LEGISLATE FOR THE FARMERS

THE OTTAWA GOVERNMENT, NOT BEING "FLIES ON THE WHEEL," OUGHT TO MAKE IT EASIER TO MARKET OUR

The agricultural interests in this partments of an oceangoing steamship. Country are paramount. Canada is on the threshold of being a nation, well remark the parliamentarians. And Canada as a nation must loom large 000 farmers of Ontario, with the great multitude of awakening farmsteads on antagonistic to the other members f closer touch, here is a case where a little missionary work may be done.

NO FLIES ON THE WHEEL.

If the Dominion government wish to feel that they are not "fies on the wheel," much more so is this applicable to the farmers of Canada. Too long have they been mere flies that "sing and lay their little eggs and die," without more than a passing murmur in thelegislative world. The greatest of Canada's industries should not go on begging for recognition. It should be the aim of every statesman to apply his ability, not to the petty affairs

Mr. T. Chisholm of East Huron, in the debate on the address, took up the point touched upon by Pardee of West Lambton and presented the farmers case in the following words:

"I am encouraged to speak to-night by an expression used by the honmember for West Lambton (Mr. Pardee), who said that our agricultural interests should take a prominent and predominant position in this country. I am also encouraged to speak by the statement made by the prime minister when he said that the government are not files on the wheel, which means I assume that they can do something for the agriculturists of Ontario if they for the agriculturists of Ontario if they so wish. Now, the matter I wish to replanning, enquiring or advocating the fer to is in regard to cold storage for the protection and care of our perish-able farm products while they are be-ing transported to the markets of the world, and that is a subject to which no reference was made in the speech from the throne. Nearly two years ago I drew the attention of the house to the fact that a continuous and effective exercises of cold attention was a rerealize that their member is a nonentity or a parasite, the sooner will the farming community realize one hundred cents on their dollar.

The words of Mr. Chisholm, M.P., on this page will be read with interest by every farmer. It would be well to encourage him and any other member by every farmer. It would be well to that even a Liberal government might conveyed to a railway station, where encourage him and any other member possibly wish to act in a conservative it is placed in a hot freight house possibly wish to act in a conservative manner in an undertaking which required the expenditure of a great deal of money. But, when I find that this year, at the beginning of the third session of this parliament, there is no reference made to this matter at all, I think I am doing perfectly right in drawing the attention of the government to it at this early stage. I do so, sir, with the idea that no further time may be lost. When I spoke in the noise who ward and it is to be hoped that the usefulness and urgency of the question will be impressed upon all representatives of fruit constituencies. Raise the slocation of cheap power!

Doubt to first at this early stage. I do so, sir, with the idea that no further time may be lost. When I spoke in the house two years ago I pointed out that the east cannot compete with the west in the matter of free and fertile lands, the enormous product of grain, and the cheap ranch-fed cattle of the west. I showed that the natural result of this was that eastern farmers in the older millions more to the farmers of Candistricts were being compelled more and Again, if we could ship our beef the great question for the farmers was that eastern farmers in the cluer millions more to the tarmers of Candistricts were being compelled more ada. On the are at a great disadvantage, because try, etc. The conditions have and proved in the older districts of Ontario during the past two years. On the contrary, they have become still more acreated. The agricultural industry in the east cannot be pursued in the old way; those left at home are not strong like those who have gone to the west; labor is scarce and dear, and the trefore, the farmers of the east are compelled more and more to give their attention to the cultivation of the products I have indicated, because, althous require more care, the labor is lighter. They find, however, that they cannot get these perishable products to the markets of the world in proper condition. Our farmers cannot compete with the condition, and the meat is indicated before it is get these perishable products to the markets of the world in proper condition. Our farmers cannot compete with the cartile membargo remains, we are a disadvantage, because the cattle have to be slaughtered as over pumpkin ple and turkey. And it has anything to do with the feelings and moods, then the American always gives thanks over pumpkin ple and turkey. And it has anything to do with the feelings and moods, then the American always gives thanks over pumpkin ple and turkey. And it has anything to do with the feelings and moods, then the American always gives thanks over pumpkin ple and turkey. And it has anything to do with the feelings and moods, then the American always gives thanks.

The affect of the world in down the feelings and moods, then the American always gives thanks over pumpkin ple and turkey. And it has anything to do with the feelings and moods, then the American always gives thanks.

The affect of the feelings and thieves a severe sentence of 23 months, pilfering goes on thruout the country, and many sneak thleves live entirely by what they can thus secure. The judge classed this with sheep stealing, ventures, it surely merits all the con-demnation given. The plea of one prisoner for his wife and family comes vantages; bank barns and good stab-ling were absolute necessities while the Ontario agriculturists were rearing thorobred stock for the British market, thorobred stock for the British market, but something more is now required. That something the farmers cannot provide for themselves, and therefore they look to the government for aid. I trust that the government under these circumstances will keep the pledge given by the prime minister this afternoon, and that they will not be "flies on the wheel." Surely something can be done to meet these changed conditions. The east has done a great deal for the west, and I am perfectly sure Hodgkinson & Tisdale, Beaverton, Ont., in Clydesdales; Sir George Drummend, Beaconsfield, Que, and Jarvis, and Telfer Bros., in Hamp-shires; R. H. Harding, Thorndale, and Hastings Bros., Crosshill, in Dor-sets; E. F. Park, Burgessville, and J. C. Ross, in Cotswolds; J. T. Gibson, Denfield; J. H. Patrick, Ilderton, and scientifically constructed warehouses, would enable them to do this. By a cold storage warehouse I do not mean an ice-house or a building lined with ice, but a regularly and properly constructed warehouse with different com-partments, in each of which the temtario Winter Fair will be held at perature could be separately, scienti-

there until they are disposed of to local dealers, who should be carefully instructed also to keep them in cold storage warehouses until they are distributed to the consumers. Thus there would be a continual chain of cold storage for the products from the time they leave the hand of the producer until they reach the table of the consumer. It may be said that it would cost a large sum of money to construct the cold storage system that I have indicated. No doubt it would. It is estimated that it would cost $5.000,000 or $6,000,000, or probably the amount of one year's surplus. But surely the farmers and fishermen of Canada are worthy of that expenditure. More, I think it could be shown that such a cold storage system as I have outlined would not only pay all running expenses, and, if necessary, a high rate of interest on the money invested, but put between $20,000.000 and $50,000.000 in the pockets of the farmers and fishermen of Canada every year—money which they could not otherwise receive. Take an $0-pound cheese as an example. If this cheese be cured in cold storage instead of on a common drying shelf in a cheese factory, when it comes to be sold it will weigh from two to four pounds more than it otherwise would. Say two pounds at ten cents a pound, means 20 cents, which is equal would. Say two pounds at ten cents a pound, means 20 cents, which is equal to a quarter of a cent a pound on the whole cheese. But this is not all. When cheese that has been cured in cold storage reaches the British market it has a better flavor and texture it has has a better flavor and texture, it has more meaty matter, it is not so dry and crumbly as it otherwise would be, and therefore it commands the patronage of a wealthier and better class of customers. The result is that it brings a cent and sometimes two cents more per pound. We may therefore infer that if our Canadian cheese were cured and handled entirely in cold storage, and handled entirely in cold storage, it would bring at least one and a quarter cents a pound more than it does at the present time.

mour have become multi-millionaires by handling meat in cold storage. Properly to carry out this system we

Cold storage would also enable the farmers in our older districts to make large sums of money on poultry. English people are fond of fowl and would tario Winter Fair will be held at Guelph on December 10 to 14, inclusive. Reports received by A. P. Westervelt, the obliging secretary, in the parliament buildings at Toronto, would indicate that the exhibits of beef and dary cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and seeds will be larger and better than ... Cold storage warehouses able to hold this trade against the should be located at central railway world. A poultry yard under these stations in every farming district circumstances would certainly be a where they are required. Farmers very suitable and proper adjunct to where they are required. Farmers could then gather their tomatoes or fruits, or prepare their other products during the heat of the day, and afterwards, in the cool of the evening, have them conveyed to the nearest cold storage warehouse. There they should be kept in a proper and scientifically regulated temperature until they are transhipped to refrigerator cars and conveyed to an ocean seaport or other a very extensive market in our own transhipped to retrigerator cars and we can send to them. We have also conveyed to an ocean seaport or other destination. Every ocean seaport country, one that will soon be very large indeed. Then there is the question of fish. In every transportation problem the question of return freight is of a great deal of importance. In connection with this we must remember that we question of return freight is of a great deal of importance. In connection with this we must remember that we will soon have railway communication with James Bay, Hudson Bay, Lake Athabaska and many other northern and western points where fruit will be scarce and dear, but where beautiful large whitefish and other fish will be plentiful and cheap. Now, if we send a train of refrigerator cars to any of these northern points loaded with tomatoes and grapes, and peaches and pears and cherries and plums and early apples, the cars will not be sufted for bringing back grain or ore, the silver ore which our friend (Mr. W. F. Maclean) has been telling us about, but would be exactly what would be required to bring back these beautiful, nice white fish. And more than this these whitefish could be kept in the cold storage warehouse in the farmers' neighborhood until the farmers and others were ready to purchase and pay for and use them. Or, if we chose to send a train of cars to Hallfax or St. John or the Bale de Chaleur, or any other seaport there also would be found fresh fish in abundance for return freight. I have been told that in these districts sometimes, in the very hot seasons of the year, fish have actually been known to be spread on the ground and plowed in for manure. They are handleapped in selling their fish nearly as badly as we are with our apples. If cold storage would give our farmers beautiful, nice, fresh, whitefish at 1 cent, 2 cents or even 4 cents a pound, and enable them to sell their beef at 10 cents or 12 cents a pound it would provide them with what is now a dainty, a rarity and would also at the very same time put 3 lot of money into their pockets. Then think of the advantage it would be to our fishermen; they might be benefited to the extent of millions of dollars a year.

This system of cold storage should be constructed and maintained and run in the interest of the people of Canada. The government should either own and control it themselves or should encourage some private company to do so.

pany is that they would have a monopoly and naturally wishing to make money for themselves they might not treat the farmers fairly. There is no difficulty and no doubt whatever about it being a paying investment. The government are at the present time giving money to other industries without any chance or hope of a return.

Others Are Bounty Fed.

They have already given $10,000,000

They have already given $10,000,000 in bounties to the iron and steel and lead manufacturers of Canada. They have given $6,000.000 in bounties to these industries during the last five years—enough to build and equip this whole system of cold storage for which our farmers are asking. We must remember—and it will be well for the our farmers are asking. We must remember—and it will be well for the government to remember—that three out of five citizens of Canada are connected with the farm, and that three out of four are connected with our farms and fisheries, while not more than one out of four hundred is directly connected with the manufacture of iron, steel or lead. Now, the farmers do not ask the government to give them a bonus; they do not ask for a bounty. All they ask the government to do is to make a good and profitable investment and to assist the farmers of Canada at the same time."

The east has done a great deal for the west, and I am perfectly sure that the west would gladly do something for the east. The governments of Denmark, of New Zealand and of other countries have practically saved the farmers from ruin by grappling with just such questions as these.
