Moberly, Mo., Jan. 21, 1896.

Radway & Co.—

Dear Sirs—I have been keeping in the house your Radway's Ready Relief for the last six years. I have used it in every way, and found it to be the best on earth. Six years ago I was sick. I tried all kinds of medicine, but they did me no good. My father saw the advertisement in the paper; he told me to try a bottle. I did so, and by using it three days I was able to be out. I have kept it on hand ever since, and have told my neighbors about it. My wife has been troubled with toothache. I gave a trial of the medicine and it cured her pain instantly. I was gathering corn and got my hand caught between the wagon bed and standard and mashed it badly. I ran to the house and poured on a lot of Radway's Ready Relief and had no more pain. I tied my hand up with a piece of flannel, poured on more Radway's Ready Relief, and in an hour I was ready to take hold of my work again. I cannot be thankful enough. I could write a great deal more, but this paper would not hold half of what I could write. Yours truly.

Dr. Radway & Co.—

I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for more than six months. I could not raise my hands to my head nor put my hands behind me, nor even take off my own shirt. Before I had finished three-fourths of a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief I could use my arms as well as ever. You can see why I have such great faith in your Ready Relief. Yours truly, port of Lord Salisbury's perman- certain at this moment is that the ent retirement from the foreign office, and virtually from public life, was one of those badly conceived guesses for which the Chronicle is becoming quite famous. Earlier in the week the correspondent learned of a circumstance which tended to justify the assumption of the Chronicle. Lord Salisbury was having his private room at the foreign office cleared of the accumulation of personal papers and confidential documents that is usually, the prelude to the retirement of any head of a government department. But inquiry elicited the information that this process had been going on since Christmas, and had recently become active, simply because Lord Salisbury thought that going through these papers would afford relaxation during his recent weary convalescence. Lord Rosebery's tenure of the foreign office was brief, but he managed to get together a mass of private papers, which filled several big hampers, which were taken in a wagon to tility towards France, have no fear of his house in Berkely Square.
