FOUGHT WITHOUT REFEREE.

McCoy Took Advantage of Situation and Put Corbett Out by a Kick in the Groin.

New York, Sept. 28.—The pugilist Kid McCoy and James J. Corbett, whose match has been broken off, met in the Gilsey House lobby this afternoon, when McCoy knocked Corbett's hat off and then, while Corbett was held by his friends, kicked Corbett in the groin. He then ran out of a side door, away from the crowd. Corbett was taken to his room and a doctor summoned.

Corbett, his manager, George Considine and Al Smith ate lunch together in the Gilsey House Cafe, finishing about 1 o'clock. They then walked out through the lobby, and in the Broadway entrance met David Nugent of the Hawthorne Athletic Club, who joined them. In one side of the entrance were McCoy, William Gray, his manager, and six other men. They were talking excitedly.

Considine saluted Gray, and Corbett walked up to do likewise. Gray, after acknowledging the salutes, said to Corbett: "I don't think you want to fight."

"What's that?" hastily inquired Corbett.

Gray repeated the remark, and Corbett loudly said that he was ready to fight McCoy anywhere and at any time.

"I'll fight him now and right here on the street," said Corbett.

McCoy, who had been listening, suddenly stepped up to Corbett, at the latter spoke and knocked off his hat. Several of Corbett's friends, wishing no disturbance, held him, and just as they seized him by the arms and shoulders McCoy delivered a kick at Corbett, which struck him in the groin.

Corbett leaned over in pain, unable to get at McCoy, who, as soon as he had kicked Corbett, ran back to the side entrance of the hotel. Corbett tried to follow, but he could not do so, and he was persuaded to go to his room. A doctor was immediately summoned.

A large crowd had gathered at the first rumor that the prize fighters were in the hotel together, and by the time the report of the fight had spread the hotel was besieged. The crowd was in a state of excitement, but neither of the pugilists was seen by the people. McCoy disappeared early.

Corbett was removed in a cab to Considine's Hotel. Dr. H. B. Pettingill was called, and he ordered Corbett to bed for 24 hours. He said the fighter had undoubtedly been kicked in the groin and displayed some symptoms of rupture.

Corbett was angry when told that he had to stay in bed, and insisted that he would get up and go to the Erne-Lavigne fight at Coney Island to-night.

"McCoy assaulted me with absolutely no provocation," Corbett said. "He kicked me, as you plainly see, and that in itself ought to show what sort of a fellow he is. I will make him pay for it if ever we meet again. That is all I care to say just now."

"I am very sorry that the difficulty happened," said McCoy, "but Corbett alone is to blame. He is a barroom fighter, as his brawls with Mitchell and Fitzsimmons prove. He attacked both of them in just such a manner while he had contests pending. If he says I kicked him he is a liar, and so is any person who makes the statement. I was minding my own business, when he called me a monkey, and, clenching his hands, made towards me. I replied that I was no more of a money than he was, and hit him in the face.

Charles Jones, the league umpire was a witness of the fight, and says McCoy did not kick Corbett. McCoy, anticipating arrest, went to the West 30th-street Police Station and gave his address, in case anyone wished to serve a warrant.

SAD SEQUEL TO ANSON'S DISMISSAL

Father-in-Law Broods Over the Captain's Downfall and Dies of Heart Disease.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The illness of John Feigel, father-in-law of A. C. Anson, has resulted fatally, and a tragedy has been added to the troubles of the ex-captain. According to Anson's own statement, the death is directly due to his deposition from a place of prominence in the baseball world, where he was idolized by the old gentleman. Anson is heart-broken over the death of his father-in-law, who was his constant companion ever since he came to live at the Anson home.

"Mr. Feigel's death was unexpected," said the veteran yesterday, "and, although he was an old man, he was robust and good for many years yet. I attribute his sudden taking off to his worrying over what he thought was my trouble in leaving the New York Club, and previous to that the Chicago Club."

Mr. Feigel's death occurred yesterday while he was waiting for a carriage to convey him to the Grand Central Station, where he was to have taken the 3.30 o'clock train for Atlantic City, N.J., in hope the sea breezes would restore him to health and strength. Anson was to have accompanied him. Shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when Anson thought it was time to get ready for the journey, Mr. Feigel was dressed by attendants and taken to the parlor to wait for the carriage. He had hardly been seated when he fell back dead. The body will be taken to Philadelphia today for burial. Mr. and Mrs. Anson will accompany the remains East.

Mr. Feigel was a little over 60 years of age, and had been a resident of this city for the past 15 years. Previous to that he lived in Philadelphia, where he was born. Shortly after coming to this city he accepted the position of groundskeeper at the Chicago Baseball Park, where he remained until his illness began, several weeks ago.

The real cause of Mr. Feigel's death is positively stated by his family to be heart trouble, brought on by worrying over Captain Anson's difference with Andy Freedman, which cost the veteran player his position as head of the Giants. His illness dates almost from that day.

Two Rounds of 18 Holes Each Will Decide the Winner This Morning —Inter-Provincial Match Begins in Afternoon and International Match To-Morrow.

The second day's play in the Canadian golf championship tournament was even more successful than the first. The third round and semi-final were played off, leaving the final to be played to-day by Geo. S. Lyon and F. G. H. Pattison. Pattison beat Betts 3 up and 4 to play.
Lyon beat Gillespie 3 up and 1 to play.

THE ENGLISHMEN AHEAD.

Baltimore 15 Cricketers Behind in First Innings — Bosanquet Makes Top Score.

Baltimore, Sept. 28.—Mr. P. F. Warner's team of English gentlemen cricketers met a similar organization, composed of Baltimoreans, to-day on the handsome grounds of the Catonsville Country Club and at the end of the first innings, had a lead of 26 runs of the locals. The weather was perfect, but the attendance was disappointingly light. The visitors allowed the home players 15 batsmen by way of handicapping themselves. The batting and fielding of the home team was weak and featureless, but Kelsey Mallinckrodt did fair work at bowling. For the visitors Bosanquet led at the bat with a bunch of 41 rounds. Winter's underhand bowling was effective and puzzling. A banquet at the clubhouse was held in the evening. The score:

Erne Proved a Tartar.

New York, Sept. 28.—Kid Lavigne, the recognized lightweight champion pugilist of the world, came very near losing his title to-night at the Greater New York A.C. in a 20-round bout with Frank Erne of Buffalo. Erne proved a tartar for the Saginaw boxer, who is not the Lavigne of three years ago by any means. Erne's wonderful improvement was a surprise to the 7000 people who witnessed the fight.

He drew Lavigne to him and sent back as good as he got in many of the rounds, while in some of them he outpointed the champion. It was generally understood that a decision was to be given on points, and the statement made at the end of the bout that both men had agreed to call it a draw in case the men were good and strong at the end was a source of keen disappointment to a host of Erne's friends, who looked for a favorable verdict. Erne deserves the greatest praise that can be bestowed on him for his clever work, and had the bout been decided on points he certainly would have got the championship honors and the winner's slice of the $5000 purse, which the club hung up for the contest.

Varsity Annual Games.

Varsity's field day this year is Oct. 18. This is a trifle earlier than usual, and all intending competitors should begin to train at once. The list of events this year has been materially increased and many interesting features added. The games will take place on the University's new athletic field in Queen's Park, corner of Devonshire-place and Bloor-street, and the committee in charge are making all preparation for a most successful day.

Small Profits and Increasing Sales.

This, being my motto, has alone enabled me to retail to the consumer our famous Collegian Cigar at 5c, and which are now acknowledged by many of the best judges of the weed in the city to be superior to many so-called 10c brands. J. A. Thompson, 73 Yonge-street, N.E. corner King and Yonge. 4

W. C. T. U. Pray for Victory.

The ladies of the W.C.T.U. conducted a series of prayer meetings yesterday in the Y.W.C.A., Elm-street, in aid of the prohibition movement. A very large number of men and women were present and the officers of the union spoke on the evil effects of liquor and prophesied a victory for their side.

CULVERHOUSE IS DEAD.

The Attempt at Suicide Proved Successful—Clements Will Recover —Other Mishaps.

Henry Culverhouse, the old man who attempted to take his life by cutting his throat with a razor, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Western Hospital from the effects of the dreadful injuries. The rash act was committed early Sunday morning, when Culverhouse, who had been drinking heavily for the past few weeks, resorted to this way of putting an end to his life. Doctors Carlton and Clements were the first medical men to attend the deceased, and they had him taken to the hospital and for the first few days he lingered between life and death until the end came. Culverhouse was 66 years of age and resided with his daughter, Mrs. Taylor, at 68 Huxley-street. The remains were removed to E. J. Humphrey & Bros.' undertaking establishment, 407 Queen-street west, where the funeral will be held from this afternoon.

William Clements, a clerk in the City Hall, who has been laid up at Grace Hospital for the past few months with typhoid fever, was much improved yesterday, and it is likely that he will recover.

Sergt.-Major McClinton of the Royal Grenadiers has recuperated wonderfully at Grace Hospital, where he has been lying for about a month, suffering from an internal disorder, and will be able to leave that institution shortly.

Mrs. Harvey, the elderly woman who was badly injured by her son-in-law, who brutally kicked her, was able to go down to the Police Court yesterday, from St. Michael's Hospital, and give evidence in her case.

A push cart heavily laden with household effects and drawn by a boy, last night about 10 o'clock, narrowly escaped destruction by a trolley car on Queen-street, near University-avenue. The car was crossing the tracks when a wheel came off, throwing the articles in front of an approaching car. The motorman, however, stopped the car, and averted a collision.

Sporting Miscellany.

Dukes: There was a running meet in Buffalo in 1891.

"The other day," says a league umpire, "Chick Stahl of the Bostons, in making for first base, got out of the way of the first baseman, who was trying to field a badly-thrown ball. If he had collided with the fielder he would have undoubtedly made the bag, and when he had a chance to speak a word to me he said: 'I suppose I was a fool not to go into him.' 'My boy,' I said, 'you did just right. You played like a gentleman and not like a rowdy. That's the way always to do on the ball field, and you lose nothing by it.'"
