columns of the first floor in the early spring. The writer erected a suitable roof over the nest to protect its inmates from impending disaster; whether the feathered flock ever reached maturity is unknown to me; however, with so many better locations in the grove which then extended westward from the Murray homestead to Oxford St., it is unique that preference was made in favour of Dalhousie's future Law school. One might say with some semblance of truth "For Dalhousie's care, forsooth the woods" attesting unwittingly perhaps to the protecting elements of the Law.

Thirty years have passed since the erection of the Law building, which meanwhile has served and met the needs of the Arts school, so I suppose it will take a corresponding period of time to efface, if even in the memory of those students who have spent their college years within its portals, little realizing that they were only temporarily located, in the broader sense of that word. Now that they have moved into the spaciousness of the new Arts and Administration Building, no doubt the severance brings to them also the regrets of parting with an old friend.

So! Dear old Law school, Forrest Hall bids you adieu, meanwhile Studley welcomes you, where

I am sure your gifted sons, as in the past will play a prominent part in helping to mould and shape the destinies of generations of Dalhousians in the future.

NO SMOKING

"Here's some good news for those who want to give up smoking, but we have failed to do so by any of the orthodox systems. It's news of a new method of breaking the tyrant yoke of the noxious weed, which bears the personal guarantee of the owner of a chain of grocery stores in Britain who died a month ago, and whose will was published recently. All you have to do is to decide that you won't smoke again until you have twenty thousand pounds in the bank. Then when you've got your twenty thousand by kidding yourself that there's a smoke at the end of it, you say 'April Fool!' and postpone the smoke until you've doubled your bank balance—forty thousand pounds. By this time, according to the patentee of the system, you'll have lost the desire to smoke, and there you are. Of course it may occur to you, as it did to me, that if you give up smoking you don't need twenty thousand pounds. But apart from that, the system does seem to pay reasonable dividends: the man who invented it left three quarters of a million."—Sam Pollock speaking in the BBC's Pacific Service.

FOSTER MOTHER

"The great thing with young animals, even more important than food I find, is warmth. And the ideal hot water bottle is a nursing cat. Most cats will rear almost anything big enough to suck. But I hadn't got a cat so I resorted to the next best thing. I find that an old cigarette tin with a fifteen watt pigmy bulb in it gives off exactly the right degree of heat. Wrap it in one layer of old sock and it's any furry mother's tummy to the life. I've reared chickens and squirrels—all sorts of things on my tin with a little electric bulb in it."—Phil Drabble speaking in the BBC programme, "The Countryside", on bringing up young animals that have lost their parents.

Admission Tests Will Be Given Law Graduates

PRINCETON, N.J., Sept. 19th—The Law School Admission Test required of applicants for admission to a number of leading American law schools, will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United States on the mornings of November 15, 1952, February 21, April 25, and August 8, 1953. During 1951-52 over 6800 applicants took this test, and their scores were sent to over 100 law schools.

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each law school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Law School Admission Test and when. Since many law schools select their freshman classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised ordinarily to take either the November or the February test, if possible.

The Law School Admission Test, prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, features objective questions measuring verbal aptitudes and reasoning ability rather than acquired information. It cannot be "crammed" for. Sample questions and information regarding registration for and administration of the test are given in a Bulletin of Information.

Bulletins and applications for test should be obtained four to six weeks in advance of the desired testing date from Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, N.J. Completed applications must be received at least ten days before the desired testing date in order to allow ETS time to complete the necessary testing arrangements for each candidate.

PRINCETON, N.J., Sept. 19th—The Graduate Record Examinations, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times in the coming year, Educational Testing Service has announced. During 1951-52 nearly 8,000 students took the GRE in partial fulfillment of admission requirements of graduate schools which prescribed it.

This fall candidates may take the GRE on Friday and Saturday, November 7 and 8. In 1953, the dates are January 30 and 31, April 1 and 18, July 10 and 11. ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should take and on which dates. Applicants for graduate school fellowships should ordinarily take the designated examinations in the fall administration.

The GRE tests offered in these nationwide programs include a test of general scholastic ability, tests of general achievement in six broad fields of undergraduate study, and advanced level tests of achievement in various subject matter fields. According to ETS, candidates are permitted several options among these tests.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which provides details of registration and administration as well as sample questions, may be obtained from college advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, N.J., or P.O. Box 9896, Los Feliz Station, Los Angeles 27, California. A completed application must reach the ETS office at least two weeks before the date of the administration for which the candidate is applying.

SEEKING A NEW ORDER

"I believe that underneath all the confusion and tumult of our time man is seeking for a new order founded on justice and mercy and humility—seeking in a world which the scientist and inventor have made into a parish long before we have learned to live as neighbours."—The Rt. Hon. James Griffiths, M.P., speaking in a BBC programme about his beliefs.
