

DEFENDER SAILED ALONE.

VALKYRIE WITHDREW, THE COURSE BEING BLOCKED.

It Was Durnaven's Turn to Protest, as the Cup Committee Could Not Keep Excessively Close—He Wanted the Race to Take Place Off Marble Head—Race's Fair Play.

New York, Sept. 12.—The decision of the Regatta Committee last night, sustaining Mr. Iselin's protest and awarding Tuesday's race to the Defender, left her only one more race to win to make the America's Cup safe for another year. It was thought here that Lord Durnaven, after hearing the decision, would refuse to start in any more races and take his boat back to England, but he proved to be too good a yachtsman for that.

The Defender has been given a new coat of light blue paint and her bronze hull was rubbed until it looked like burnished gold.

The Valkyrie did not show signs of starting for the course, but she was towed down the Narrows on her way to the starting line.

The probability of this being the last of the great international yacht races of 1895 brought out an immense fleet this morning, almost equal in number to the great gathering of last Saturday.

The preliminary signal was set at 10:55; preparatory at 11:10; start at 11:20. Before the starting gun was fired the course was entirely clear of boats, and the two racers had all the room possible to jockey in. There were no signs of making ready for the race aboard the Valkyrie, and the eyes of the throngs were anxiously turned towards her.

The start was made, Defender 11:20:24; Valkyrie 11:21:55.

Defender broke out her spinnaker immediately after crossing the line and went on with every inch of canvas stretched. Valkyrie, with mainsail and jib only, and at once hoisted protest flag, and headed back for Judge's boat. Valkyrie withdrew and went in tow of tender. Defender is keeping her course. The pilot boat, Fannie R. Williams, was in Valkyrie's way, directly in her course. The judge's boat now goes after the Defender.

The Defender finished at 4:04. The America's Cup Committee proclaimed C. O. Iselin their third race and the cup were awarded the Defender.

Durnaven objected to the course. Immediately after the race on Tuesday Lord Durnaven sent the following letter to the America's Cup Committee. It was made public last night:

"First—To attempt to start the race in this confined space and among moving masses of yachtsmen, in my opinion, exceedingly dangerous, and will not further the interests of the men or the ship.

"Second—At the start of the first race, the crowding was so great that we could not start. It was only after the Defender and we were near the line, and we were much hampered by steamers, especially on the race course.

"Today on the beach home, eight or nine steamers were within a few feet of us, and what was worse, a block of steamers were steaming level with us. I sailed nearly the whole distance with the Defender, and we were very heavy with these steamers. To race under these conditions is, in my opinion, a most dangerous and unwise thing to do.

"I would remind your committee that, for the sake of the race, it is better to forfeit the trophy than to have it won in a contest of this kind. I would therefore suggest that the race be postponed until the water is clear of yachtsmen, and the course is a wide open sea.

"I am, Sir, your obedient servant, Lord Durnaven."

Upon Valkyrie's arrival at Bay Ridge Mr. Glennie explained why the Valkyrie did not race to-day. He said:

"Lord Durnaven handed a letter written yesterday to A. Cass Campbell, secretary of the America's Cup Committee, with a request that it be not opened until after the decision in the Defender's protest. The substance of the letter was that Lord Durnaven did not think a fair course could be obtained off New York, and asked the committee to provide a course which could be kept clear of boats. He suggested Marble Head or some other place distant from New York City. He received no reply from the committee, and did not intend to race to-day. He would not have received a reply to his communication if Glennie was asked if Lord Durnaven had not found the course clear at the start to-day. He replied:

"Certainly, but how about all the rest of the races and the finish? We did not find the course clear at the start to-day. It is not fair to us to allow the race to go on under such conditions."

"The Regatta Committee of New York, Sept. 12.—A meeting of the Regatta Committee of New York was held at the Jockey Club yesterday. The committee was composed of Messrs. W. H. Wadsworth, J. W. Wadsworth, and J. W. Wadsworth. The committee was organized to provide a course which could be kept clear of boats. He suggested Marble Head or some other place distant from New York City. IS JAS. CORBETT A WRECK?

POMPADOUR JIM SAID TO BE A VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

The Champion Boxer Not in Good Health and Likely to Retire in Vicinity of Christmas—He Kept Himself Under Cover in Toronto, But His Looks While on the Baseball Field Were All Against Him.

Within the past two weeks the two greatest pugilists of the present era have visited the city. Pompadour Jim, who is looking for championship honors, was also at Hagan's Point on Labor Day as he sought to fight the battle of his life. At Dallas, Tex. And on Wednesday (Champion) Jim was seen at his home in Toronto. His muscles were all under cover, and while his general appearance showed him to be of sensitive physique, many were amazed at the sallowness in his face, and detected a falling away in his size. Thus they will again expect to see him in the ring with Philadelphia?

Friends of Pugilist James J. Corbett in the city are alarmed over a story circulated that the champion is not in good health, and that there is danger of his not being in good condition when he faces Scott Glasgow and Miss Peck. It is known that the Australian will get himself into the best possible condition, and that Corbett will do his best to win. He is expected to fight on the 27th of the month. A well-known doctor of this city, who saw Corbett a few days ago, states that he does not see anything like a well man, and that he is very thin. Corbett had a great deal of trouble in getting into the ring, and he is expected to be a victim of consumption.

The big fellow kept his arms in sleeves over the top of his head, and he was remarkably slow when contrasted with his usual speed. He was seen to be the urbius rator, and his best gait was a shuffle.
