—Can this be a "modern instance," or did it occur away back in the Dark Ages? "Are you interested in zenana work?" said one woman to another. "I don't know much about it," replied the other. "Is it anything like the Kensington stitch?"

—In the New Hebrides women are bought for wives, and payment is made in pigs. The price varies in different islands, from 1 pig on Fotuna, where women are plenty, to 20 on Santo, where they are scarce. In some islands the front teeth are knocked out before the woman is handed over to her husband.

—Life and Light quotes from a letter concerning the work of Dr. Grace Kimball, of Van, Turkey, which says: "It is largely among the women and the poor. This element of the population has no one else to go to, for Turkish doctors cannot see women, and will not see the poor."

—The Poona Daily Telegraph gives an account of the opening, by Lord Harris, Governor of Bombay, of a hospital for women in connection with the Church of Scotland Zenana Mission. It will be open to all, without respect to race or creed; at least three fourths of the beds will be entirely free, and it will at all times be open for inspection by a government female medical officer. It is mainly owing to the energy of Miss Bernard, of the Zenana Mission, that this important undertaking has been successfully carried out.

—An industrial school for Mohammedan women is maintained in Guntur, India, in connection with the American Lutheran mission (General Synod) and is said to be the only one of its kind in the Madras Presidency, if not in all India.

—The Occident of a late date says: "To Miss Culbertson, the indefatigable leader of our Chinese rescue mission work, it seems a profitless week that does not yield at least 1 slave girl snatched from vice and bondage. Last week she secured the release of 2, 1 in San Francisco and 1 in San José."
