BRYAN DECLARES HIS FOREIGN POLICY

United States Secretary of State Manifested His Support of a Unity of Action and Sentiment Among All English-Speaking Peoples—First Public Appearance.

Special to The Toronto World.
 WASHINGTON, March 9.—William Jennings Bryan, the new secretary of state, today (Sunday) indicated his function in the Wilson cabinet and hinted at some features which would be at the basis of his foreign policy. These intimations were made in the course of a speech delivered under the auspices of the Washington Y. M. C. A. before a men's meeting at the National Theatre. The occasion was described by Mr. Bryan as a semi-official appearance and his first of the kind in public. Mr. Bryan called himself "a connecting link between the president and the outside world." He quoted with approval a remark of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the effect that a nobler ideal than the union of Canada with the United States was the ideal of two countries divided only by an imaginary line, living as friends with no rivalry except of good will. He manifested his support of a unity of action and sentiment among all English-speaking peoples. Spirit of Brotherhood. The secretary of state declared that as he knew of no foundation for a moral code except religion, so also there was no foundation upon which remaining international peace could be built except the spirit of brotherhood taught by Christ. Mr. Bryan's remarks were made in introducing J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Toronto Globe, who was active in the attempt two years ago to secure reciprocity. Mr. Macdonald's subject was an evangelical address upon "A Man's Surprise at Himself." Aside from Mr. Bryan, those on the platform included Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy, and Hon. Richard Harcourt, formerly minister of education for Ontario. International Peace. "There is a strong reason why I am glad to make this my first appearance since the acceptance of the portfolio of state," said Mr. Bryan. "It is because

Tip for Premier Borden

BUDAPEST, March 8.—(Can. Press.)—In order to deal more effectively with obstructionists, the Hungarian Government has introduced in the lower house new standing orders whereby refractory members will be subjected to various fines. If officially reprimanded, they will be fined one hundred kronen; if suspended, twenty kronen for each day of the suspension, and if they enter the parliament buildings during the term of their suspension, it will cost them a fee of five hundred kronen. A krona is equal to a trifle over 20 cents in Canadian currency, and the maximum fine provided is equal to about $105.

POPE PIUS WELL IN A FEW DAYS

Is Suffering From a Mild Form of Influenza and Catarrh—Condition Is Satisfactory.

Special Cable to The World.
 ROME, March 9.—Pope Pius X. had improved so satisfactorily that his physicians tonight predicted he would be well again in a few days. Both Dr. Marchisafava and Dr. Amici emphatically deny there is any trace of gout in the symptoms and say he suffers merely from influenza of a mild form with bronchial catarrh. His temperature has fallen three degrees in the last 24 hours. The two sisters of the Pope, Maria and Angela, paid a lengthy visit to their ill brother today, and were looking very cheerful as they left the Vatican. Among the many enquirers today were Cardinals Rampolla (Italian), Vire y Tuto (Spanish), Lugari (Italian), and Van Rossum (Dutch), and the ministers from Bavaria and Belgium. Cardinal Respighi, who has influenza complicated with kidney disease, is not expected to "recover." The "Mind the Paint" Girl. The engagement of Miss Billie Burke at the Princess Theatre this week has created an unusual stir in this city. The charming comedienne is at the head of a superior company presenting A. W. Pinero's most successful comedy, "The Mind the Paint" Girl.

FRIEDMANN CURE BEING TESTED OFFICIALLY

United States Government Is Watching Results of Treatment on Seven Patients Inoculated Yesterday—Dr. Friedmann Leaves Today For Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

Special to The Toronto World.
 NEW YORK, March 9.—Systematic tests of the efficiency of the Friedmann cure for tuberculosis were begun today under the eye of the United States Government at Mount Sinai Hospital, Fifth avenue and One Hundredth street, where Dr. Friedmann treated seven patients. By an arrangement between the federal authorities and the hospital Mount Sinai will provide accommodation for such other patients as the government may send to the hospital. Of the seven patients treated by Dr. Friedmann three are suffering from tuberculosis of the ribs, one from tuberculosis of the knee joint and one from tuberculosis of the elbow. Free From Nervousness. When Dr. Friedmann emerged from the ward in which he gave his treatments he was in a more jubilant frame of mind than he has given evidence of since his first night in New York. He was smoking a cigar and was free from much of the nervousness he had shown during the last few days. "I am very happy," he declared, thru an interpreter. "I shall leave for Montreal tomorrow evening, so there to Ottawa and perhaps to Toronto. I shall give no more treatments in New York tomorrow, but shall devote my time to getting ready for my Canadian trip." "When I return I intend to treat as many bone and joint cases as can come to New York before my return. Let as many come as are able. I will treat them all." Among the physicians present when the treatment was administered today were Drs. Howard Lilienthal, N. E. Brill, Alfred Meyer, E. Libman, Henry Berg, L. Burger and L. E. Mandelbaum, besides the government experts, Dr. John F. Anderson and

CLOSURE JUSTIFIABLE MEANS TO END UNPARALLELED OBSTRUCTION TACTICS

LONDON, March 9.—The Daily Graphic, in a leading article on Canada and the navy, today expresses astonishment at the conduct of the opposition over the naval bill. Their determined obstruction during the committee stage, it says, beats all records even at Westminster, and however objectionable the introduction of the closure, from which the Canadian Parliament hitherto has been free, may seem, Borden is not to be blamed. The puzzle is to know why the Liberals are thus imposing their own parliamentary liberties. Their avowed object is to force a general election, but at present parliament is still young and Borden's naval bill seems to be generally popular. It is not easy to see how the Liberals would gain very much by a fresh appeal. Borden would in the present case, however, probably have been wise to agree to the proposal submitted by one of the former members of his cabinet, that the naval bill should be submitted to a referendum. If that plan had been adopted, the Liberals would have had no excuse for a policy of obstruction.

COUNTERFEITERS NO ELECTION BUSY IN TORONTO SAYS PERLEY

Pinkerton Detectives on Trail of Men Who Are Making Five and Ten Dollar Bills. Liberals Never Will Force One on the Navy Question, He Announced at Montreal.

Montreal Que., March 9.—(Can. Press.)—Hon. G. H. Perley, minister without portfolio, declared at the Liberal-Conservative dinner here Saturday night that: "Some say that by their tactics the Liberals will force an election, but I say that this is not so. They will never force an election on that question." Mr. Perley characterized the Liberal obstruction as without parallel, having no precedent or ground whatever. Among the other speakers was Col. Hugh Clarke. Referring to what he termed the rather curious situation in Ottawa at present, Mr. Perley called attention to the manner in which the leader of the opposition had fallen from his once high estate. "Sir Wilfrid Laurier," he said, "is showing the most marvellous inconsistency; he is taking all sides. There is talk of an appeal to the country, but during the last week Laurier has voted that there should not be an appeal and that there should be an appeal. He accepted that part of the naval bill calling for a contribution of thirty-five million dollars. He is in favor of the money being granted, but wants it spent in a different way. Although agreeing to the grant without an appeal to the country, the leader of the opposition voted for the Yerville amendment, which provided for an appeal."

LIBERAL ENTERS S. LANARK ARENA

David McLean, Prominent Farmer, Choice of Convention—Four Now in Race.

PERTH, March 9.—(Can. Press.)—South Lanark Liberal Association, in convention here yesterday afternoon, choose David McLean, a farmer, residing near Perth, as their candidate in the by-election on March 19, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Hon. Col. Matheson. There are now four candidates in the field, viz: J. C. Ebbs, the nominee of the Conservatives; W. G. Ferguson and J. B. Lyle, of Smith's Falls, Independents. The Conservative nominee is regarded as a strong candidate, being well-known and popular in the riding. J. C. Elliott, M.L.A. for West Middlesex, addressed the meeting and roused great enthusiasm. Owing to the presence in the field of two Independents, an interesting fight is promised.

EMPRESS EUGENIE IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Caught Fresh Cold and Uneasiness Is Felt on Account of Her Age.

Special Cable to The World.
 LONDON, March 10, 6 a.m.—A despatch from Nice to The Daily Mail reads: "Empress Eugenie, who was recovering from an illness when she left England last month for Cap Martin, caught a fresh cold recently and is now confined to the house. The condition of the empress, who is eighty-six, causes a certain amount of uneasiness, owing to her age and enfeeblement. The ex-empress of France is nearing her eighty-seventh birthday, having been born in Granada, Spain, May 5, 1826."

SUNDAY ARMISTICE IN HOUSE IS WELCOMED WITH CHEERING AND CLASH OF RIVAL CHORUSES

How the Closure Works in the United States

In the United States the safeguard against obstruction is in "the previous question." In his American Commonwealth, Mr. Bryce says: "The great remedy against prolix or obstructive debate is the so-called previous question, which is moved in this form: 'Shall the main question be now put?' and when ordered forthwith closes all debate, and brings the house to a direct vote on the main question."

'O, Canada' Sung by French-Canadian Members Almost Drowned by Counter Vocal Demonstrations, An Incident of Apparent Significance.

OTTAWA, March 9.—(Special.)—The week-end sitting of the house came to an end a few minutes after twelve this morning. There were the usual cheers and counter cheers as Mr. Speaker left the chamber and the usual more or less successful attempt at singing on the part of the members, marked this time by a peculiar if not sinister incident. For the first time that any one can recall in the history of the house the patriotic song of "O Canada" was treated with disrespect. This was the more noticeable because all the members—Conservative and Liberal, French and English—had heartily joined in the national anthem, "God Save the King." Torpedo Exploded. Two amusing incidents marked last evening's session. While Mr. F. F. Pardee was speaking a loud report, apparently a revolver shot, rang thru the chamber. There was a moment's pause, and Hon. Dr. Beaudry suggested: "The first shot from the Canadian navy." Investigation disclosed that some wag had exploded a torpedo and Mr. Barney Hopburn of Prince Edward County was suspected. Subsequently, when Hon. H. R. Emmerson rose to speak there were ironical cheers from the government benches, the Liberals immediately began thumping their desks and the general ex-minister received a great demonstration. "I can hardly understand all this applause," Mr. Emmerson began and was enlightened by a Conservative member, who shouted: "It's your 16th speech on the navy question!" The concluding speech of one long sitting was delivered by Mr. Carvell of Carleton, N.B., who handled without gloves the estimate of what it would cost to build a Canadian navy, furnished to the house by the prime minister and Hon. J. D. Hazen. Mr. Borden stated in the house a few days ago that the cost of two fleet units would be $150,000,000. To this Mr. Carvell took exception. He pointed out that, according to Mr. Borden's own figures, the actual cost of constructing two fleets units would be only $67,000,000. To this sum the prime minister had added $66,000,000 for ten years' maintenance. Cost of Maintenance. "Why not add the cost of thirty years' maintenance?" Mr. Carvell asked, "and make it $250,000,000?" Even with the ten years' cost of maintenance added to the estimated cost of construction, the total cost, according to Mr. Carvell, had exaggerated the amount that would be needed. Not content with this, Mr. Carvell analyzed the figures furnished to the house to justify Mr. Borden's claim that the cost of constructing two fleet units would be $150,000,000. "The figures upon which the prime minister relies," Mr. Carvell said, "must have been furnished to him by a man suffering from delirium tremens." Toyed With Figures. He then contrasted many statements and figures in the estimate with the actual tenders received by the government, and with figures and statements contained in the navy annual. For example, in one case a type of vessel described as having a tonnage of 240 tons was shown to be only 4000 tons. Mr. Borden blamed this mistake on a misprint in Hansard, but Mr. Carvell showed many other discrepancies, which appeared to be of a striking character. "We will not proceed with this bill," he declared, "upon such a worthless mass of misinformation." The Crucial Hour. By this time it was approaching midnight, and the house had filled up rapidly. The prime minister, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and many members were in evening dress, and the galleries were crowded. The Conservative members made a good deal of noise talking among themselves, and jeering Mr. Carvell, who appealed to the chairman for protection. Deputy Speaker Blondin protested he was doing the best he could, which Mr. Carvell disputed. Mr. Borden: "You do not want to speak on Sunday morning?" Mr. Carvell: "Certainly not." Mr. Borden: "Then I move the committee rise to report progress and ask leave to sit again." Sir Wilfrid Laurier: "What business on Monday?" Mr. Borden: "The same business." (Applause.) Drowned "O Canada." Just as the house adjourned Mr. German of Welland essayed to lead in singing the National Anthem, but started so high that no one could follow. Some Conservative members made a more successful attempt and all the other members rose and joined in the singing. The crowds in the galleries also rose to their feet and remained standing. "When 'God Save the King' was finished a number of Quebec members started 'O Canada,' but there was a manifest attempt at a counter demonstration. The gov-

SUDDEN DEATH OF EDWARD SEAGRAM

Brother of Jos. Seagram, Ex-M.P., Passes Away at Galt—Leaves Large Estate.

GALT, March 9.—(Special.)—Death came suddenly to Edward E. Seagram, the well-known insurance man and capitalist, at his residence, Wellington street, last night. He was preparing to retire when he was seized with a fainting spell and passed away. Dr. Wardlaw, his physician, who arrived in haste, pronounced death due to heart disease, and said his patient had been in a critical condition for some time past. Word was sent to Waterloo, where J. E. Seagram, ex-M.P., his brother, resides, and this morning E. F. Seagram, Jr., his nephew, came and had the remains removed to that town. Edward Seagram, who was seventy years old and unmarried, had made Galt his home for the past twenty years. As an insurance agent he was well known, and by shrewd investments he had amassed a fortune, estimated at half a million dollars.
