To my Fellow Laborers in the Mission Work.

Dear Sisters.

The most successful year of our history in the W. B. M. U. has just closed. The reports from all departments are encouraging. More money has been raised by our W. M. A. S., more earnest and united prayer has been offered, a greater spirit of consecration to the work than ever before. With grateful hearts let us humble ourselves before God, and with renewed energy and courage undertake the work of the coming year.

Sisters in Christ! Do you not hear the Master's call to this work as never before? Are not we women to whom christianity has brought all we have of happiness in this life—the love, care, tenderness, purity, education, refinement, influence, the ability and opportunity to work in the home, in the church and in the social circle, exalted to heaven in point of privilege? All this here, and a blessed hope of Heaven
