

Gleaned by the Way.

You are right, Cordelia! to day will be yesterday to morrow. It isn't because a man is stingy that he keeps his promise. It takes an exceptionally smooth confidence man to sell mining stock to a miser. And the way of the modern prophet is to say 'I told you so' after the event has occurred.

Necessary for the Family. If health is to be maintained there must be a hand in every household a medicine which can be positively relied upon to regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have proved their right to first place in this regard and already hold a secure position in the great majority of homes.

A dyspeptic is a man who feels a profound hatred for the people who are enjoying themselves.

There ought to be a plank in every political platform guaranteed to give the candidate a walk-over.

A tickling or dry cough can be quickly loosened with Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. No opium, no chloroform, nothing unsafe or harsh. Sold by all dealers.

The man who is aware of his ignorance knows a whole lot more than some people, and he stands a better chance of making good.

'Convicted' exclaimed the prisoner in disgust. 'Well, I'm not surprised. My lawyer made a fool of himself. I tried to represent you faithfully,' remarked the lawyer, mildly.—Judge

Madam—O, professor, don't you think my dear little Reginald will ever learn to draw?

Professor Cryson—No, madam; not unless you harness him to a truck.

Mother—And when he proposed, did you tell him to see me?

Daughter—Yes, mamma; and he said he seen you several times, but he wanted to marry me just the same.—The Sphinx.

To Have a Beautiful Skin. About one sixth of all the waste matter discharged from the human body passes out through the pores of the skin. If the skin is to be kept beautiful the pores must be kept in a healthy condition by washing and by use of Dr. Chase's Ointment which overcomes all itching and irritation of the skin and cures pimples, eruptions and the many forms of eczema.

'Do you consider a college training an advantage?'

'Unquestionably yes. At the same time some of our best ball players have learned the game on back lots.'—Louisville Courier Journal.

Janie began Mrs. Newland timidly. I don't suppose—er—that you would—er—object to my getting an alarm-clock? 'Not at all, ma'am,' replied the sleepy maid. 'Them things never disturb me at all!'

Mrs. Blunder has just received a telegram from India. 'What an admirable invention the telegram is!' she exclaimed, 'when you come to consider that this message has come a distance of thousands of miles, and the gun on the envelope isn't dry yet.'

A teacher in a board school was examining a class of small smart boys in mental arithmetic. She said, 'If your father gave you another year to-day and £2 to-morrow, what would she have?'

'Lor, ma'am,' replied a little boy near the bottom of the class, 'she would have a fit.'

Apples cored for baking are delicious filled with orange marmalade and a little butter and sugar.

To freshen blue serge, sponge it with blue water. Afterward hang the garment in the air to dry.

When boiling eggs observe that there is no grease on the whisk, as it will prevent the eggs from frothing.

Try a little lemon and salt mixed the next time a price mark sticks to the bottom of china dishes or brick-a-brac.

Chestnuts have considerable food value. The boiled and masked pulp may be used as one may use meat or vegetables, even croquettes being made of it.

When making a flour paste to apply to wall paper add some dissolved alum. The alum not only makes the starch hold better, but it will kill any insects in the walls.

To skim grease from soup in a hurry use square sheets of clean tissue paper on the surface of the soup. Lay them on one at a time, lift off lightly and every bit of fat comes off.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost.

And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and falling nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity fail. This plan, yet vital truth, clearly explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful in success leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by all dealers.

The ninth annual meeting and convention of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other forms of tuberculosis is to be held in Hamilton on Wednesday and Thursday, May 19 and 20 next.

The morning of the first day will be devoted to the reading of reports and the appointment of committees. In the afternoon Dr. White of Pittsburg sanatorium will deliver an address on 'The Duty of Municipalities in Reference to Tuberculosis.' In the evening of the same day his worthy wife will deliver an address of welcome after which Dr. Adam of Montreal will speak on a subject which ought to command attention, How One Can Do Most Good in Arresting Tuberculosis at the Smallest Outlay.

The topic set down for general discussion during the forenoon of the day is 'The Duty of the People to Toward the Movement for the Extinction of Consumption.' Hon. Adam Beck, Mr. Downey, M. P. P., Dr. Fagan of Victoria, B. C., Dr. Geo. D. Foster, and a number of others, both physicians and laymen, are expected to take part in the discussion of this subject.

On Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the meeting will adjourn to the Mountain sanatorium to attend a reception given by the ladies of Hamilton. Not the least interesting part of the program is the visit to the sanatorium, when it will be seen how much can be done for the treatment and cure of consumption at a moderate cost. The success of the Mountain sanatorium should furnish an object lesson well worthy of the study of municipalities contemplating action for the reduction of tuberculosis in their own neighborhoods.

A book on Rheumatism, and a trial treatment of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets—is being sent free to sufferers by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. He will appreciate your aid.

Some palates demand a diet of meat. They crave animal food at all times. Now meat is a good thing in its way, but it panders to nervousness more than any other food. It does not produce activity of the right kind. Chicken is healthy and soothing, and taken with plenty of eggs, good milk, cooked fruit and vegetables it gives enough force to the system. If the palate demands meat it may be eaten once a day without harm. It should be simply and well cooked; it should not be degenerated in stimulating spices, sauces, etc.

The tender leaves of a harmless long-leaved mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its marvellous curative properties. Tight tickling or distressing coughs quickly yield to the healing, soothing action of this splendid prescription—Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so safe and good for children, as well. Containing no opium, chloroform or other harmful drugs, mother's should, in safety, always demand Dr. Shoop's—If other remedies are of no avail, tell them No! Be your own judge! Sold by all dealers.

THE BEST REMEDY For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bellefleur, Ont.—'I was so weak and worn out from a female weakness that I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do a good day's work as I ever did, sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and an exceedingly grateful to you for your kind letters, as I certainly profited by them. I give you permission to publish this any time you wish.'—Mrs. ALBERT WICKERT, Bellefleur, Ontario, Canada.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will cure female weakness and so successfully carry women through the Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 20 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female illness—Inflammation, ulceration, displacements, abortive tumors, irregularities, periodic pain, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

From the Tiger's Den.

In the Indian meeting when we were on duty before the enemy occasionally, we put our ears to the ground and listened to hear—if we could—the enemy approaching. I have had my ear to the ground lately and report the following: The tiger said to her cub one evening: 'My cub, I am going to tell you a story to sharpen your appetite while I wait for the right time to go and get your supper. In the world that you have not seen yet, there are a great many two-legged creatures who call themselves men, a number of them have been after me all day to kill me, they are engaged by a white man to do this, as he says he wants my skin to take home with him to his country, he says I am a man killer therefore I should be killed. He is now sitting upon a tree some distance from here in the jungle; and he got some of the natives round here by paying them money, for nothing is done among these poor creatures without money; to fasten a goat near the tree he is up in, and he thinks that I will go and get it and he will kill me with his shooting stick that he has up the tree beside him. This white two-legged creature is from a place called Canada and he gets his money, for he is considered very wealthy there, from making a stuff that he calls alcohol, a great many of these silly creatures are very fond of it and give him all the money they have or can get by begging or stealing. When they drink it, it makes them what they call angry, their heads seem to get too heavy and they stagger round and are not able to stand up. I have killed some of these creatures round here when they were like that, although there are not so many such silly creatures round as in the country where he comes from. Then they fall down drunk as they call it, they are much easier killed than a goat or a donkey, but they smell bad; and when they use tobacco as well they smell very bad and don't taste nice, but if I can get my paws on this white man I will soon find the smell of him. As I told you, he says he has come to kill me because I am a man killer, but he poisons more in a day with his alcohol than I could kill in a year. He has many traps all over the towns and countries where he comes from to tempt the silly creatures in to think this stuff that first robs them of what little head of reason they have, and then they want more, more, and he wants more, more money, and they starve their cubs and sometimes starve and kill them when they are crazy with this stuff. These silly creatures that call themselves men often appoint themselves wise men, often appoint themselves men who make this poison to help to make their laws for them, because they are wealthy and have what they call a pull, on account of having so much money, and they, of course, help to make laws that these poor men more and be considered very great men. Then when some of the sinner people want to close up some of these man traps they set a great howl that that is robbery 'and should not be allowed. They say these people that want to close up their traps are robbers, that is a word they use when they want to make it appear that the persons are crazy, and should not be listened to, and should be put out of the way. They need at one-time to kill the people they set their man traps for, so they set a fire till they were dead, but now I believe they call these people that were rounded for debt, robbery and man-killers. That is the kind of silly people they are. They claim that they are creatures that reason and say that we brute creatures 'only have instinct, but we are not silly enough to drink the alcohol which this white man makes for me to come. He has some of his alcohol with him and drinks a little now and again to keep his courage up, poor creature, he has not very much of it, but that will muddle those wonderful brains of his and presently he will go to sleep. Then I will go and bring the goat for your supper, and perhaps himself, too, if he should fall off the tree. That would be the right kind of compensation to me for his coming here and trying to kill me. He and his creatures that he hires to sell his poison in their man traps raise a great howl when the venator try to close up any of the traps and cry that they ought to get compensation if that is done. My instinct tells me that all these traps should be closed up, and these men who make a business of making and selling poison, should be given to be set out their money given to the cubs of those they have poisoned. These creatures say that they 'wallow' in the Creator, but he made us, gave us strength, courage, cunning, an appetite, and placed us here where we can use it, but he did not tell these two-legged creatures to make stuff to poison, and make paupers and idiots of their fellow creatures. They have to build immense big cages all over the country he comes from to hold these crazy creatures in; who are made crazy by alcohol which this creature and others have become wealthy in selling. He is going to sleep now and I will go and get your supper. —N. R. Messinger.

Continued from first page. These creatures were scarcely any science which Gault had really uttered; it consisted entirely of a series of bitter and derisive comments upon Gault and his movement. He was described as a man whose conversion to spiritual ideas was so recent that most reasonable persons would be cautious in accepting the conversion as genuine. Everyone knew that any attraction he had exerted was based solely upon an reputation which he had been able to build up for literary scholarship, and it was probable that he knew a great deal more about Browning than he did about the old Gospel of Jesus Christ. What men wanted was the old Gospel, pure and unadulterated, and Gault had never yet given any evidence of loyalty to the old, old Gospel, which alone was able to make men wise into salvation. He had not only failed in his own church, and it was not until that failure was evident and humiliating that he had suddenly posed as a religious reformer. Again all reasonable men would be extremely slow to accept as a new religious leader one who had not been able to retain the loyalty of his own congregation. As for the House of Joy, it was a fantastic name for a fantastic and illogical social adventure. It would end, as all other schemes for community life had ended, in failure, and probably in disgrace. It was quite evident that Gault's mind was slightly unbalanced, and that the present notoriety which he had attained was not favorable to his recovery. It had, now, become an adventure who preyed upon the credulity and fanaticism of weak-minded Christian people.
