And It Rained

'Tis known that, 'en the heavens wept,
What time the gentleman relict
"Our Premier" came to town.
No hand or bannered crowd appeared,
No volley boomed, or heeler cheered,
But oh, the rain came down.

The streets he entered showed a frost,
As if resenting to be crossed.
By one whose voice they knew,
But recently proclaiming shame
Unholy to the "graffers" name,
And all that such could do.

Yet we have missed you Richard, dear,
As nations miss a great Premier
In crises stress sublime.
Your White Nap Government is slain,
And like their regulation fish
'Tis ever prone to slime.

Yes Richard, prone to slime, and so
Procure your whitewash brush and go
To work with might and main.
And may be, 'twas, you will succeed
(That is if Bill allows the deed)
To look at equal again.

But it is more than looks we need
Our starving families to feed.
And bear it well in mind.
Our unsold fish is on our hands,
Our markets smashed and ruined in lands
Where purchasers we'd find.

And you have failed in all your boast
Of promises so lately loosed
Upon this suffering land.
You're but a tool, it seems to all
Ready to serve at every call
The "President's" command.

Then quit for good his masquerade
Of Premiership, this bun parade
Of mummery and humbug.
The "President" he is the great
"Poo Bah" that runs the Ship of State
And he who doubts it jokes.

PATCHES OF THIS TENOR?

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 5.—Owing to the falling markets and the general depression prevailing here, Newfoundland is faced with a serious shortage of flour this month, before its end. Imports have been smaller than usual and the shortage on November 30th, amounted to 40,000 barrels.

Included in the imports were large shipments from Montreal, and the closing of navigation from there last week will considerably reduce future shipments.

It is estimated that the shortage at the end of December will be about 100,000 barrels, as compared with normal years.

Distribution around the extensive seaboard of this colony after New Year's Day will be difficult, and some remote settlements will have but a meagre supply until spring.

King's Wonderful Ruby.

The history of England might be written round the gems that adorn the royal emblems. Place of honour in the front of the King's state crown is given to the great ruby, which is as large as a small hen's egg, and is the celebrated and historic jewel which first in its English history belonged to the Black Prince, the eldest son of Edward III. The ruby came to him in knightly fashion in the field of battle, being given to the Black Prince by Don Pedro, King of Castile, for skill shown in a short campaign in Spain. The ruby does not appear in history until it took part in the battle of Agincourt, when Henry V. went at the head of his troops with the ruby glittering on the front of his coroneted helmet. More than a century later, when Charles I. was beheaded, it was ordered by Parliament that all the insignia of royalty should be destroyed, and the gems set therein sold to the best advantage. In the list appears the statement that the great ruby was sold for £4 and passed to some unknown purchaser. "He may have been a Royalist in disguise or he may have been a dealer in stones, or this may have been a spurious deal to favour a Parliamentarian . . . but whether its adventures during the Commonwealth era, we find the ruby safe and sound back in the state crown of Charles II."
