The Hurt Family

From Miss Hastings, of Crosskill, Ontario, of the Wellesley Institute, comes an extremely interesting paper with the above title:

Along the path of a useful life, Will heart's-ease ever bloom; The busy mind has no time to think Of sorrow, or care, or gloom; And anxious thoughts may be swept away.

As we busily wield a broom— The Hurt Family has many branches.

Do you belong to the Hurt Family? Now, don't be in a hurry to answer, but just look back into your life and think the question over, remembering that "The Hurt Family has many branches." If you do find yourself even a distant connection of one branch it would be a good plan to sever that connection promptly. There is:

The Sensitive Branch, the members of which pride themselves on being more sensitive than their neighbors. Therefore, they are very easily hurt by the chills and slights of a cold, hard world, and they nurse their wrongs and consider themselves very badly treated. In the case of another thick-skinned person it would not matter, but I am so sensitive that more consideration should be shown me. You never find a member of this branch of the family taking trouble to help a neighbor. You never find her visiting the sick; she is much too sensitive. "How that Jones woman can go every week to the hospital and take flowers and things to the patients," she cannot understand. "I am so sensitive it would make me ill to see anyone suffer."

Then comes the Self-conscious Branch, whose members are always thinking of themselves, and suspect the world of doing likewise, and not doing it kindly. If two people say something at the other end of the room and laugh, this member of the Hurt Family is badly hurt indeed. She knows well enough they were laughing at her. If you pass her in the street without noticing her, she thinks you meant to cut her, and worries herself over what she has done to cause such a slight. A little reflection would surely convince her that no reasonable being would "cut" another in the street without some grave and known offence.

Of all branches of the Hurt Family the Self-conscious is the most unhappy, though those who think and suspect and ever see the worst side of life run in this line. Often one thinks of the quaint little couple: "Two men look through the same bars; one sees the mud and one sees the stars." Then one meets a confirmed evil-thinker. She will bring evil out of such trifles as a nice-minded woman would never dream of regarding with suspicion. There is a branch of the Hurt Family blessed—or shall we say cursed—by the possession of a long memory for wrongs, I can forgive but I cannot forget, say its members. Have they ever tried to forget? As far as one can see they are trying hard to remember every trifling detail of the hurts administered to them. Letters are kept, and taken out now and then to be read in order to recall all the old ill-feelings. Days are remembered and spoken of. Ah! it was just such a day as this six years ago—and we have the whole story over again. "We all of us, try to forgive, and forget. When similar treatment we crave, And think we are virtuous paragons Yet we cannot forget we forgive." It is foolish to remember trifles, but it is not worse to remember real wrongs because of them. More lives have been spoiled in this way than perhaps in any other. The hurt feeling has been encouraged, every detail of the wrong kept in mind, and there is no real forgiveness, as there is no forgetting. A woman may be judged by the sort of thing she will remember or forget. There is so much that is good to remember, so much to thank God for every day of our lives. Then why not let the bad things drop right out? "Remember all that time has brought, The starchy hope on high, The strength attained, the courage gained, The love that cannot die." Cultivate a short memory for wrongs, if you would break away from the Hurt Family. Forget family feuds, forget silly chaff, forget all littlenesses, and then with a free mind take whatsoever things are pure and lovely and of good report, and think on these things. Be always ready to make allowances for others. Wrong may be done, wrong is sure to be done, and we are sure to suffer it now and then; but we can always refuse to receive it, not by angry words, but with the soft answer, and above all, with a mind so full of what is good and lovely that wrong feelings can find no lodging there. Then no member of the Hurt Family can call us cousin.

Raising Strawberries

Plants Should be Grown in Narrow Rows for the Production of Good Quality Berries. Best to Cultivate the Ground Once Each Week Until Fall.

The strawberry is one of our most luscious fruits. When we take into consideration all its good qualities, and then add to them that it is our earliest fruit, that it comes when we have grown tired of the winter stuff and when we are fully ready for some fresh fruit, we hail the strawberry with the greatest delight and profit.

While fairly good berries have been grown in the past by what is known as the matted-row system, I do not believe that this is the way to grow quality strawberries. The commercial grower has too often sacrificed quality for quantity. The commercial grower is encouraged by the generality of buyers, who very seldom taste the berries when buying going entirely by the eye; if the berries look nice they never think of tasting them. I am glad to believe that there is a growing number of the best buyers now asking for quality, and the best quality in the strawberry.

For quality berries grow the plants in narrow rows. The best strawberries grow on the edges of the row, and the more edges you have in your patch the more fine berries you will get. Narrow rows yield finer berries, and give a better return than wide, matted rows. Plant the rows three feet apart, and the plants, eighteen or twenty inches in the row. Begin to cultivate at once, and cultivate once a week till the fall.

In some sections the plants require covering in the fall. This covering can be raked into the pathways in the spring and used as a mulch, and thus keep the berries clean. In the fall give a dressing of unacidified hard-wood ashes before the covering is put on, and after the growth has ceased.

To obtain the best berries you should have a variety with a good strong healthy plant. Some of the varieties that produce the best berries are subject to rust in certain seasons. This can be prevented by spraying with lime and sulphur just before the blossoms open, and again just after the fruit is set.

The deeper that scientists delve into the secrets of the universe the more they realize how little they can ever know of the profound mysteries that surround them. More powerful telescopes and more powerful microscopes may be evolved, but the probability is that instead of solving the riddle of existence they will merely show that the problem is one that is as far beyond human solution as the infinite is beyond the finite.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HIS LEGACY OF LOVE

About a year ago last Christmas I was working in a little town in South Dakota. Some time previously I had assured a man of the neighborhood for $2,000 under great pressure. His wife protested vigorously at the time, saying she needed a sewing machine more than insurance. Sitting in the hotel office one day, the news came to me that some one had been killed on the railway. On enquiry I discovered the unfortunate victim to be the man whom I had assured. Immediately I secured the necessary proofs of death and sent them to the Head office, requesting that draft for policy be posted to me without delay. Less than a week after the funeral I went to the home of the widow bearing draft for $2,000. She met me at the door with her baby in her arms. All about her were signs of deprivation, almost want.

I did not reveal the purport of my visit at once and the woman talked tremulously about her late husband. "I found these in his overcoat pocket," she said softly. She handed me a small rubber doll and a little package of nuts and candy.

"He bought these—" she said, for baby's Christmas." Then she broke down in a torrent of tears.

"Your husband sends you this for your Christmas," I said handing over the draft. I then explained that it was her insurance money. She thanked me. I said that I was not entitled to thanks. She thanked the company, and I insisted that the company were not entitled to thanks. "Thank your husband," I said to her, "for this is his legacy of love to you and to his child."

Later, seated in my hotel enjoying my pipe I mused, "This sort of thing is one of the few that make it worth while to peddle life assurance."

Very serious forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Clyde River and Churchover, Shelburne County.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new horseblock, sidewalk or dairy house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work. Every farmer in Canada who uses "CANADA" Cement is eligible to compete. Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$50.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$25.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description, of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity. As an illustration of this in prizes "C" and "D," the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result. The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.
