WEALTHY MAN DISAPPEARS.

The Missing Man Takes About All His Property With Him -- Trained Nurse Missing, Too.

New York, March 1-Bridgeport (Conn.) is very much exercised over the mysteri-ous disappearance of Albert N. Stanton, Barre, Vt., March 1 .- An agreement has who was, when he went away from there, vice-president of the American Tube and een reached between the granite manufinding. facturers and their sharpeners, polishers, Jumpers and derrickmen, thereby avert-ing the strike that was threatened for to-Stamping Company, one of the largest manufacturing establishments in southern New England, its capital stock amounting morrow. The cutters and sharpeners are to $3.000.000 to receive $3 per day of eight hours, with a half holiday on Saturday during June, At the same time Danbury and New Fairfield (Conn.), are puzzled at the almost simultaneous disappearance of . Carrie F. Fuiler, a trained nurse, who frequently of late been in the Stanton home at Long Hill, near Bridgeport. The parents of Mass Fuller have engaged the law firm of Brewster, Leavis & Ives, of Danbury, to investigate as to the whereabouts of their daughter. It is thought by some that Miss Fuller may have gone to care for Mr. Stanton's child.

Meanwhile the exceptionally pretty wife of Mr. Stanton, who was his stenographe prior to her marriage, stoutly maintains that her husband will return. She came back suddenly from Florida on Thursday ast and has been vainly inquiring about er husband ever since. Stanton was known as one of the dashstantion tart Bruggport with his wife on Feb. 3. His health had been bad for some time previously, and it was supposed that he was going to California to recu-perate. But he left his wife and her little daughter on a steamer bound for Florida. Stanton returned to Bridgeport next day. He had for some time previously been mobilizing his financial resources. He owned a half interest in what is known as the Franklin block on Main street Bridgeport. On Jan. 20 her mortgaged this property for $35,000. He secured the cash value of his life insurance policies and turned all of his other assets into each except $25,000 worth of stock in the Am rican Tube and Stamping Company. This he settled upon his wife. As each was realized from these various sources it was deposited in a Bridge-port bank. On Feb. 4 Stanton applied to th's bank for his entire deposit in cash in the form of $1,000 bills-nothing else would do. But the bank tidn't have en-ough $1,000 bills to settle his account. In fact, so large was the account that not enough bils of the required size could be found in Bridgeport. It is unde stood that the total sum was several hundre. thousand dollars. The Bridgeport bank finally gave Mr. Stanton a draft on New York. The draft was duly presented there and another demand for $1,000 bills was made. Mas Fuller was at that time nursin a case in Middletown (Conn.) She immediately, upon receipt of a message from Stanton, threav up her case and disap
