MISS DAVIS SPEAKS

Plans Discussed To Assist Girl in Obtaining Secondary Education.

Several of the professional artists, who recently exhibited their pictures of Willow Hall, are donating pictures toward the art gallery that is being formed at the public library. Among those who have promised pictures are Miss Eva Bradshaw, Miss Farncomb. Mrs. Seeley-Smith. Fetherly-Hargitt. Mr. Templer. Ed. Glen. Mr. Hunt and Dr.

Plans for the new art gallery were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the Nicholas Wilson chapter, which is sponsoring the hanging of pictures in the library. Mrs. Russell was the hostess, entertaining the members at The chapter's day of meeting was changed to the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was a surprise by the hostess, who had composed clever little verses to her guests. They were quite delightful and greeted with much enthusiasm by the members.

At the conclusion of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

TRAFALGAR CHAPTER.

The members of the Trafalgar chapter, I.O.D.E., voted the splendid sum of $25 toward the Beck memorial fund at the regular meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Laughton, St. George street. Mrs. W. G. Bendle, the regent, was in the chair. Two dollars was also voted toward the Christmas tree for the War Memorial Hospital for sick children.

"Grandmamma Queen" we used to call her because our other grandmamma was Grandmamma Empress, my mother's mother.

Now Grandmamma Queen-Queen Victoria-is almost a legend. She had an extraordinary influence over her time, which was a time of greatness for England, a time of severely genteel deportment, of high virtue and strict morals. The early Victorian lady was a model of domestic virtues. The young girl was a blushing maiden who fainted at the right moment and who demurely pulled down her skirts when, with the help of her young man's arm, she elegantly stepped over a stile. If she were to meet her sister of today with her cropped head, her skimpy skirts about her knees, cigarette between
