote his name in full; that he nearly always used his initials."

Bernard Lindman, Esq., Toronto.

Dear Sir:—It is now about three months ago since I first notified that a cure of my rupture was being effected by the use of one of your Wilkison Trusses, and now I am fully convinced that the cure is of complete and effectual. I have on several occasions within the last few weeks taken long walks without truss or support of any kind, and have every confidence that my rupture, which, as you are aware, was of a very severe description, is now permanently healed, and I can assure you that I feel deeply thankful for the beneficial results. I have already recommended your appliances to several of my friends similarly afflicted.

Yours very sincerely,

J. H. MICKLER, Esq.
