Separate Beneficiary.

EDITOR CATHOLIC RECORD — Dear Sir and Brother.—I notice both in the inter view your reporter had with Grand Secretary Brown and the letter of Bro. Richardson, both of which appeared in your last issue, and in almost every letter or article that has been written the which therein referred to that on the subjects therein referred to, that a great deal of importance is attached to the expunging from our constitution of the so called separate beneficiary sections. It is quite true the Supreme Council slegally struck them out at their last convention, and have sires admitted convention, and have sires admitted their wrong-doing, and thus having made all the amends possible in this con made all the amends possible in his coumeetion, nothing mere should be said on the point. But it is asserted they have threatened to expunge them at next convention, and that if they do so an application for separate beneficiary cannot again be made. I think you will application for separate to the separate of th eferred to remain in the constitution or

And just here let me make a suggestion to those who are discussing the separate beneficiary question in the papers or out of them. The best results will be obtained if the question is discussed on its merits—without being hedged about with side in the papers of the issues-without references to who does sues—without references to who does or does not hold a supreme council office without nasty insinuations as to the conesty of the motives of those on one bonesty of the motives of those on one side or the other—without personalities of any kind. In a word, let us discuss separate beneficiary, and separate beneficiary only If this be done we may hope to arrive at some intelligent conclusion.

Yours fraternally, O. K. FRASER

C. M. B. A. Concert in Arthur. Arthur, May 1, 1891.
To the Editor of the Catholic Record:

To the Editor of the Catholic Record:

DEAR FIR—A highly successful concert, under the suspices of branch 47, of the C. M. B. A. was held in the drill shed, Arthur, on Tuesday evening, the 28th uit, and the members of the above branch have every reason to congratuate themselves on the result. They were determined to make this, their first concert, the best yet presented to an Arthur audience, and that they succeeded in doing so was shown by the luterest maintained by the audience to the close of the long programme and the unbounded applause which greeted the different performers. The large hall was well filled when shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. P. McKirby, President of the branch—who ably and efficiently discharged the dules of chairmau—opered the concert with a brief address, and introduced. which greeted the dilierent performers. The large hall was well filled when shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. P. McKirby, President of the branch—who ably and efficiently discharged the dules of chairman—opened the concert with a brief address, and introduced the Arthur orchestra, a musical organization which, although only recently established, would do credit to a much larger place than Arthur, and which added much to the evening's entertainment. Mr. Jas Fax, of Torono, the well-known humorous vocalist, was next introduced. This was Mr. Fax's first appearance in Arthur, and the tumultous applause which greeted his inimitable consracter songs showed how well ne was appreciated by the audience. His singing of the "Irish Jublies" fairly convulsed the house with laughter. Mr. Fax was recalled time and again, and responded with the utmost good nature. Miss Kate Strong, of Mount Forest, who is well known throughout the Province, and always a favorite with Arthur audiences, added, if possible, to her popularity as a vocalist here, by the manner in which she sang." A Bird From O'er the Sea." and other selections, and was repeatedly encored. A humorous duet by Miss Strong and Mr. Fax created vociferous applause, and gained for them a hearty recall. The accompaniments of Miss Birdie McCullough, of Mount Forest, who, in addition, rendered a piano solo, 'Grand March de Concert,'' in a style which won her the hearty plaudits of the audience, and which showed her to be, though young, an accomplished plaulist, for whom there awaits a brilliant future. Mrs. Jas. Kelleher and Miss Brandon, of Gue-lph, two of the Royal Citty's most popular vocalisis, rendered their different numbers in a manner which showed them to be talented musicians and which showed per land, and "Love's Golden Dream," by the former 'aday, and "Love's Golden Dream," by the latter, were exquisitely rendered, and the audience showed their different numbers in a manner which showed here is a favorite here by the manner in which he sang "No One to Welmons of Dreawin the surrounding district combined to make the celebration of the fifth anniversary of the organization of Branch 30 of the Catholie Mutual Benefit Association a complete success in every sense. Representatives were present from Mentreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Deseronto, Gananoque, Prescott, Smith's Falls, Almonte, Morrisburg, Cornwall and Ogdensburg. In the morning the whole body assembled at the branch hall, formed in procession, and each wearing a white rose in his batton hole, marched to St. Francis Xavier church, where grand Masse was celebrated and a sermon presched by Rev. J. Collins, the curate. The choir, under the direction of Miss Branif, the organist, rendered in grand style, the Kyrie, Gloria and Cred from Mercadante's celebrated Mass and the Standus and Agous Def from Micart's Twelfin. Miss Carrie Branif sang in her until Standus and Agous Def from Micart's Twelfin. Miss Carrie Branif sang in her until Excellent manner Gounod's, Ave Marka, and Miss Webb was the other suicist the other numbers, her Et Incarnitus and Et Unam Sanctum being uncutaity good. After Mass the procession returned to the hall, and there disbanded for dinner.

In the afternoon the spacious rooms of the association were filed with those who responded to the invitation of the President to attend an open meeting, at which it was proposed to lay before those who were not already members of the association an explanation of its workings and alms.

Brother S. J. Geash, and, in a neat speech, introduced the various speakers.

Beated on the pixturer of St. Francis Xavier; Dr. J. A. MacCabe. of Ottawa, Grand President of the Grand Council Committee on Laws; Brother O. K. Fraser, Grand President Turber; Holland of Ogdensburg, N. Y., D beny of Montreal, O'Hara of Grand and Brothers Holland of Ogdensburg, N. Y., D beny of Montreal, O'Hara of Grand MacCabe was the first speaker, and in his usual polished and onto, Ryan of Smith's Falls, McDoneil of Cornwail, Delaney of Prescott, and Derosier of Morriburg.

Grand President MacCabe was the first speaker, and in his usual polished and scholarly style dealt with the C M B. A and its merits as a fraternal and insurance society. He was followed by Brothers Beehan and Dowdail, both of whom are more than ordinarily clever speakers, and seemed to be in unusually good humor for speechmaking. These, with Dr. MacCabe, went compleiely over the ground required to be covered in discussing the C. M. B. A and its effects, and seemed to create a most favorable impression on those present who were not members of the society. Short speeches followed by Rev. J. J. Collins and Brothers Gravelle, Holland, Reach and Fraser. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the visitors, moved by Brother D. W. Des ney, and seconded by Brother D. W. Des ney, and seconded by Brother W. Braniff, both of whom made brief and appropriate speeches.

The avening was devoted to an instruction or whom made brief and appropriate speeches.

The evening was devoted to an instruction meeting, at which all C. M. B. A. men attended. At this gathering full instructions were given in the detail work of the association and its branches and a couple of very pleasant hours spent in discussing society matters generally.

The visitors from Ogdensburg returned by boat in the evening and the others by the early morning trains, all seeming well pleased with the results of their visit to Brock ville.

Brock ville.

We do not know much about the C. M. B.
A. in other towns, but we can safely say that if all its branches are like Brockville's 43, and conduct themselves and manage their business as it does, we can commend the association to those who are eligible for membership therein.

The above is taken from the Brock ville Recorder of 27th ult., and we commend the action outlined therein to the consideration of the many branches that make no special effort to bring the asso-ciation before the public. The instruction meeting referred to as being held in the evening might well be followed by all branches. We are informed that the course pursued at this one was to have the efficials of Branch 43 conduct a meeting just as they ordinarily do, and the representatives of the thirteen different branches discussed the method of carrying out the rules laid down in the ritual and the procedure under each head ing of the order of business, and incident ally dealt with almost all points of asso-ciation and branch work. The result was that every branch represented, in-cluding 43, learned something which had not before received their attention. We would advise branches in the different districts to follow the course pursued by Brockville Branch, and feel assured they will be benefitted thereby.
The result will be a uniformity in Branch work, which unfortunately does not now exist in the C. M. B. A. to the extent

it should.

As a result of Branch 43's celebration a large number of applications for mem-bership have already been made, and its members will soon be over one hun-

DEATH OF MR. JAMES MURBOCH.

On Thurday, 29:h ult., Mr. Jame: Murdoch, of Ingersoli, died at his late residence, at the advanced age of eighty-seven years, after a lingering illness of three years and seven months. He passed away gradually, as if from the natural decay which accompanies old age, having manifested during his illness heroic Christian resignation. Mr. Murdoch was born in 1804 at Well Hende, Bauffebire, Scotland. He was Heads, Baufichre, Scotland. He was one of a family of seven, five soin and two daughters, of whom a elster of deceased still survives.

One of his brothers was the Right Rev.

Pishop John Murdoch, the third Vicar-Apostolic of the Western district of Scot-Apostolic of the Western district than his land, who was eight years older than his brother James. He was consecrated brother James. He was consecrated Bishop in 1833, four years after the pass ing of the Catholic Emancipation Act, having been chosen for this office by Pope Gregory XVI., so that upon him devolved in a great measure the re organization of the Catholic Church in Scotland on the repeal of the cruel penal laws under which Catholics had been suffering in the Brit ish isles for three centuries. During Bishop Murdoch's occupancy of his See he opened fifty-seven churches in var-ious parts of his diocese, founded the first convent in Glasgow since the first convent in Glasgow since the Reformation, besides many other convents, and the Glasgow Catholic Orphan Asylum, which has been since its establishment, in 1853, the means of saving thousands of children to the Catholic faith, and of making them useful members of society. He also established numerous Catholic schools, devoting his great energy and zeal to this noble work.

Bishop Murdoch died in 1865.

Mr. James Murdoch, the recently deceased, came to Canada fifty-seven years ago, and resided in Ingersoil fity-one years. He was the first Catholic in the town, and in his house the first Mass was celebrated in Ingersoil. He was one of the most active and energetic workers for the building of the first church erected in the town, and many years later for the crection of the present handsome structure, and indeed, he was prominent in every good and charitable work in connection with religion. He was at one time a member of the Municipal Council of Ingersoil, and afterwards became of Ingersoll, and afterwards became collector of taxes, a position which he filled with integrity for twenty-one years. He was universally re-spected and beloved for his sterling worth and kindliness of characters and spected and beloved for his sterling worth and kindliness of character, and the high esteem in which he was held was attested by the large concourse of affectionate friends who attended his funeral from all parts of the county of Oxford, as well as from the town.

On Saturday High Mass was celebrated for the repose of Mr Murdooh's soul by Rev. M. J. Brady, P. P. of Woodstock, assisted by Rev. M. J. Tiernan, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, London, and Rev. G. R Northgraves, editor of the CATHO LIC RECORD. Father Tiernan read the Gospel of the funeral Mass and preached Gospel of the luneral Mass and preached from that text an impressive discourse, in which he dwelt teelingly upon the virtues of the deceased and urged upon his hearers the necessity of leading, like him, a Christian life that they may secure a happy death — the death of the just, which is declared in Holy Scripture to be a blessed thing.

BUYING CONVERTS.

To the Editor. - Dear Sir-Several articles have recently appeared in the press stating that the Catholic missionaries are in the habit of giving money and clothing to the Indians, as an in-ducement to become members of the Caurch. I desire to state that there is no truth whatever in these stories. It is not in this fashion we labor to make converts. Such methods are not ours. I cannot conceive how persons who desire to be known as gentlemen, even reverend gentlemen, will stoop so low as to wilfully misrepresent those who entertain towards them no ill-will. Such slanders, I grieve to state, are not new to slanders, I grieve to state, are not new to us. We have to bear many trials and hardships in our task of bringing souls to the fold of Christ. We are willing to continue the good work in our humble way, hoping and praying that God will bless our labors with abundant fruit. But how disheartening is it to find people who call themselves Christians ad methods of warfare against us that would bring the blush of shame to many pagan Indians! Some of these poor people, outside the pale of civilization and without the knowledge of Christ, have a natural love of truth, while so called Christians, on the other hand, seem to feel no sense of responsibility or shame when speaking of Catholic missionaries. The command "Thou shalt not bear false The command witness against thy neighbor "seems to have no meaning when the neighbor happens to be a Catholic priest, "Lie! Lie! some of it will stick," would appear to be their rule of conduct in their dealings with us.

Very truly, dealings with us. Very truly,

FROM WINGHAM.

The Catholic people of this mission on last Sunday had the gratification of assisting at High Mass, the choir from St. Augustine having kindly given their services. The pastor, Rev. Father Mcdee, preached a very instructive zermon, which will be productive of much spiritual fruit amongst the few but taunch Catholic residents of the mission. Vespers were sung at 7 o'clock, when Father McGee again preached. The Father Motes again presented. In singing of the choir added very much, as in the morning, to the attractiveness of the service. The church was filled on both occasions. The ladies of the congregation had the altar decorated in a most beautiful manner with natural flowers.

HIGH MASS IN PEEL.

Sunday, April 26 h, High Mass was for the first time celebrated in the Catholic church of Peel, a parish under the care of Arthur pasiors. The Mass was sung by the curate, Rev J J. Donnelly. He also delivered a very eloquent sermon, in which he had special reference to the ducies and interest Catholics should take in decorating the House of God. above remarks were very suitable for the occasion, as previous to this event great improvements were made in the interior of the church, mainly due to the energy displayed by the young curate. Great energy, perseverance and zeal formance of both spiritual and temporal duties. May the blessing of God attend him in his future career, and that he may be spared and remain our spiritus adviser for years is the prayer and wish of all.
