Pumpkine, turnipe, beets, petatoes and carrots should be sliced when sed to stock, which prevents choking, as danger sometimes occurs when whole or chopped pieces are fed.

J. S. Woodward of Lockport has grown this year a crop of six rowed barley, estimated at eighty bushels per acre. It was grown on land that had been heavily manured for mangels the previous sesson.

Dr. Sturtevant's analysis at the New York experiment station shows that the narrowleaved plaintule, generally regarded as a weed to be eradicated, possesses nearly the same nutritive value as timothy.

The grain of wheat consists of four parts. which must always be taken into consideration in granulation-the bran, germ, gluten and starch. The separation of the two latter from the former is all there is necessary in scientific milling, but that is a great deal.

A member of the Elmira farmers' club states that ten loads of barnyard manure, used with $5 worth of phosphates and potush to the acre, are worth more than twentyfive loads without the phosphates and potash, as manure is often short in both those substances.

Moisture causes the mannre hesp to ferment when the meisture is not in excess. When manure is under cover it is best, therefore, to cause the liquid portions to flow to the centre, from which, if a tank is underneath, the liquids may be occasionally pumped over the solid portions.

Any farmer that desires to have a pleasant prosperous home, clear of mortgage, must take care of his farm machinery. The ordinary life of a reaper, mower, thrasher, and in fact of most farm implements, is, with good care, about ten years, while, with poor care, from three to five years is the

From recent experience the pear seems take the place of the apple as the fault most easily grown. It has been the past three years a more certain hearer than the apple, is less affected by insects, and has no disease excepting blight, which may be kept in check by prompt cutting away of affected parts.

To avoid liability to crusting with sait the churning should be done at as low a ten:perature as it will bear; and by reducing the temperature when the butter begins to form to 540 or 550 the butter will form in fine granules and be in its purest and best condition. Butter should always be churned i and gathered in this way to get the best quality.

By a large variety of experiments with several classes of cattle and many kinds of pound to the live weight of a 1,000 pound animal is six cents to the feeder who grows his own materials, and nearly twelve cents when the food is bought in the regular markets-manure and managemement not conaldered.

To get rid of stumps, bore with a two inch auger a hole six to ten inches deep in the top of the stump, putting in two to four ounces of saltpetre, filling up with water and then plugging up the hole. Do this, say in the fall, and the following spring remove the plug and fill the hole with kerosene and set fire to it. It is claimed that this will burn a stump and all its roots.

A milker should learn to milk quickly. Slow milking will ruin any cow, and there is little doubt that many cows are made unfitable by bad milking. As soon as the flow of milk begins it should be drawn as rapidly as possible. Stripping with the finger and thumb is a bad practice, and should be unlearned at once, and the whole hand used to milk with. By percevering one will soon be able to milk very short tests if the hand is moderately small. The best milkers have small hands; strength of wrist will come in > ASHBURNHAM, Moss., Jan. 14, 1880. I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried hop bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed. I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made. MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.
