The yacht Defiance, built last summer as a candidate for the defence of the American cup against the Shamrock IV, will be used as a houseboat in southern waters.

WRESTLING

Match Called Off
The wrestling match, which was to have been held in the Queen's rink on Saturday evening between Jim Prokes and Charles Duffy, was declared off as the latter said he had injured one of his hands while training. Only a small crowd was present in the rink, and they decided their money better be put in the annals of horse-racing in local circles.

RACING IN CANADA

Ottawa, June 9.—Using the argument that horse racing in Canada should be stopped during the war, as has been done in Great Britain, several organizations of late have been making representations to the government.

It is highly improbable that any such drastic action will be taken. Suspension of horse racing entirely would, it is said, require an act of parliament. Under the circumstances there is no likelihood of anything being done.

A certain little girl was discovered by her mother engaged in a spirited game of counter with a small friend, who had got considerably worked in the engagement.

"Don't you know, dear," said the mother, "that it is very wicked to be caught so? It was when that put it into your head to pull Elsie's hair."

"Well, perhaps it was," the child admitted, "but I thought her shins were entirely my own idea."

Recent investigation has shown that among fifty authors who are favorites with the German soldiers at the front, twenty-five are foreigners, most of them British and French.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

When the blood becomes impure the first symptoms which manifest themselves are a breaking out of the various forms of skin trouble such as boils, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, etc., and the only treatment you can use is some sort of a good blood cleansing remedy which will put the blood into a perfect condition, and thus eliminate all the different poisons from the system which cause these different eruptions to occur.

The best blood cleansing remedy on the market to-day is Burdock Blood Bitters. All we ask you to try it and be convinced. Thousands have used it during the past forty years, and have nothing but praise for its curative powers.

Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Plantagenet, Ont., writes: "I am one woman who cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters. I was covered with boils, and could not get rid of them. I was advised by a friend to try B.B.B. which I did, and I can truthfully say that it completely cured me. I have never had a sign of a boil since."

See that our name appears on both the label and wrapper as there are many imitations placed on the market which are said to be "just as good."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Notes After the Game

The stars failed to glimmer in the sunlight and that accounts for their poor showing.

Cronwell, besides giving a clever demonstration of juggling in right field made a scratch hit that scored two runs.

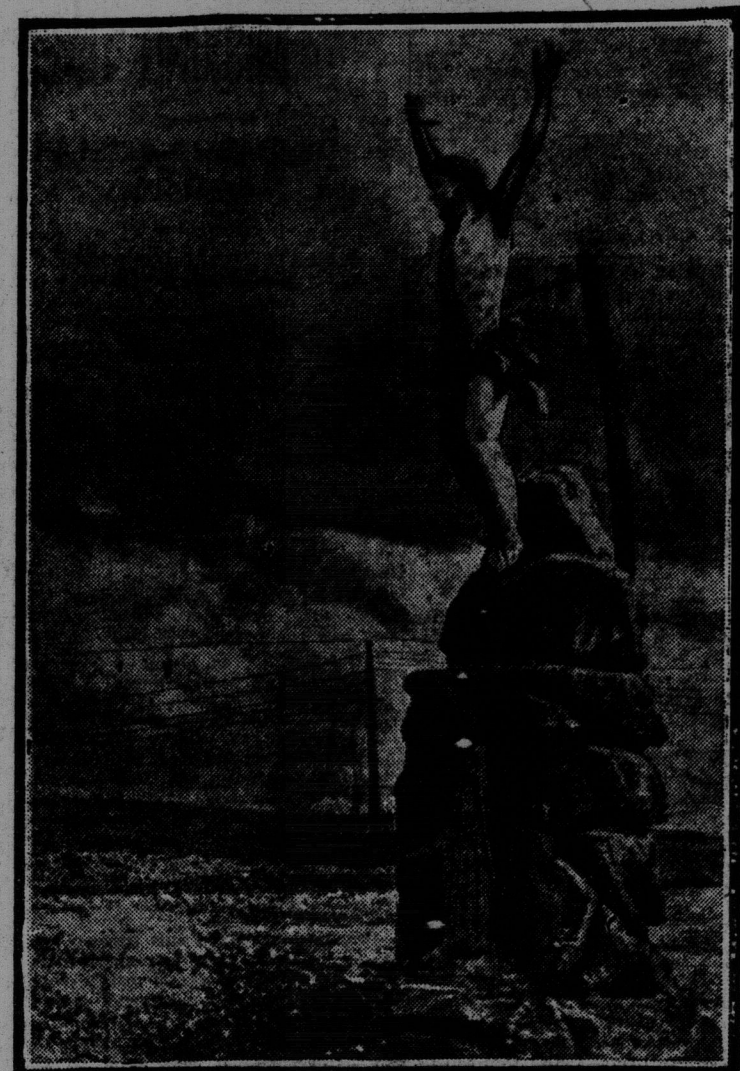

Patterson at third was in a class by himself. His sensational dive for a base-runner nearly resulted in a dislocation of his own arm as he struck nothing but space.

Sullivan had a batting average of 1.000. His sensational drives through and past the opposing short stop called forth the enthusiastic plaudits of his admirers—male and female.

Henderson and Flowers were kept busy endeavoring to plug up the holes in their infield. The former partially succeeded, but the latter was so unstrung by the showing of his team mates that his nerve was broken and his errors were more numerous than the opponents' score.

There was someone out in centre garden. Why he was put there is still a mystery to the fans. He apparently should have been taken.

The boys from Simms' were apparently instructed in the rudiments of the game for they knew what to do with the ball when it came their way.

CANADIANS INTRODUCE
BASEBALL TO SOLDIERS OF ENGLAND AND FRANCE

One result of the war in Europe, may be the introduction of baseball as a popular sport in France and Great Britain.

While they were in camp in England the Canadian soldiers spent their spare time in playing baseball, and now the gallant fighting men from the dominion find ## relief in baseball from the terrors of war.

Many of the English Tommies and French soldiers have become keenly interested.

The Canadian soldiers make good baseball missionaries as the game has flourished in the dominion almost as long as in the United States.

"LARRY" McLEAN
IN BIG FRACAS

Attacks Giants' Scout With Piece of Gas Pipe — McGraw Says He is Through With Him

St. Louis, June 11.—"Long Larry" McLean, second string catcher for the New York Giants, staged a knock-down-and-drag-out fight last night in the lobby of the Buckingham Hotel, with "Sinister Dick" Kinsella, scout for the club, as his chief opponent and Manager John J. McGraw as a sort of secondary enemy.

During the fracas McLean used a piece of gas pipe in an attempt to "get" Kinsella, but missed, and the Giant scout retaliated by breaking two of the hotel chairs on Larry's head.

McLean, when he saw that he was getting the worst of it, ran from the hotel, with Kinsella, McGraw and two house detectives in pursuit, jumped into an automobile loaded with women and made his escape.

The hotel management endeavored to keep the story quiet, but it leaked out and Kinsella and McGraw then told how it happened.

McLean, who has for years worried his managers because of his propensity to fall off the water wagon, and who this year signed a contract with a "no booze" clause in it, had recently broken over. He was suspended. A few days ago he tried to get a job with the Federal here, but was turned down.

Last night, according to McGraw, McLean came into the hotel considerably "lit up" and wanted to know if Kinsella hadn't been "watching" on him.

McGraw walked away from him, and McLean followed the manager out of the lobby where Kinsella was sitting. Then he made a rush at Kinsella. "McLean struck me on the mouth while my back was turned," said Kinsella. "He split my lip and knocked me off my chair. I climbed up and broke the chair over his head. He came back for more and I hit him on the shoulder with another chair and set him sprawling. Then he ran."

According to McGraw's version, McLean came to the hotel accompanied by a crowd of four or five bullies. "McLean attacked Kinsella with a piece of gas pipe," said McGraw. "His rowdies made themselves scarce when Kinsella started to rough it on his own account. I am sorry for Larry. I've done everything I can for him. Now I am through. McLean can never play with the New York club again."

"Could you call Zeppelins dogs of war?" interrogated Mr. Bling. "I think you could," I answered. "For they're sky-terrors, I think."

REFUSES TO KISS BABY

One Reason Why Judge Gave Him 65 Days in Jail

For the first time in the 15 years he has been a justice of the peace in Flint, Mich., Justice James M. Torrey has sentenced a man to the Detroit House of Correction for failing to support his family. David Branch, who pleaded guilty to that offense, was sentenced to 65 days.

Justice Torrey said it was one of the most aggravated cases he ever saw and his patience reached a limit when Branch refused to kiss his baby while he was in the courtroom.

Mrs. Branch came to the court with their young baby and told the infant out to Branch, pleading for the father to kiss it. The prisoner turned away.

Judge Torrey has made it a practice to put men charged with nonsupport on probation and force them to support their families, but he decided it was no use in this instance. —New York Sun.
