WATFORD

Wiley-Prangley

One of the leading society events of the season was the marriage at Dresden on New Year's day of Alice Mattice, daughter of Mr. Wm. Prangley, of Dresden, to Dr. H. Irvin Wiley, of Windsor, son of the late Dr. J. I. Wiley and Mrs. Wiley, of Dresden, and grandson of the late John Wiley of Watford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. A. McRae, assisted by Rev. Norman Lindsy, of Dover, and took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McVean. The bride, who was given away in marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James McVean. The bride, who was given away in marriage by her father, looked very lovely in her wedding gown of ivory charmense-satin, made with a long court train lined with the palest shade of pink. She wore the groom's gift, a diamond and platinum lavelliere, and carried a wonderful cluster of orchids, violets and roses. Missi Reva English, of Chatham, was her cousin's bridesmaid, gowned in pale blue satin with touches of silver and black picture hat, and the groomsman was Mr. Grant Wiley, brother of the groom. The wedding march was played by Miss Helen McVean, On their return from their honeymoon they will reside at 11 Jean-ette avenue, Windsor.

McFarlane-Smith

A pretty wedding was solemnized on New Year's Day, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Smith of Plympton, when their daughter Jennie Laurine, became the bride of Mr. Jack McFarlane of Camlachie. Miss Nellie Smith, sister of the bride plaved the wedding march, while the bridal party took their places beneath an arch of evergreens, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Murray of Forest, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride who was given away by her father, was becomingly dressed in champague satin and georgette, and wore a corsage bouquet of pink ophelia roses and maiden-hair fern. After signing of the register, the guests sat down to a dainty dinner. Later the happy couple motored to Sarnia where they will make their future home. An interesting feature of the occasion was, it being the anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents.

M.cRae-McNeil

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McNeil, Brooke, on December 30th, when their youngest daughter Bessie was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, by Rev. R. G. McKay of Alvinston, to Sergeant Frank G. McRae of Heward, Sask., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McRae of Sombra. Promptly at high noon the bride entered the drawingroom on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by the groom's sister, Miss Sadie McRae of Sombra, and took her place by the waiting groom, beneath an arch of evergreens and white roses. The bride looked charming in a gown of champagne silk crepe de chine, trimmed with blue silk, and wore the groom's present, a beautiful lavalier, carrying a bouquet of white carnations and ferns. The bridesmaid, Miss Bella Davis, nicco of the bride, wore a gown of yellow silk, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and ferns. The groom was assisted by his brother Lieutenant James McRae, of Heward, Sask. The groom's present the bridesmaid was a dainty brooch, to the groomsman a vest chain, and to the pianist a bar pin. During the signing of the register, Mrs. R. G. McKay sang "Bonnie Mary of Argyle." After receiving the congratulations, about sixty guests sat down to a sumptnous weedling dinner, after which an enjoyable time was spent in singing and music. The happy couple left on the evening train from Watford for Carsonville and other points. The brides travelling suit was blue serge with fox furs and hat to match. The bride and groom were the grounds of many heautiful presents.

Gueste were present from Heward, Sask., Sombra, Whitebread, Glencoe, Wattord, and Alvinston. After visiting friends for a month, they will make their future home in Heward, Sask.

IN MEMORIAM Philip R. Squire, died Jan. 15th, 1919

Philip R. Squire, died Jan. 15th, 1919
Just a year ago he left us,
And we miss him so each day.
So strong, so full of life and health,
Why was he called away.
So young, his task was just begun
And old age left to stay.
But Death's augel whispered to him,
And he knew that he must go,
Though we prayed that we might [keep him.

[keep him, But the Father answered "No." . - Mother, Sisters and Brother,

WAYS OF WEARING THE HAIR

Coiffures Are Elaborate, Receiving Much Attention; Many and Widely Differing Varieties.

Styles in hair dressing change from season to season just as surely as do styles in costumes and dresses. Artists have declared from time immemorial that hair was "woman's crowning glory," but some women do not treat their hair as if it were a glory. have seemed to take pleasure in twisting their locks from nature's course, thinning them and torturing them by artificial waving.

The fancy that developed about a year ago, of cutting the hair short, may be responsible for the adoption of the mode of elaborately ornamented coiffures for evening this winter.

At the present moment much atten-don is given to these elaborate coif-rures, and there are many and different varieties. The influence the Orient is less marked than in cent seasons, and many of these cot fures take their inspiration from the folk costumes of France and neighbor ing countries. Flowers worn in Sp ish fashion, peasant headdress, Du diadems, and the tulle streamers Boulogne are high in favor.

Among the ornaments favored by the colffures of this season are cloth a silver and aigrettes or paradise, which are invariably worn slanting toware the back and never standing straight Silver bandeaux supporting a motif brilliants in the middle of the from are also very smart, and it is noti able that they are worn, more a more crossing the forehead just abe

Some youthful heads are crowns with very narrow bands of blood tulle on which a string of jewels

OLD-STYLE PETTICOAT BACK

Garment More Satisfactory Retu With Wider and Fuller Skirts for Winter.

Since skirts have been so very nor row petticoats have received much a tention. Naturally, with these traordinarily narrow skirts it found that the petticoat came in dence whenever the wearer sat down it did not seem to matter how she brought out, a mere sheath of satin is silk, fastening onto an elastic band and snapping into place in front ratio This skirt was left untrimmed exceed by a deep hem put in with machine hemstitching. It was made of store or satin and could be bought in all most every color.

The fashionable draped skirts wh are made on the wearer by wrap the material around the figure and then sewing it together necess the creation of the sort of underage skirt described. Fortunately the ski of winter are slightly wider and to and we can at least wear regula petticoats again. None are lov than the silk jerseys with their smoot ly fitting lines and their lovely flour of plaid knife plaited and stitch into place. These, too, come in ev
