Another workout of O. H. A. players get in the same group with London perwill be held in the Princess rink this evening. From now on, practices will be held in this rink on every Monday, be held in this rink on every Wednesday and Friday evenings.

"Stinger" Munro, who played with the local Intermediates last season, is in the West at present.

Ray Mallen, who was a member of the London Intermediates three winters ago when London went into the finals with Collingwood, wanted to come back and play in this city for this winter. He wrote the local management, but it was after the first of August and he would not have qualified under the residence rule.

Johnston, who played with Paris against London in the first game of the season here last winter, is with the Detroit Arena seven this winter. Johnston was a "ringer" when he played here, but the fact was not discovered until it was too late.

It is pretty near time the Methodist Hockey League organized. So far nothing has been heard from the association about the matter. With the bunch of players the Alpha Club has gathered, it would be a shame if there were no Methodist League. odist League.

At the meeting of the Manufacturers' League last Thursday evening, "Check" Parkinson stated that Hymans had only two hockey players, Johnny Farquhar and himself. Kind of modest of "Check," wasn't it?

Russ. Meyers will turn out with the Lawson & Jones team in the Manufacturers' League this winter. A Lawson & Jones team without Meyers on the line-up would appear as strange as roses growing on apple trees.

Manager John Evers is to make his home in Chicago the year round, so that he can take some of the details of looking after Cub business off the hands of President Murphy. At the recent meeting of the Cincinnati club stockholders the old board of direc-tors was elected, and a big season finan-cially reported, due to the spurt of the team in the early part of the year.
