

the skirt may be plainly or fancifully completed, as preferred. The desired skirt may be of the same material as the over-dress. It may be in decided contrast; and upon it much or little ornament may be applied in a very fluffy or very plain way. The small toque is becomingly trimmed with aigrette and loops of fancy ribbon.

This consists of a Ladies' walking skirt and jacket.

The skirt pattern, which is No. 4098 and costs 1s.

6d. or 35 cents, is in nine sizes for ladies from twenty-eight to thirty-six inches, bust measure, and may be seen in three views on page 297 of this DELINEATED.

The jacket pattern, which is No. 4114 and costs 1s. 6d. or 35 cents, is in thirteen sizes for ladies from twenty-eight to forty-six inches, bust measure, and is differently represented on page 290.

Plaid cheviot and velvet are here united in the toilette, and handsome garniture is contributed by velvet bands studded with Kursheedt's Standard, star-shaped cabochons, and silk gimp. The skirt is a novelty in the graceful bell-shaped modes and is arranged upon a foundation fashioned in the five bell-gored style. The ends of the skirt are bias and are joined in a seam at the center of the back, and at each side of the seam stylish fan-plaits flare gracefully to the edge of a slight train. If desired, the skirt may be cut off to round length, provision for such shaping being made in the pattern. The front and right side fall with fashionable smoothness resulting from darts at the top, and an air of variety is imparted at the left side by several forward-turning plaits that flare diagonally into a series of soft folds and wrinkles. The lower edge is ornamented with a broad band of black velvet thickly strewn with star-shaped cabochons and headed with silk gimp. The three-quarter jacket is superbly adjusted at the back and sides by the customary gores and a center seam; and an under-folded box-plait at the center seam and stylish coat-plaits at the side-back seams complete the jaunty effect. The loose fronts open from the top over a shorter, dart-fitted vest, which closes invisibly at the center; and the flaring edges of the fronts are decorated with a velvet band that is ornamented with cabochons and gimp, like the band on the skirt, and, continued along the lower edge of the jacket. Triple-pointed velvet pocket-laps are arranged over the hips, and cavalier cuffs of velvet roll back from the wrists of the shapely coat-sleeves and flare widely at the back of the arm. The unusually high standing collar is starred with cabochons, and between its flaring ends is revealed the moderately high standing collar which laps at the throat.

Charming toilettes for visiting, driving, church or promenade wear may be developed in diagonal serge, tweed, camel's-hair, foulé or any novelty wool goods of reasonable texture. Corded silk, Bengaline and faille will also make up well in this way. Ribbon, ruchings or frills of the material, metallic or fancy braid, flat bands, etc., may be applied in any way suggested by individual fancy, or a simple finish may be followed.

The hat is a stylish shape in fine felt trimmed with a band and loops of velvet, Autumn foliage and cabochons.

This consists of a Ladies' costume and collar. The costume pattern, which is No. 4139 and costs 1s. 8d. or 40 cents, is in thirteen sizes for ladies from twenty-eight to forty-six inches, bust measure, and is shown differently developed on page 286 of this magazine. The collar pattern, which is No. 4019 and costs 5d. or 10 cents, is in three sizes—large, medium and small, and may be seen again on its accompanying label.

In the present instance the toilette is pictured made of tan-colored serge, and Kursheedt's Standard black silk feather-edge trimming in two widths, and dark-brown woven crescents supply the garniture. The four-gored foundation-skirt is overhung by a skirt that presents the fashionable close adjustment at the front and sides and is disposed at the back in deep fan-plaits which flare in regulation fashion at each side of the center. The lower edge of the drapery is ornamented over its deep hem with a band of wide feather-edge trimming surmounted by a handsome border-decoration consisting of three rows of dark brown crescents woven in graduated sizes.
