Feildians Defeat Collegians.

Before a goodly gathering of spectators, the Collegians and Feildians contested on St. George's Field last evening. The line up of the teams were:

Feildians — Goal, Ralcy; backs, Rendell, White; halves, Strong, Bernard, Rowsell; forwards, Lush, Wood, Pinsent, C. Rendell, Winter.

Collegians — Goal, Warnell; backs, G. Ayre, A. Ayre; halves, Pike, E. Barnes, H. Barnes; forwards, G. Rabbits, Barrett, Squires, E. Ayre, Maddock.

At the outset the Feildians, who displayed good combination, rushed matters and kept their opponents back division busy defending. The Collegians were in bad form, and their forwards seemed to lack practice. The Feildians made a number of vigorous attacks through which they scored two goals, Pinsent being responsible for both of them. But for the excellent defence put up by E. Barnes and the Ayre brothers, the Collegians would have met a worse defeat.

So far the Feildians have played their League matches and won each of them. They have an excellent combination of players and will make a bold bid for the championship.

A Fan's Complaint.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In reading the press accounts of our various sports and pastimes it amuses me very much to see announced that "MR. So-and-So" was umpire and "MR. Who-Was-It" official scorer. The same thing applies to the spectator at the first Baseball match. It was "Now, Mr. Angel, SIR," "Hit it hard, MR. Morris, SIR," while the next batter up (a local) would be greeted with "Go it young Smithie." Surely, this is a free country, and if men of forty or fifty present themselves to the spotlight of the public they should surely not be expected to be "mistered" and "sired" during the progress of a ball game. Whoever heard of Dr. W. G. Grace (the famous cricketer) or Christie Mathewson (the world-renowned baseballer), being known with the social prefix? Of course, while pursuing their business avocations or in private life, it is nothing but right that they should get the respect and courtesy due them, but when they get on the diamond it should be a fond farewell to these empty titles.

With your kind permission, Mr. Editor, I will from time to time make a few comments on this famous game of baseball, which from appearances has come to stay with us.

Yours truly,
W. THE FAN.

Summer Skin Troubles.

Sunburn, blistering, and irritation are the commonest form of summer skin troubles, and Zam-Buk ends these very quickly. It works in two ways. As soon as applied, its antiseptic powers get to work and kill all the poison in a wound, a sting or a sore. This generally ends the smarting and the pain. Then Zam-Buk begins the healthy process, and fresh healthy tissue is built up. For sore, blistered feet, sore hands, heat rash, baby's heat spots, sore places due to perspiration, etc., you can't equal Zam-Buk. It also cures cuts, ulcers, abscesses, piles, and all inflamed and diseased conditions of skin and sub-jacent tissue. Druggists and stores everywhere sell Zam-Buk, 50c. box. Use Zam-Buk Soap also, 30c. per tablet. All stores, or Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld.

Brigus Art Exhibition.

On Monday last the town of Brigus was quite enlivened by the holding of an Art Exhibition here for the first time in its history. The day being fine, hundreds of school children came trooping into town during the afternoon from all the schools at Cupids, Clarke's Beach, Turk's Gut, the Gullies, etc., to see the sight. At night the splendid hall of the Methodist Academy presented a most animated scene as the residents promaded around inspecting the fine array of over a thousand pictures by American and Newfoundland schools, or sat listening to the music furnished at intervals by the Misses Bartlett, Thompson and Rabbits.

At 8 p.m., Capt. Wm. Bartlett took the chair, being supported by Rev. Dr. Murphy, Parish Priest, Rev. Mr. Field, rector of the Parish, also Prof. Nichols and Mr. Winter. (Rev. R. H. Maddock, Methodist Minister, was unavoidably absent.)

The chairman warmly endorsed the effort that was being made to encourage the study of drawing in our schools, and regretted that it had not been taught him. It would have been so useful in so many ways.

Prof. Nichols followed in an impromptu speech intended specially to answer many enquiries made to him during the day about the pictures, and wound up by a strong appeal to parents and teachers on the value of drawing.

Rev. Dr. Murphy spoke of the pleasure it gave him to be present at such an excellent exhibition, and to do all in his power to aid such a praiseworthy effort. Brigus ought to be deeply grateful, as the exhibition would arouse interest in education generally.

Rev. Mr. Field heartily supported the exhibition too. He spoke of the good done by exhibitions in other lands and incidentally gave some humorous experiences of his own at home and on the continent. Brigus was making a good beginning; they should go on. He hoped the children would persevere with the drawing.

After the presentation of a prize to Miss Clarke of the Methodist Academy, the audience resumed its inspection of the pictures. The exhibition closed at 10 p.m. by singing the National Anthem.—Com.

Municipal Matters.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Referring to my letter of a previous date, which appeared in your esteemed paper, and in which I dealt with municipal matters, I have learned that some officials of the Council are blamed for furnishing me with information as to the inside workings of that body, and that as these officials may be injured by my remarks, I must emphatically state that this contention is absolutely untrue. Whilst I hold no brief for any of the Council officials, I consider it my duty to inform those interested that I have not received my information from them, then, now or at any time. I wrote solely in the interest of justice and not with the intention of injuring any person. But why this secrecy of the Municipal Council, and why should any information be withheld from the public, as it is the public business, some of which demanded attention, notably the Casey Street arbitration, which in the absence of the Mayor, and by the intervention of Councillor Mullaly, had it held over until the return of the Mayor, when it was brought forward again. After receiving due consideration it was decided that the taking over of such property was absolutely unnecessary, and not calculated to be for the best interests of the city. Referring again to this secrecy of municipal matters, I would like to ask what if the officials did give information to any citizen on public matters, would they not deserve praise, instead of censure?

Thanking you Mr. Editor, for space in your widely circulated paper,

I remain,

Respectfully yours,

FRED FITZPATRICK.

Rossley Star Theatre.

There was a very good attendance at Rossley's last night. The Lorraine Buchanan Co. still retains the popularity they won at the beginning of their engagement, every sketch being new and high class. On Monday will be seen one of Miss Buchanan's very best acts. This act is the same in every detail as given in Keith & Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, Broadway, New York City, and show this talented artist at her best. Billy DeVan, the actor singer, is still holding his own and is without doubt, one of the best singers to appear here. He sings new songs that will be a pleasure to listen to in Monday's production. There is a special matinee to-day.
