 pounds of currants, one-third of a pound of finely shredded citron, one-third of an ounce each of cinnamon, nutmeg and mace, and a half teasspoonful of powdered cloves. Add these to the first mixture, and last of all a quarter of a gill of brandy.
 Beat the whole very thoroughly and bake in a slow oven three or four hours. Shredded, blanched almonds or chopped walnut meats may be added if desired.

 half pounds of seeded raisins. Add use in a few days.

CONTENTMENT
 I want you to remember That this is just December
 And that winter has a charm
 The weather may not pet us
 But nought should make it fret us
 And the snow will keep us warm.

The balmyness of June
 Would be sadly out of tune
 And nobody should want it
 The snappy, healthy weather, Should draw our souls together Dame nature seems to grant it.

The lassitude and sameness
 The weariness, and tameness, Might cloud our days with sorrow
 But changes are refreshing Although it keeps us guessing
 What we shall have tomorrow.

The mild, and temperate weather Steps in before the other And fits us for the freeze
 The scorching, and the freezing,
 Are bearable and pleasing
 When we get it by degrees.

Let Providence arrange it,
 We would not wish to change it But be happy in it all
 The summer has its sadness
 The winter, has its gladness
 And the beauty of the fall.

With pleasantness engaging,
 When biting storms are raging King Zero's not demented Or welled, weak, and sweating, When torrid suns we're getting,
 Let's always be contented.

In every dispensation
 There is a compensation
 That we can't afford to lose Spring, summer, fall, and winter,
 Should never hear a whimper
 When their comforts we can use.

Dec. 6, 1924, W. B. Laws, Watford.

Miller's Worm Powders do not need the after-help of castor oil or any purgative to complete their thoroughness, because they are thorough in themselves. One dose of them, and they will be found palatable by all children, will end the worm trouble by making the stomach and bowels untenable to the parasites. And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influences in the digestive organs.
