

he did not nowhere to go and she was kind enough to tell him if he would pay her half of $65 back his sisterinlaw and brotherinlaw would give him $50 but he never done when his motherinlaw was a live. Now when is motherinlaw died he kicking about. Now he got smart John Jocks trying to fighting every body but he can do. John Rice has no will of kind and if he got the money and pay her when she was alive he would get every thing with out kicking. Now for instance when my motherinlaw died I and my two young brotherinlaw where at dying bed side and when she die she did not make any will for one half of the farm a good horse and a big barn my man make these two other things a two brother make a will between themselves the one name James wrote the will to the youngest brother and I was at there motherbedside when she died she say nothing of the kind it is lawful for a brother to will a will to the other brother and there are three more in the family living older than them.
