Miss Mande Addison left Aihens on Monday for New York, where she will have her throat treated by an eminent specialist. The many admirers of her elecutionary ability will join with us in hoping that a permanent cure may be effected.

Just arrived, at G. W. Beach's, the largest stock of silk and fancy handkerchiefs ever shown in Athens, and nothing more suitable for a Christmas present.

It is rumored that there will be fund at the nominations on the 28th inst. This is washing day for Athens and we hope that the work will be done so thoroughly that there will be nogrumbling next year. Soveral charges, more or less grave, have been made against public servants, and these charges should be dealt with fully and satisfactorily at or before this meeting. Let there be light.
