

instruction in the same shall be left to the voluntary action of the federated Universities and Colleges; and provision shall be made by a system of options to prevent such subjects being made compulsory upon any candidate for a degree."

Section 23 makes the same provision with respect to a religious test in connection with the University and University College as was contained in the previous Acts.

13. The University Act (1906), by Section 9 makes the same provision with respect to a religious test.

Section 127 is as follows:—

(1) "The course of instruction in the Faculty of Arts shall be apportioned between the University and University College as follows:—

"In the University instruction shall be given in Mathematics, Physics, Astronomy, Geology, Mineralogy, Chemistry, Biology, Physiology, History, Ethnology, Comparative Philology, Italian, Spanish, History of Philosophy, Psychology, Logic, Metaphysics, Education, Political Science, including Political Economy, Jurisprudence and Constitutional Law, and Constitutional History, and in such other subjects as, from time to time, may be determined by Statute in that behalf.

"(2) In University College instruction shall be given in Greek, Latin, Ancient History, English, French, German, Oriental Languages and Ethics, and in such other subjects as may, from time to time, be determined by Statute in that behalf, but not in Theology."

Section 128 is as follows:—

"The subjects of instruction assigned by Section 127 of this Act to the University and University College, respectively, shall not be transferred from the one to the other except by the direction of the Board, and no such direction shall be made unless with the consent of the federated Universities."

Section 129 is as follows:—

"(1) The curriculum in Arts of the University shall include the subjects of Biblical Greek, Biblical Literature, Christian Ethics, Apologetics, the Evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion and Church History, but any provision for examination and instruction in the same shall be left to the voluntary action of the federated Universities and Colleges, and provision shall be made by a system of options to prevent such subjects being made compulsory upon any candidate for a degree."

"(2) The options provided for by Sub-section 1 shall be evenly distributed over each year of the general or pass course, and, as far as practicable, over each of the honour courses."

14. It will be observed that Sections 127 and 129 of the Act of 1906 are clear in their application. Sub-section 1 of 127 is confined to the University. Sub-section 2 is confined to University College.
