Bureau des passeports

Whether you are riding the rails in Europe, sailing the Indian Ocean or flying to New York on business, every journey begins with a single step.

You should carry a valid passport whenever you travel outside Canada. It is the only proof of your citizenship and identity that is accepted in all countries. Unlike a birth certificate or driver's licence, a passport can be replaced if it is lost or stolen on your trip.

Security Education and Awareness

Security is everyone's responsibility. The Department protects its people, information and assets by assessing threats and risks, and responds by implementing security measures as required.
