Resolution Passed Against Direct Selling Methods of Manufacturers.

More than 10,000 Londoners saw the 'Made in London' exhibition, held in the Masonic Temple yesterday, according to estimates made last night by the officers of the Retail Grocers' Associa tion. The convention, which was at-tended by over 500 delegates from out-side points, in addition to Londoners, closed yesterday, after a three-day ses-sion. The exhibition will be continued today and this evening, because of the interest citizens are taking in the show, Yesterday was school children's day, and the crowds of people attracted to the exhibit thronged the entrance and lobby of the building last night and yes. terday afternoon by the hundred.
