SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 18, 1910.

WHY HE IS GREAT AND GROWING GREATER.

Mr. Roosevelt is the central personality in the United States today. He grows of greater importance daily. All the people of that country are turning to him. Why?

Because in him they see the only hope of relief from a set of conditions that make life more and more a struggle in that country.

The price of food, of clothing, of raising children, of the necessities of life, let alone the ordinary comforts of life, is steadily rising. Wages and salaries do not advance, or only slowly compared with the other.

In contrast with this are the enormous fortunes that are being concentrated in the hands of the few who control the necessities of life, the public services.

Political power is concentrating in the hands of the few or the interests; the lawyers are most of them working for the interests; the press is passing into the hands of the interests.

The savings of the people, whether in insurance companies, banks, trust companies, or in stocks, are all in the control of the interests and are used to oppress the very people who made them.

Morgan, Ryan, Harriman have used the money of the insurance companies to compel higher passenger and freight rates out of the people who paid the premiums! Wall-street gambling is carried on by the savings of the people all over the Union! The sugar and the beef trusts, all the trusts, use the newspaper press to justify their methods, to the people who suffer support this same press.

The people are becoming maddened. The Republican party is discovered to be a tool in the hands of the interests. The people distrust Taft.

The people are looking to Roosevelt for relief. If it does not come it is our belief, then, that revolution, social disorder will.

The worst governed country in the world to-day is the United States. There is little respect, little reverence, little confidence in the government. And in some way the people think that the only way out is a strong man who will smash some of the growing evils and those behind them. Roosevelt is great because of the greater social and economic disturbances that exist across the line.

The great American republic is today distrustful of its own people and they are looking for a Moses, a deliverer.

THE MAYOR'S RETURN.

Mayor Geary must not be too puffed up over the suggestion of The Mail and Empire that he may be gratified when he perceives that he has been missed. Perhaps he will not be able to perceive as much as that.

But he will at least be able to perceive that the appointment of a medical health officer, which rumor credited him with a desire to see made in his absence, still remains to be dealt with. And with this perception will come the knowledge that responsibilities cannot be shirked. The alliances by which Mayor Geary was elected will now have to be appeased, and the controllers evidently perceived that this was none of their business. The Mail and Empire, in its innocence, is not aware what can have prevented the "city's administration from choosing" Dr. Sheard's successor. Any ward heeler of the party could have informed the organ.

Another matter that Mayor Geary will be able to perceive without the aid of double-barrelled gas-magnifying glasses is the fact that the Toronto Electric Light Co., under Sir Henry Pellatt, is perturbed in its conduct and otherwise over the severe competition which the citizens are engaged in putting up against its high schedule lighting tariff.

It is only a little while ago that the heavens were being rent by Sir Henry and his agents, warning us of the horrible mess the city was getting into, and how the rates that Toronto citizens then had the privilege of paying were the lowest that could possibly be made. Now Sir Henry tells us that he is willing to give the citizens the much lower rates proposed by the city department, and will yet be able to make ten per cent. out of them, too; only he wants the city to let itself up not to go still lower, which, in spite of his previous protestations, he now fears the city may.

And the city will. There is no doubt about that, as Mayor Geary may also perceive, if he can get the salt sea spray out of his eyes. And this fact may lead Sir Henry yet to the point where he would be willing to consider an offer for his light company at not more than Joseph Oliver made for the stock when mayor last year.

ST. ALBAN'S CATHEDRAL.

Bishop Sweeney showed a fine burst of speed, if we may be permitted the liberty, in his appeal on behalf of St. Alban's Cathedral. It may be that the cathedral idea in the Episcopal Church does not appeal as such to those who call themselves Episcopalians in Toronto in the same way as it does to Episcopalians in other parts of the world. There may be other causes which have hindered the interest and retarded the active sympathy which might have been expected from Anglicans in the great Toronto diocese.

Whatever be the cause, the Episcopalians have not apparently been so generous as other church bodies in the complaints of non-support of important funds are well founded. At the same time much consideration is necessary for a new land, where the people have many demands made upon them.

In the huge and wealthy city of New York the magnificent cathedral of St. John is not making any greater progress comparatively than St. Alban's has made in Toronto. In fact Toronto has done rather better proportionately than New York.

A great deal of misunderstanding has been responsible, perhaps, for the lack of interest taken in St. Alban's. There is an impression abroad that it is only for the well-to-do and the especially distinguished. This is, of course, absolutely erroneous. A properly conducted cathedral is above all places the poor man's church.

The impression exists that the cathedral would become a stagnant resort for church officialdom. This also is surely a misconception. It ought to become a centre of the most intense and earnest church life, from which inspiration would flow to all other churches throughout the diocese.

So far the cathedral has been hampered by lack of means, but this may be remedied. If Bishop Sweeney can combine his cathedral with the modern need of an institutional church, and make St. Alban's an ardent centre for church life in the great district in which it is situated, he will need to make very few more appeals for its support.

CANADIAN CLUBS AND DOMINION DAY.

Moncton, N. B., Canadian Club has adopted a resolution which says:

"Whereas the first of July is recognized by statute, custom and observance as Canada's natal day, the anniversary of her birth as a Dominion;

"And whereas it is the aim and purpose of the Canadian Club to foster patriotism and develop an intelligent national spirit;

"Resolved, that Canadian Clubs wherever located be requested to more fully emphasize the historical importance of 'Dominion Day' and suitably commemorate the anniversary, with greater significance to the history, institutions, literature and resources of our country."

Acting upon it, the club will this year hold an excursion to Fort Beauséjour, one of the historic places of eastern Canada, where patriotic and historical addresses will be delivered. The idea is to be heartily commended to the other Canadian Clubs throughout the country. As the Moncton Club points out, "this matter is of transcendent importance at a time when so many thousands of new citizens are being absorbed into our national life; citizens who are wholly ignorant of the history, constitution, laws, government and aspirations of our glorious Dominion."

Earl Grey is certainly the greatest of Canadian missionaries. The more he knows of Canada the greater is his confidence in her future, and in the quality of her people.

The decision of the railroads to make no reservations of sleeping berths except for cash down is in the public interest. But had it not been for the comments of the railway commission it would never have been made. Public service corporations are all desperately unwilling to adopt reforms which are not of their own initiative. That is an idiosyncrasy characteristic of officialdom in authority.

The Globe offers a very lame defence of the Quebec bridge blunder. To say that nowhere had a bridge of the span required been attempted is misleading, since the two main spans of the Forth bridge are each only some ninety feet less than the single Quebec span, and its large margin of safety could easily have carried the addition had it been necessary. American engineers laughed at the excessive strength of the Scottish structure, but the Quebec design erred seriously in the other direction. As in the case of the Tay bridge, stability was sacrificed to cheapness.

Canadian Catholics Overjoyed. LONDON, June 17.—(Rt. Rev. Francis Bourne, Archbishop of Canterbury, has received the following cable from Archbishop Bruchési of Montreal.

"Canadian Catholics are overjoyed at Premier Asquith's announcement that he is confident the house of commons will modify the declaration to be taken by King George at his coronation. We hope the Eucharistic Congress, to be held at Montreal, may acknowledge the event."

"I FEEL IT MY DUTY

To Give You a Statement In Regard to 'Fruit-a-tives'"

Hardwick, Miramichi, N.B., Jan. 17th, 1910.
"I feel it my duty to give you and the world an unsolicited statement in respect to the wonderful cure I received by taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' Chronic Constipation was the complaint I suffered with for years. My general health was miserable as a result of this disease, and I became depressed and alarmed. I was treated by physicians without the slightest permanent benefit, and I tried all kinds of pills and tablets, but nothing did me any good.

"I saw the strong testimonial in favor of 'Fruit-a-tives' by New Brunswick's 'Grand Old Man,' the Hon. John Costigan, and I knew that anything he stated was honest and true, and given only to help his fellow-men. I tried 'Fruit-a-tives,' and the effects were most marvelous, and now I am entirely well from all my Chronic Constipation that I suffered from for so many years. My general health is once more excellent, and I cannot say too much to express my thanks for the great benefits derived from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.'"
A. G. WILLISTON.

"Fruit-a-tives" is not gotten up by druggists or expert chemists—who know nothing about disease and the needs of the human body—but is the scientific discovery of a well-known physician, and is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

SAVE HENDERSON FROM ROPE

Court of Appeal Affords Last Hope to Peterboro Murderer.

Whether Robert Henderson is to be hanged on June 23 for the murder of an aged woman, Margaret Macpherson, will be decided by the court of appeal on Monday morning, the sitting starting at 11 a.m. Judge Riddell, yesterday, in granting a stated case, intimated that he would ask the court of appeal:

(1) Was I right in my charge as to insanity, and the onus of proof thereof?

(2) Should there, for any of the statements in my charge, be a new trial?

At Henderson's trial, Dr. Clarke and Dr. Bruce Smith, called by the defence, swore that the prisoner was capable of appreciating the nature and quality of the act committed. Judge Riddell charged the jury that to reach a verdict of not guilty, it must be proved that the prisoner was laboring under disease of mind which prevented his knowing his act to be wrong.

Henderson, on March 30, went to a house near Peterboro, where the Misses Macpherson, aged sisters, lived, and attacked them with an ax. Miss Margaret Macpherson succumbed.

Re D. Kerr, K.C., for Peterboro, counsel for Henderson, claims that Judge Riddell misdirected the jury. Mr. Kerr emphasizes the fact that, after the jury had been out an hour, Judge Riddell called them back to give reminder that, if they found Henderson guilty, they could add a recommendation to mercy. In five minutes the jury returned with a strong recommendation for mercy.

Crown Sues for Property. Because Mrs. J. R. Gibson of 23 Crocker-avenue, when she died, left $2000 worth of property to her husband as trustee for her natural daughter Janet Gibson, who died before the husband, the attorney-general claims that the property escheats to the crown. Mr. Gibson left the property to Thomas Stewart and Marjory Stewart, who are defendants in an action which was to have been tried in the non-jury assize court yesterday, but which is set for Wednesday.

Single Court.

Before the Chancellor.
Re Stokes—W. M. Charlton (Brantford), for executors. Grayson Smith, for Mrs. Stokes and Mrs. Anderson. J. E. Jones, for Mrs. Ayres. Motion by executors for order construing will of John Henry Stokes. Judgment: The question is whether Mrs. Anderson is devisee of the whole of the lot on Banfield-street, Paris, or whether there is an intestacy as to part of that lot. The interests also of the widow are concerned. She is life tenant of the whole real property, but she may have additional rights if there is partial intestacy as to land. I think jurisdiction attaches under the rule to construe this will. At the date of the will the testator and wife lived in his house on Banfield-street, and the description would cover the dwelling and the land occupied therewith. Between making his will and his death he added two rooms to original house and removed a barn from rear of lot and turned it into a house. These changes do not change the area of the property described and identified in the will; he was still at his death living in the dwelling on Banfield-

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, or kettles, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

occurrence was not one which under the circumstances it was the defendant's duty to guard against. Divisional court, on plaintiff's appeal, affirmed the judgment. The plaintiff has had one appeal. The defendant, owing to the financial circumstances of the plaintiff, has to pay her own costs in any case. There is no general question of importance which would be conclusively settled by this action. I do not think it is a case for granting leave to appeal. Application dismissed with costs.
