

Pretty Slippers
For the Little Tots!
Nothing looks so cute on a little child, with its short socks, as a pair of pretty SLIPPERS. In addition to the many styles we always carry we are now having quite a run on the old fashioned English Ankle Strap in either Patent or Chocolate Vici Kid.
They are both pretty and good.

McAvity on Wednesday evening. Percy McAvity was the host, and on his invitation about one hundred young people enjoyed themselves at Mr. McAvity's pretty residence at Woolastook. . . .
A large number of the city friends of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Dooey called at their summer home at Lingley on Saturday last, to extend congratulations, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dooey's marriage. The date of the anniversary fell on Friday, but they may wear the marine full dress of their own service if they visit foreign ships in ports of their realm. When they are abroad on dry land, they usually put on an army uniform of the country they are visiting. All the leading sovereigns hold honorary colonelcies. The historic regiments in each other's services. For instance, the King is Colonel of the Danish regiment of Hussars of the Guard, of the Fifth Prussian Hussars, of the First Dragon Regiment of the Prussian Army, of the Austrian Regiment of Hussars No. 12, and of the Twenty-seventh Russian Regiment of the Dragons of Kieff. He is, besides, an Admiral in the German, Swedish, and Greek navies. . . .
UNIFORMS FOR ALL TIMES.
Reciprocally, the Emperor of Austria is Colonel-in-Chief of the First Dragon Guards of England, and the Kaiser. . . .
KINGS AND THEIR CLOTHES.
The changes of costume that kings and princes have to make at all hours of the day, when on a visit to a foreign land, are little short of kaleidoscopic. When kings make foreign visits they usually present themselves in the uniform of the country they are visiting. . . .
The many friends of Miss Madeline DeBury will be pleased to learn that she is on the way to speedy recovery, after the injury which she met with on Saturday last at Lingley, by being struck by the Boston train. . . .
