WEEKLY REVIEW.

Receipts of grain were small this week, but probably quite equal to the same week a year ago. Farmers all around the city are busy haying and cutting wheat. General reports are quite satisfactory for both, the crop being quite heavy. Of course, wheat yields are only estimates, but it will only be a few weeks now until we know how these estimates turn out. Prices here for all kinds of grain remain the same as a week ago, oats showing a slight advance. The butter market has been quite active, and prices are much higher. Cakes sold on Tuesday at 16c, and pound rolls at 17c to 18c wholesale. Eggs held steady at 32c to 33c by the dozen.

Chickens, ducks and turkeys sold lower. The supply was no larger than usual, but the demand was smaller. Meats were steady, both in price and volume of trade. Hides have sold at 1 1/2c per pound higher all week, and closed steady at 56c, 66c, and 76c. There is considerable uncertainty of the uncertainty of the American tariff. Almost all the hides of Canada go there, we are unable to get any of any account being made here, and it is only natural that dealers should be anxious to see the duty question settled.

Wool was active, at the rate of No. 1, in fruit circles, the principal interest is now centered in raspberries and cherries. The former have come down considerably and are now selling at 6c to 6 1/2c per quart. Cherries seem scarce and are held firm at 6c to 6 1/2c per quart for red fruit, and the quantity, and 8c to 10c in small lots. The rest of the fruits are much the same.

Among the vegetables we note a decline in butter beans, new potatoes, cabbage and cucumbers, and an advance in good peas. New hay has sold remarkably well, some days went at $6.50, but at the usual price was $6.

Live chickens, ducks, and geese sold slow and at lower prices. Young pigs were hard to sell. No cows offered. See the following list for prices:
