A tribute to those who have lived among us and given their all that the nation may live

To those of you who have said good-bye and casting all else aside, have followed the path of a principle that you knew was just, the personnel of this Calgary Hudson's Bay Company, extends the utmost in felicitations and hearty wishes for your return whole and sound to Alberta.

That you are playing your part in the drama now being waged in the interests of the rights of all nations to live, that you will merit all and more than we can say here, is to be expected.

To serve and care for those you have left behind—to make this Canada West a better spot to live in when you return. These are the objects to which our present labors are dedicated.
