

Record of the Discussion:

All participants were invited in their personal capacity and their remarks were treated as "off-the-record". A rapporteur, Professor Fen Hampson of Carleton University, was asked by the Chair to produce a report at the end of the seminar which would synthesize the analysis of various issues and recommendations made by the participants. However, the report did not attempt to be a consensus text and it did not presume that all of the seminar participants supported all of its findings. The Chair alone assumed responsibility for its content as a Canadian reference document. Based on the discussion following presentation of the first draft, the rapporteur's report was revised and finalized for dissemination by the sponsoring and co-sponsoring organizations.

Follow-Up to the Seminar:

The Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade undertook to follow-up the results of the seminar with the participants and the other sponsoring and co-sponsoring organizations. For further information on follow-up activities, please contact:
