Gallery of Methodism.

Portrait of the King Unveiled at the Central Hall.

A portrait of King George was unveiled recently at the Central Hall, Westminster, the headquarters of the Wesleyan Methodists.

Sir Robert Perks, in presenting the picture to the trustees, said he thought this was the first time in the history of the Methodist Church that the portrait of any reigning monarch had been presented and hung by anyone of the public buildings of Methodism.

They already had promises of portraits of four men who had been chief magistrates in their time of the United States of America, and who belonged to the Methodist Church. General Grant was one, and President McKinley was another. Canada could not boast of one Methodist Prime Minister, and it was up to some Canadian to present a portrait.

Rev. P. L. Wiseman, President of Conference, in accepting the portrait, said they wished to express their appreciation of the gracious act of the King in sitting for a portrait that he knew was to hang on the wall of that building. A George was on the throne when Methodism began its course, and it was a fitting thing that the first King to allow a portrait to be placed on the walls of a Methodist building should be a George.

The portrait which was painted by Mr. Malcolm Stewart, shows His Majesty in the uniform of an Admiral of the Fleet.

Alexander Day Result

£18,291 for Charity Through the Little Wild Rose.

London, July 3.—The Lord Mayor, as chairman of the Administrative Committee for "Alexander Day," announces that £18,291 was collected in the various districts.

For a single-day collection the sum realized is remarkable, and it is eloquent testimony both to the affectionate regard of the people for Queen Alexandra and to the hold which her "day" has immediately taken upon the public. Last year's Alexander Day (the first celebrated) produced nearly £13,000, a sum which the second collection has exceeded by more than £5,000.

In other words, a total well in excess of £30,000 has been secured for charitable purposes in two years through the "Little Alexandra" wild roses.

Guards' Charity Tattoo

Queen Alexandra, the Dowager

Emperors of Russia, Princess Victoria and Princess Henry of Battenburg, were present at the second torchlight tattoo by the Brigade of Guards in the Chelsea Hospital grounds recently. The King and Queen had been present the previous evening, but there was a greater attendance on Saturday, 10,000 people being in the ground and a couple of thousand outside when the gates had to be closed. The Guards' School for the Daughters of Soldiers, on whose behalf the tattoo was held, will benefit considerably.

The scene was most impressive, and the massed bands, probably played the famous "1812" as well as it has never been played. At the end, as Abide With Me, was struck up, the torches slowly went out, the last leaving the amphitheatre in ghostly gloom as the "Amen" was concluded. Lieut. C. W. O'Connor played a large part in the success, which attended the spectacle.

Preacher Cool in White Togs.

Chicago, Ill., July 3.—The Rev. Arthur J. Francis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Englewood, defied church tradition yesterday by appearing in the pulpit dressed entirely in white. There was almost a gasp from the congregation when he stepped on the platform. The preacher appeared comfortable in a temperature of 83, while many members in Prince Alberts and stiff Sunday gowns fanned vigorously. After the sermon, the Rev. Francis said he thought the conventional heavy black coat and stiff collar were nonsense. He said his costume permitted him to "deliver a sermon in a better sermon" in hot weather.

Burned to Cinders.

Meaford, Ont., July 3.—On Wednesday morning, fire broke out here in the large elevator controlled and owned by the Meaford Elevator Co., and the huge building, with its contents was reduced to a mass of smouldering ruins. The cause of the fire is believed to have originated in the leg, and followed the belting through the entire building. The fire swept along the dock, destroying large piles of lumber and coal owned by the Saleman-Rent Company and Mr. F. C. Smith.

In the elevator were about 100,000 bushels of grain chiefly wheat, and oats in transit to Richardson of Kingston, and unloaded from the Westford, which left the harbor shortly after nine o'clock on Tuesday night. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Dr. Frank Smith said Benson's heart was twice its normal size, and death was probably accelerated by shock caused by the dog's death. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Fisher Sold Out in Getting Govt. Job.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. During the course of the debate in the Commons, a lively passage at arms occurred. It was stated by a member who inquired if Churchill's disclaimer extended to the members of the Government.

The explanation of the question was given by Mr. Churchill, who said that he had heard of Archer Shee, Unionist, said there was a good foundation for rumors as would come out later, and referred to investments of certain members in oil, intimating that an investment had been made on behalf of Liberal party funds. Churchill then pressed him to give the names, but he declined. Churchill then stated that Fisher, before becoming Chairman of the Admiralty Oil Commission, held a large number of oil shares, but sold them all at a loss.

Lost to Stars

IN HARD FOUGHT GAME.

The most exciting game for the season was witnessed on St. George's Field last evening. The opposing teams were the Stars and Feildians. The championship depended on the result, consequently there was a large gathering of spectators present in spite of the unpleasant weather.

Feildians—Goal, Raley; backs, Hewitt, Rendell; halves, Rowse, Tait, Strong; forwards, Winter, C. Rendell, Pleasant, Lush, White.

Stars—Goal, Clare; backs, Dunn, Hart; halves, T. Duggan, W. Duggan, Kavanagh; forwards, Power, Brien, Murphy, Morgan, Caul.

At the opening the Feildians became aggressive and kept the Stars back division busy in defending. Tait and Rendell made two hard tries but could not find the net.

After about fifteen minutes playing the Stars started the attack and Raley was called upon to save several shots which he did splendidly. The Stars continued to bombard at the Feildian goal and just before half time Caul landed the leather in the net.

On changing ends the Feildians settled down with a vim and determination and for a while had the best of the game. A foul was given to win. Hart placed the ball and Rendell headed in the equalizer. This enlivened matters and both teams put forward their best efforts to win. Power secured the ball and sent it to Raley who in saving gave a corner from which Caul again succeeded in beating Raley.

On resuming the Feildians made a splendid dash and came within an ace of scoring the equalizing goal. The final whistle sounded giving the victory to the Stars by two goals to one. The Stars have to play the Casuals next week and if they will become the holders of the championship cup.

The Coming Election Contest

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—The fishery to date has not been had every trap secured over a hundred quintals and many have gone over the two hundred mark.

Small boats have done very well of caplin bait but the past two weeks much has been done with hooks and lines.

I have been reading the reports sent in from time to time to Board of Trade and I notice our learned (?) Sub-Committee has sent in a report from Pol-Latina to Cape St. Mary's, his report of course includes all the fish caught on this stretch of coast, but with the men who are fishing in schools on these grounds return home the catch will be counted again under the heading of schooners from fish grounds which will certainly mix matters up somewhat.

Capt. Tom is always aiming at things and were it not that his presumption outweighs his brains would be a leading light in social as well as marine circles.

I note the remark of your correspondent "Fools step in where angels fear to tread."

I note the remarks of your correspondent re advice on nautical questions, but catering to one man is very noticeable now in this district. It is but the policy of a dying government in raising the pay in certain government positions when more competent men can be got for the original salary.

I assure you, Mr. Editor, that people of this Bay are alive to the situation and that the friendship discarded politicians want count much in the coming contest.
