

sons' Bay Co. was later to dispute their sway. Thence they despatch curious and interesting journals and letters, wherein trade, Indian customs, clashes with their rivals, and topics of their every day life, are lengthily dwelt upon. Most of these manuscripts were addressed to Roderick McKenzie, foremost among the "bourgeois;" others were copied and revised by him for publication about 1840, but seem to have been published for the first time by the late Hon. L. R. Masson, who married his grand-daughter.

- 2350 RODRICK McKENZIE—"Memoirs 1784-1804"; Extracts from letters of Sir Alex. McKenzie, etc.
- 2351 SIMON FRASER'S Journal, 1808 "From the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific."
- 2352 "Lake Athabasca and the Chipweans"; from Lake Superior to Red River. (Very interesting; probably by Roderick McKenzie).
- 2353 "Journal of Great Bear Lake 1805"; by A. McKENZIE, (Not Sir Alexander).
- 2354 John McDONELL'S Journal, 1793-95; "Assiniboia and River Qu'Appelle."
- 2355 CHARLES McKENZIE, "The Missouri Indians," A Narrative of four trading expeditions to the Missouri, 1804, 1805, 1806, for the N. W. Co.
- 2356 W. F. WENTZEL'S Journal kept at Slave Lake 1802—"Letters to Roderick McKenzie; Franklin Expedition," 1807-1824.
- 2357 François V. MALHIOT, 1804-05—"Journal; Fort Kamanaitiquoya à la Rivière Montréal."
- 2358 JAMES McKENZIE—"Journal 1799-1800." Effects of competition; extravagant sale of liquor; extremely cold weather; ice on 8th June."
- 2359 JAMES McKENZIE—"Accounts of the King's Post; Anticosti, Labrador, etc. Description of natives, 1808.
- 2360 JOHN JOHNSON—"Country round Lakes Superior and Huron." Letter to Hon R. McKenzie, 1809.
- 2361 S. H. Wilcocke 1819. "Narrative of Circumstances attending the death of Mr. Benjamin Frobisher;" difficulties in the North West.