that the Royal Gazette, when published by me, was conducted with a little consideration for private feeling and as little consideration for private character, as have characters and its editorial columns since it passed into the hands of Mr. Whelan. I cannot, therefore, I think, justly be censured for presuming to notice, through the public press, in the most temperate and respectful manner, for the purpose of correction, Your Excellency's apparent misapprehension on this subject—a misapprehension which, if it really existed in Your Excellency's mind, can have been induced by nothing but the most unscrupulous misrepresentations on the part of Your Excellency's confidential advisers.

RECREATION GROVE,
Dec. 12th, 1853.
Sir,
I beg to acknowledge receipt of the sum of £20 being the amount insured with "The Mutual Fire Insurance Company" on one of my Cottages in the Royalty lately destroyed by fire. The promptitude which has been manifested in paying my demand after a careful investigation into the matter, has inspired me with a further assurance of the benefit derived from "The Mutual Insurance Company"—I feel well satisfied that it will become one of the most beneficial institutions in the country, and being one among its earliest promoters, I have much pleasure in its prosperity.

I am Sir, Your most obt. servant,
JAMES D. HASZARD.
To Henry Palmer, Esquire, Secretary and Treasurer, Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

We have much pleasure in giving insertion to the letter from Rastico, signed "A Friend to Improvement." The establishment of a School Library—the first, if we mistake not, in the Island—is creditable both to the people of Rastico and the master of the school, Mr. Roberts; and we trust will prove but a beginning of one of the greatest aids to the education of the people that can well be devised, and that School Libraries will be as common as they deserve to be, throughout the Island.
