THE LARGE 103, YONGESTREFT

The rage for the gold of Australia is post,
And men gather wisdom and show it at last
Firm v believe what they've often been told isvored Canada is the country for find

While here we are blessed with a generous soil The man may have gold who is willing better And vain were his search for a happier shore While blessings so numerous encircle his door

Errange indeed would it be, if a and ke our own Where our roses, though latest are aweelest when blown

Though our winters are long, and sometimes severe. But tend us to summers delightfully clear Should be less attractive, because of its -o'd, Than lands full of vices-though teening with gold

But prosperous as Canela always nath been, This year is the best that she ever liath seen, And now she is wreathing a laurer to wear. That nations may one day be anxious to share

Her prosperous condition will appear very pia . . . Where her farmers get a dollar and a quarter for grain While all their productions so readily sell At prices which now pay them equally well.

To many, it doubtless may seem very queer. Why Dry Goods are cheap and Provisions an dear, tactine, notwithstanding, which our patrons may

By calling on Young Street " One Hundred and Three."

While many must know an advance very great, Has been made in the value of woollens of late Yet our flannels and blankets will quickly appear, Quite as low as the prices we offered last year.

Our Bonnets and Cloaks have been tastefully made, With a prospect of greatly increasing our trade, And our Shawls and our Furs will at once please the eye And induce even the most fastulious to buy.

Our manner of business is extensively known The lowest price asked, with the article shown;
And such, we determine shall continue to be.
